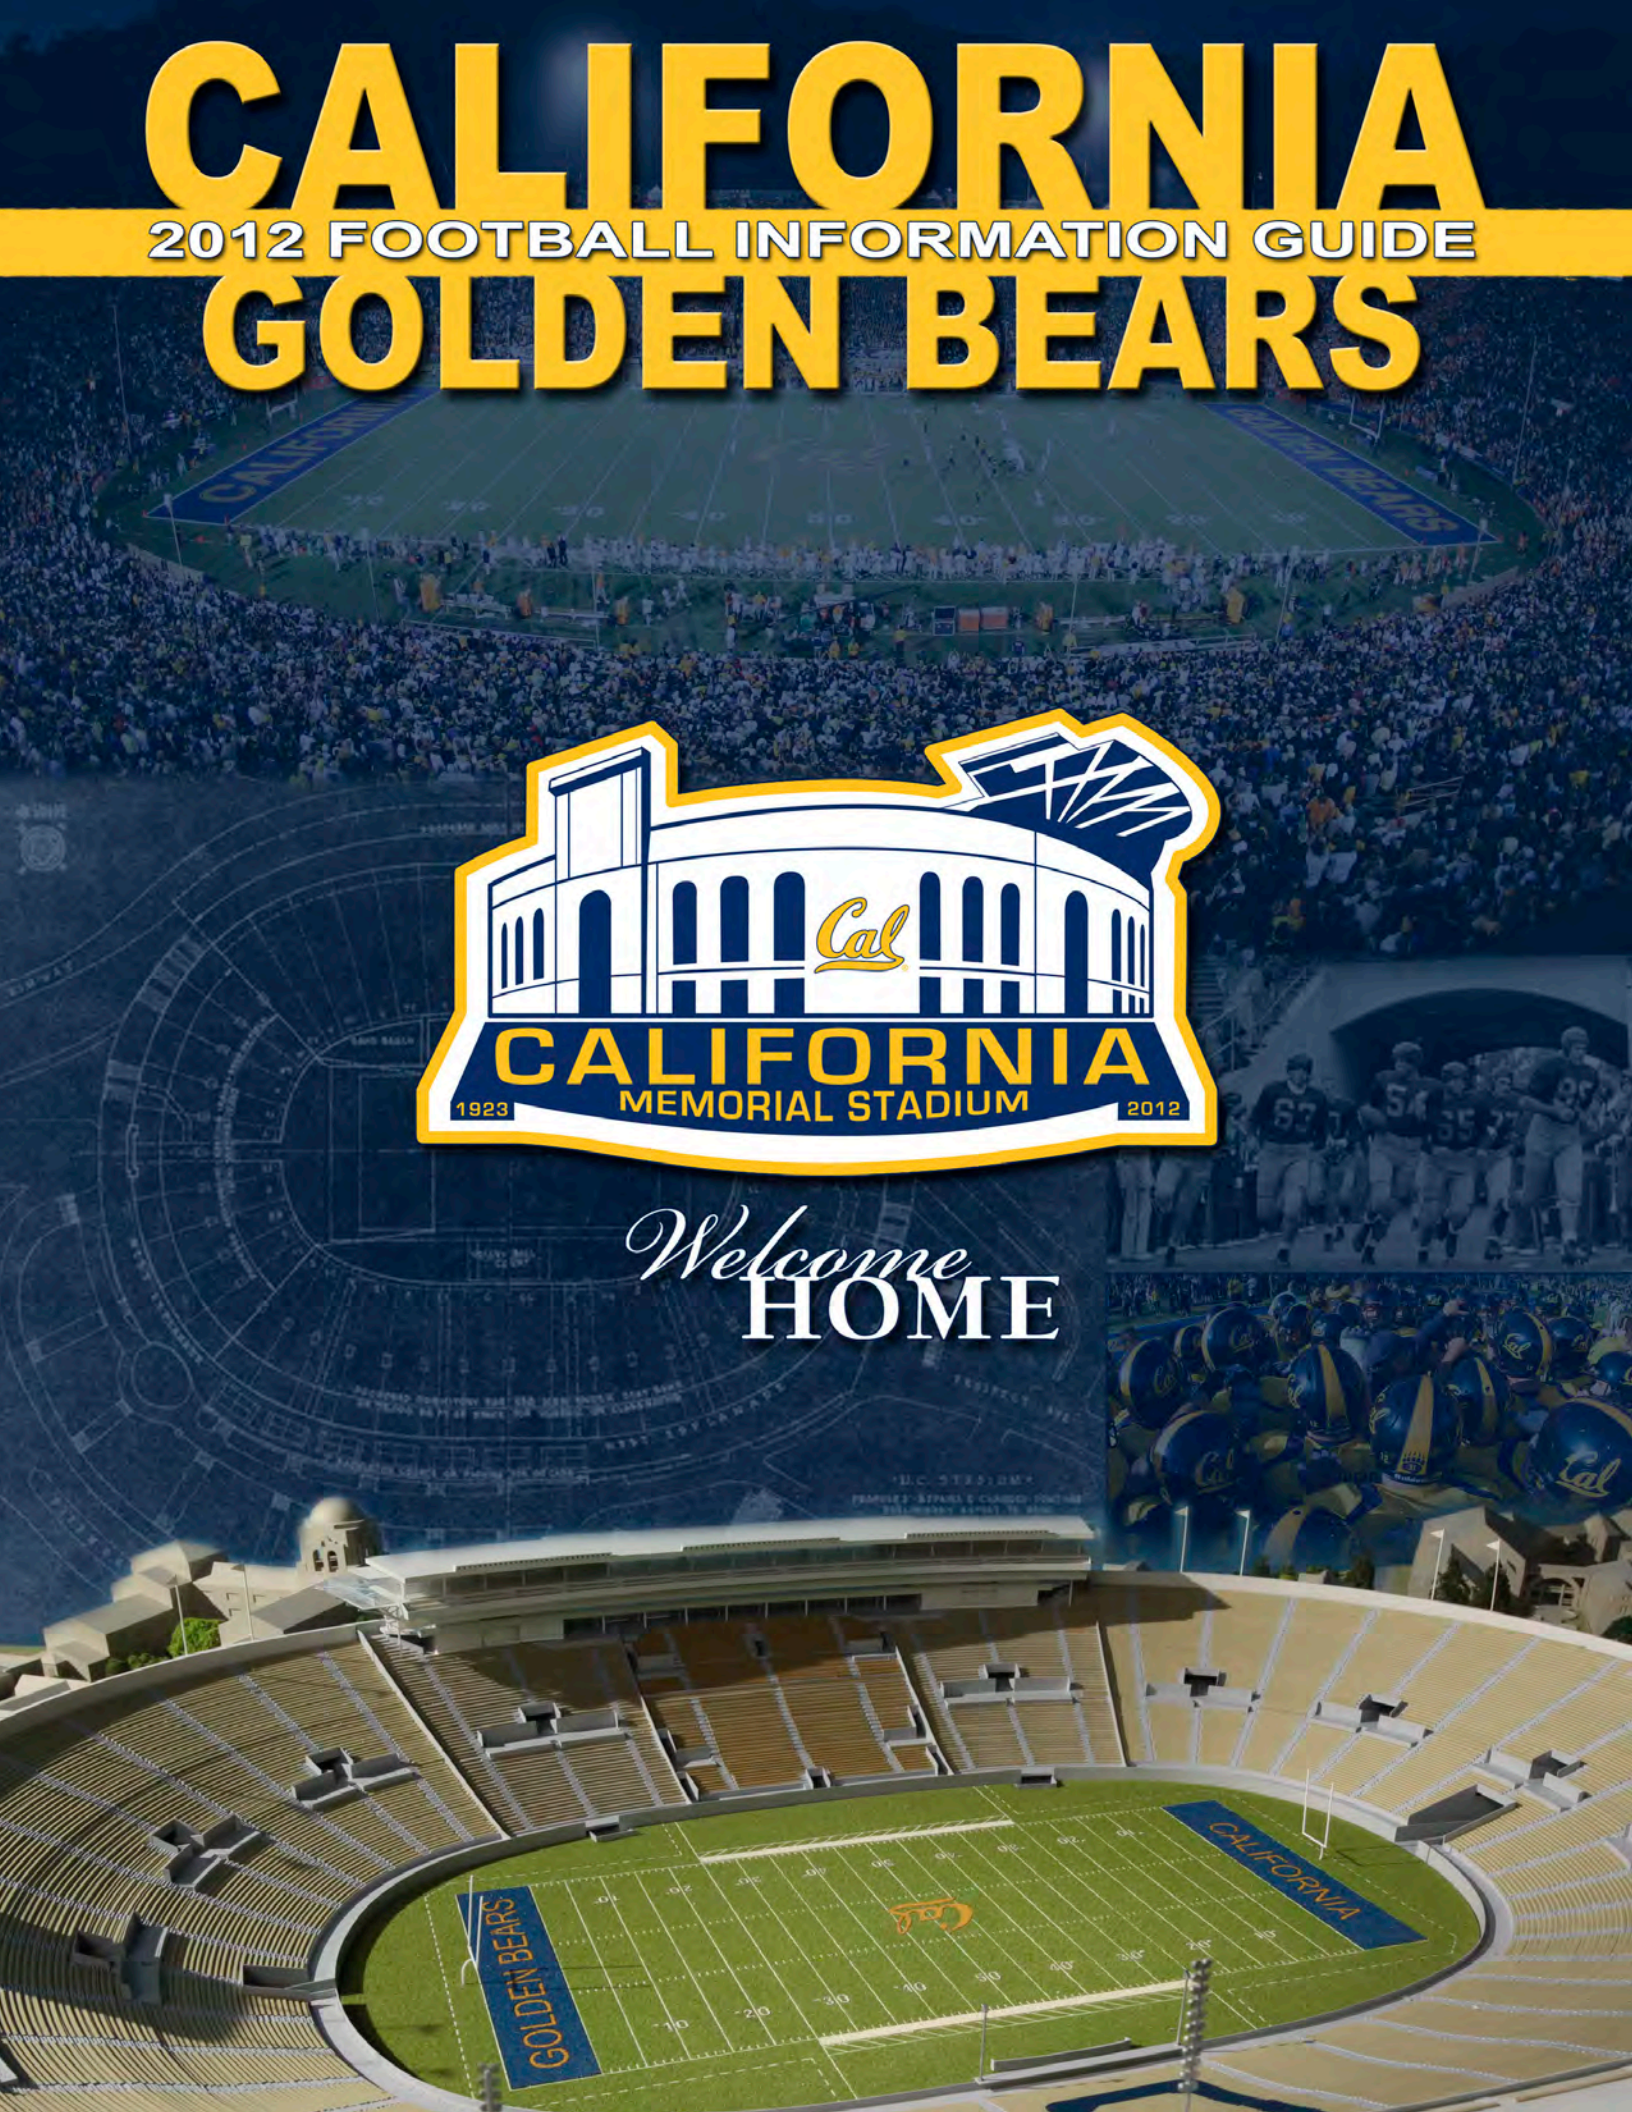
MEMORIAL STADIUM
1923 2012

Welcome HOME



CALIFORNIA MEMORIAL STADIUM

Since it opened in the fall of 1923, California Memorial Stadium has produced scores of unforgettable memories for generations of Golden Bears. From the Wonder Teams of the 1920s to the Pappy Waldorf years mid-century to the current success attained under head coach Jeff Tedford, the facility has treated fans of all ages to many of the greatest moments in the history of Cal football. It stands as one of the most enduring symbols of the University of California campus and has served as a gathering point for students, alumni, faculty, staff and other supporters for nearly 90 years.

This fall, the historic building begins a new era following an extensive retrofit and renovation that brings it up to modern standards for fans and student-athletes alike, creating a more enjoyable environment for the hundreds of thousands of people who visit and partake in games every year – all while maintaining the architecture and character of the celebrated stadium.

Major construction on the $321 million project got underway in December 2010, and barely 21 months later, the Golden Bears are able to call Memorial Stadium home once again.

RENOVATION HIGHLIGHTS

- Modernized fan amenities, including wider concourses and additional restrooms and concession areas on the west side.
- New wheelchair seating with better accessibility and access around the stadium.
- Restoration of the historic façade, one of the signature features of Memorial Stadium.
- Modernized public address and permanent lighting systems.
- Restored flagpoles atop the stadium rim.
- State-of-the art scoreboards with enhanced video and graphics capabilities within the existing structures at the north and south ends of the stadium.
- A new 34,000-square-foot press box atop the west side.
- Endowment Seating Program area (approximately 3,000 seats) that will include chair-back seating and access to three club levels (Field Club, Stadium Club and University Club).
- Benches with backs and additional legroom in donor sections outside the ESP area.
- Replacement of all old wooden seating with aluminum benches.
- Playing surface lowered approximately four feet to improve sightlines for fans seated in lower rows.

MEDIA INFORMATION

WELCOME TO CAL FOOTBALL

The 2012 University of California Information Guide is produced to provide information on the Golden Bears for anyone interested in finding out more about the program. Media covering Cal football should review this section in detail to learn more about Cal's policies and services. Additional information can be found online by visiting CalBears.com. Please contact a member of the Athletic Communications staff if you have any questions or concerns.

MEMORIAL STADIUM DIRECTIONS

Attending a Cal football game at Memorial Stadium is an exciting entertainment experience. Memorial Stadium is located along Piedmont Avenue between Bancroft Way and Hearst Avenue on campus in Berkeley. The best way to get to Memorial Stadium is to plan ahead and consider all transportation options available to you.

BY AUTOMOBILE

From San Francisco Airport, take Highway 101 north to Interstate 80 and cross the Bay Bridge. Once over the bay, take Highway 24 toward Walnut Creek. Exit at Claremont Avenue and turn left. Turn left onto College Avenue (third light). Turn right onto Channing Way, then left onto Prospect Street, which will lead to the south end of the stadium.

From Oakland Airport, take Interstate 880 north, then Highway 24 east toward Walnut Creek and follow directions above.

Gameday media parking is located in the Underhill Garage at the corner of College Avenue and Channing Way.

These directions provide the most direct routes to Memorial Stadium, but other city streets and freeway exits provide alternate routes that fans are encouraged to use to avoid congestion. Please call 511 or go to 511.org for real-time traffic conditions.

More detailed information can be found on the campus map at visitors.berkeley.edu.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Public transportation is highly recommended when visiting Berkeley. There are multiple public transportation options that lead directly to Memorial Stadium, and BART has a station in downtown Berkeley about a mile west of the venue. Please visit bart.org, actransit.org or 511.org for more information.

CALBEARS.COM

Visit CalBears.com for the most recent, frequent, relevant and accurate information on Cal Athletics, CalBears.com covers the Golden Bears inside and out.

In addition to player and coach profiles, press releases, schedules, feature stories and sport information guides, there are also links to each of Cal's social media pages under the multiemedia tab.

CalBears.com/gameday also contains complete information for fans visiting Memorial Stadium.

COLLEGEPRESSBOX.COM

The Pac-12 Conference and each of its members use Collegepressbox.com. The site contains a large amount of information available for download by media members. Contact Kyle McRae for more details, including a username and password for full access to the site.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Please direct all requests/questions for media, photo and parking credentials for 2012 Cal football home games to Herb Benenson (benenson@berkeley.edu, 510-642-0515) through the Athletic Communications Office at 349 Haas Pavilion, University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720. Only media who cover the Bears on a regular basis will be considered for season credentials. A lost season credential will result in that member of the media being moved to the single-game list.

All single-game requests should be made as far in advance as possible to help ensure space availability both in the press box and on the field. Requests for media covering a visiting team for a Cal home game should be made through the opposing school's football media relations contact. Credentials will be available for pick up at Media Will Call located in the third-floor lobby of the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance just inside Gate 5 near Warring Alley the day of the game unless other arrangements are made.

Media should consult CalBears.com/media for complete media and credential policies.

INTERNET ACCESS

Both wireless and ethernet connections are available in the press box and field-level photographer work area. Contact a member of the Athletic Communications staff on gameday to obtain a username and password.

MEDIA PARKING

Parking at Cal is always at a premium and visitors are encouraged to use public transportation. The Downtown Berkeley BART station is located about a mile west of Memorial Stadium, in close proximity to Haas Pavilion, Edwards Stadium/Goldman Field, the Hellman Tennis Courts and Spieker Aquatics Complex. Hourly guest parking on non-football gamedays is available in the MLK Student Union and RSF garages along Bancroft Way adjacent to Haas Pavilion and at the Underhill Garage.

Underhill also serves as the football gameday parking location. Entrances are off either Channing Way or Haste Street, just west of College Avenue. The lot is about three blocks from Memorial Stadium. Media can either take the short walk media will call (located in the third-floor lobby of the Simpson Center adjacent to Memorial Stadium or use a media-only shuttle that begins running two hours before game time. A media shuttle is also available postgame from the pregame dropoff point along Warring Street to the Underhill Garage.

Parking passes cannot be left at will call on gamedays and must be picked up or mailed in advance.

Television crews should order parking passes for their crews by sending in the Special Event Parking Arrangements form found on the university's website (pt.berkeley.edu) in advance. Request the Underhill Garage for football games. Note that the campus parking office does not accept credit cards – only cash or check.

MEDIA WILL CALL

Media Will Call is located just inside located in the third-floor lobby of the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance near Gate 5 and the end of the Warring Alley. It will open six hours before kickoff and remain open through the conclusion of the first quarter. Identification is required to pick up credentials or tickets. Parking passes cannot be left at will call.

Media who arrive after the end of the first quarter should call the press box at (510) 642-3098.

PHOTO REQUESTS

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Field photographers must wear a photo armband at all times, in addition to a photo credential. Photo credentials are not distributed in advance and must be picked up on gamedays at media will call inside the Simpson Center. Armbands are distributed on the field behind the visitor (west) bench and near the entrance to the photographer work room.

NCAA rules limit shooting to outside the restraining line enclosing the playing field and outside the 25-yard lines (the team area).

In addiiton, the photographers and videographers are welcome to use the photo deck located on level six of the press box.

PHOTOGRAPHER WORK ROOM

A photographer work room has been established at field level in of Memorial Stadium (west side at approximately the 20-yard line on the north end of the field). Power and internet access are available, as well as limited desk space on a first-come, first-served basis. Pregame meals and drinks are available on the media level of the press box (seventh floor).

Access to the internet is available through both wireless and an ethernet connection, and passwords and usernames will be distributed on gamedays.

PLAYER/COACH INTERVIEWS

All player and coach interviews, either in person, by phone or via email, must be coordinated through Kyle McRae in the Athletic Communications Office (510-219-9340, mcrae@berkeley.edu).

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Cal football will conduct postgame interviews in the Tahir Family Team Theater inside the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance. A member of the Athletic Communication staff will lead media to the room at the conclusion of each game.

Cal head coach Jeff Tedford will be present to answer questions, followed by players requested by media members. Visiting team interviews will be in the media room just outside the visiting team on level one of the stadium. Contact the visiting team media relations office for postgame policies.

POSTGAME MEDIA WORK AREA

The Memorial Stadium press box also serves as the postgame media work location. The area is equipped with desk space, electrical outlets and internet access. Final statistical game books, as well as postgame notes, quotes and other relevant media materials will be distributed.

PRACTICE MEDIA COVERAGE

Cal is scheduled to practice at Memorial Stadium in 2012 on Sunday and Tuesday-Friday. Media policies regarding coverage will be released soon.

PRO SCOUTS

TELEPHONE LINES

Telephone lines at Memorial Stadium, both in the press box and inside the TV compound, must be requested at least a week in advance through Herb Benenson (benenson@berkeley.edu).

VIDEO FEEDS

Video highlights of Cal football games are available throughout the season via the Pac-12 Conference satellite feed. For more information, contact the Pac-12 office at (925) 932-4411.

VISITING RADIO PHONE LINES

ISDN and dial lines, as well as dry pairs to the visiting team locker room and visiting team interview room, are available for complimentary use.

UPDATED INFO

Contact Kyle McRae (mcrae@berkeley.edu) to be placed on the Cal football media email list and receive relevant updated information regarding Cal football, including media schedules and policies, throughout the season.

TELEVISION/RADIO

THE FLAGSHIP STATION

KGO Newstalk AM 810 is entering its 39th season as the flagship station of University of California Golden Bears football. KGO Radio's 50,000 watts has been carrying Cal football since 1974. Led by play-by-play announcer Joe Starkey, KGO's signal, along with the other affiliates within the Cal IMG Radio Network, provides statewide coverage of Cal football. Each KGO broadcast begins 60 minutes before kickoff (live from Maxwell Field north of Memorial Stadium for home games). Then after all the action, the 60-minute postgame show hosted by Lee Grosscup and Kate Scott from the Paragon Restaurant & Bar inside the Claremont Hotel Club & Spa in Berkeley includes reaction from the Bears' locker room followed by a breakdown of the game live.

IN THE BOOTH

Joe Starkey

Joe Starkey, the legendary voice of the Bears, is in his 38th season with the Cal football broadcast team in 2012.

Cal's play-by-play voice is perhaps best known for his legendary call of "The Play." The famous five-lateral kickoff return for a touchdown against Stanford in 1982 is part of college football lore with Starkey's emotional "the band is on the field" part of gridiron vernacular.

Starkey has had an array of NFL and NHL positions during his career, including a 20-year stint with the San Francisco 49ers he fulfilled in conjunction with his Cal duties from 1979-2008.

In 2010, Starkey received the Chris Schenkel Award from the National Football Foundation for his distinguished career broadcasting college football.

Todd McKim

In his eighth season on the broadcast team in 2012 is sideline reporter Todd McKim, who also serves as host of the weekly Cal Coaches' Corner radio show and an analyst for Cal men's basketball radio broadcasts. Before joining Cal, McKim was a long-time media member as a television anchor and sports director in Eugene, and was the 2000 Oregon broadcaster of the year.

The analyist in the booth is still to be named.

NETWORK AFFILIATES

The Cal IMG Radio Network blankets most of the state of California with affiliates from San Diego to Sacramento and beyond, leaving very few areas of the state out of range of network. The lineup of networks includes ...

KAHI	950 AM	Sacramento
XEPE	1700 AM	San Diego

SIRIUS XM RADIO

Fans can tune in to Cal football games on Sirius XM Radio, a corporate partner of the Pac-12 Conference. Visit CalBears.com for detailed broadcast information.

PAC-12 ENTERPRISES

Pac-12 Enterprises is the new content and multiplatform media company for the Pac-12 Conference. Headquartered in San Fran-cisco, Pac-12 Enterprises was created in 2011 to develop and launch the Pac-12 Networks and Pac-12 Digital, and to control the distribution of the Pac-12 intellectual property rights in sports and other Conference initiatives. The Pac-12 Networks are full-time HD linear networks available to video programming operators, dedicated solely to the Pac-12. They will consist of a national network and six regional feeds (including Pac-12 Bay Area focusing on Cal and Stanford) that will televise hundreds of live sporting events annually and provide 24/7 access to Pac-12 teams and universities. Pac-12 Digital encompasses the digital network, mobile, the university websites, social media and innovative digital initiatives across the company.

CAL COACHES' CORNER

The Cal Coaches' Corner will take to the air every Monday from the last week of August through March. The one-hour live program will be hosted by Todd McKim and broadcast from the Paragon Restaurant & Bar inside the Claremont Hotel Club & Spa Mondays from 6-7 p.m. on NewsTalk 910 AM, beginning Aug. 27 and continuing through the Monday following the end of men's basketball season. Head coach Jeff Tedford will be interviewed regularly throughout the football season, while men's basketball head coach Mike Montgomery and women's hoops head coach Lindsay Gottlieb will be interviewed during their respective seasons. Additional guests will include other Cal coaches and student-athletes, as well as regular appearances by Director of Athletics Sandy Barbour.

The buzz in Berkeley is that the Bears are back in town and there will be football again this fall at Memorial Stadium. After San Francisco's AT&T Park served as a temporary home last year, the Bears are looking forward to returning to a renovated and modern version of the Strawberry Canyon venue they have called home since 1923. Always located in one of the most idyllic settings in college football, Memorial Stadium will now without question also give fans one of the best gameday experiences in the country.

"We are pumped about coming back to Berkeley to play at a renovated Memorial Stadium," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "There is no experience quite like a football game in Strawberry Canyon. We are looking forward to having our full compliment of hometown fans there in full force cheering us on. We thrive on the energy they provide and can't thank them enough for their passion for Cal football."

A strategic effort has been made to strike a balance of providing fan amenities such as state-of-the-art video boards and sound systems, club levels and improved sightlines of the field that should be expected in a modern stadium, with maintaining features such as a restored historic façade and the bowl seating that fans enjoyed so much about Memorial Stadium throughout the years.

In addition to Memorial Stadium, work was recently completed on the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance that houses the Cal football program. Among its many features, the facility is home to the state-of-the-art 18,700-square foot High Performance Zone, a fully integrated training space with world-class strength and conditioning, sports medicine and sports science facilities and services.

"With the renovation of Memorial Stadium and the creation the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance we now have some of the best facilities in the nation," Tedford said. "There has been a tremendous amount of hard work and passion put into these projects by so many people and our football program is eternally grateful. They will play a vital role in the success of Cal football for years to come."

The 2012 Bears will be the first team to use the new facilities and look to continue the winning ways of a program that has played in a bowl eight times in the last nine seasons and recorded enough wins to be in a bowl nine times in the last 10 campaigns. Cal has tied for the third-most Pac-10/12 victories over the past decade in a rugged conference under Tedford, who has won more games than any head coach in Cal football history and is the longest-tenured coach in the conference.

The Bears seem to be in a good position to add to their lofty totals of the past decade in 2012, as one of four Pac-12 schools with its top passer, rusher and receiver returning from a year ago in senior quarterback Zach Maynard, senior tailback Isi Sofele and junior wide receiver Keenan Allen.

Allen is a preseason second-team All-American and national honors candidate that has received a tremendous amount of recognition leading up to the 2012 campaign. He is a nearly unanimous first-team All-Pac-12 choice and on preseason watch lists for the Biletnikoff Award, College Football Performance Awards Wide Receiver and Special Teams Trophies and Maxwell Award. He is coming off a season of 98 catches for 1,343 yards and six touchdowns a year ago. His per-game averages for receptions and receiving yards are both the fourth-highest among all players returning nationally.

A total of 12 starters are back for the Bears from a year ago – six on each side of the ball.

Senior linemen Dominic Galas, Brian Schwenke and Matt Summers-Gavin join Allen, Maynard and Sofele as returning starters on offense.

The six defensive starters returning include a trio of defensive backs in seniors Josh Hill and Marc Anthony, and junior Steve Williams. Senior defensive lineman Aaron Tipoti, junior linebacker Dan Camporeale and sophomore linebacker Chris McCain are also back for a unit that has led the Pac-12 in total defense each of the past two campaigns.

Eight others – Jackson Bouza (Jr., WR), Deandre Coleman (Jr., DL), J.P. Hurrell (Sr., LB), Mustafa Jalil (So., DL), Stefan McClure (So., DB), Robert Mullins (Sr., LB), Kendrick Payne (Sr., DL) and David Wilkerson (So., LB) – have started at least one collegiate game.

Others in addition to Allen who have been recognized on national watch lists prior to the 2012 season include Brendan Bigelow (CFPA Special Teams Trophy), Sofele (Maxwell Award), Summers-Gavin (Outland Trophy) and Tipoti (Outland Trophy).

Eight players have earned preseason All-Pac-12 honors including first-teamers Allen, Coleman, Summers-Gavin and Tipoti. Schwenke and Sofele have been named second team, and Anthony and McCain third.

"All of our players that have earned preseason recognition are truly deserving," Tedford said. "They have worked very hard to get to where they're at and we feel comfortable having them lead the way for our 2012 club."

All told, the Bears have 80 players and 49 letterwinners returning that will be joined by 41 newcomers highlighted by a 2012 recruiting class that was ranked as high as No. 15 nationally and Cal's third consecutive top-15 group.

"I'm really excited about the kids in this class not only as football players but as people," said Tedford, who was named the Pac-12's top recruiter by Sporting News in 2011. "I'm excited about the future that they're going to bring to this program."

The Bears will play for a second season in the North division of the Pac-12 that expanded from 10 to 12 teams and split into two six-team divisions for the first time in 2011. The winners of each division will meet in the Pac-12 Championship Game to be played Friday, Nov. 30, at the home site of the team with the league's best record.

Before getting into conference play, the Bears will host Nevada and Southern Utah in non-conference games at a renovated Memorial Stadium on Sept. 1 and 8.

A Sept. 15 trip to Ohio State for Cal's first meeting with the Buckeyes since 1972 will close out non-conference action.

Cal's nine-game conference schedule annually includes meetings with each of the other five teams in its own division, while the Bears will play four of the six teams in the South, with Southern California rivals UCLA and USC always among those four.

Cal's first three conference games in 2012 are against opponents from the South Division. The Bears opens Pac-12 play on Sept. 22 at USC before returning home for conference games against Arizona State (Sept. 29) and UCLA (Oct. 6). The game against the Bruins will also serve as the rededication of Memorial Stadium, homecoming and the annual Joe Roth Memorial Game.

The Bears then start a second half of the regular season that includes five of six games against fellow North division foes by traveling to Washington State (Oct. 13).

Cal's next opponent arrives in Berkeley about a month earlier than usual when Stanford visits Memorial Stadium for the 115th Big Game on Oct. 20. Other than the first game of the series that was played in the spring of 1982, no football game between the two schools has ever been played before November in the calendar year. The Cal-Stanford rivalry that is the 10th longest in college football is expected to revert back to its normal place as one of the Bears' final two regular-season games in subsequent seasons.

"With the complexity of scheduling and the addition of the Pac-12 Championship Game last season, there are going to occasionally be things like this that happen with the schedule," Tedford said. "Although we certainly like the idea of playing the Big Game towards the end of the season, we are sure that fans from both schools will strongly and passionately support the game no matter when it is played."

Cal will still have plenty of big games to go after the Big Game is played, including the first Friday night home game in school history against Washington the next time the Bears hit the field at Memorial Stadium on Nov. 2 and a matchup against North division favorite Oregon eight days later Nov. 10 that will be Cal's final regular-season home game of the campaign.

The Bears will sandwich those two final regular-season home contests with road games at Utah (Oct. 27) and Oregon State (Nov. 17).

In all, Cal plays 12 consecutive weeks with its bye falling after the Oregon State contest.

"Playing 12 straight games and essentially having no bye is a challenge," Tedford acknowledged.

Another thing that will be different for the Bears in 2012 will be television coverage, particularly with the debut of Pac-12 Networks, who will televise three of the team's first four games vs. Nevada and Southern Utah, and at USC.

"Having three of our first four contests on Pac-12 Networks gives our fans and alumni all over the world an opportunity to closely follow and engage with Cal football," Tedford said. "Our conference plays a brand of football that is on par with the best in the country. Pac-12 Networks provides a great opportunity to showcase our program and our student-athletes."

The Bears will also be showcased on ABC at Ohio State and ESPN2 vs. Washington. Additional television broadcast dates and starting times are expected to be announced at a later date.

The following is a position-by-position look at the Bears heading into the 2012 campaign.

OFFENSE

Any talk of the Cal offense must start with second-team preseason All-American and national honors candidate Keenan Allen. The junior wide receiver returns for his third campaign as a starter in 2012 and is on nearly everyone's list among the top players in the country.

Overall, the scenario on the offensive side of the ball is totally different for Cal than it was a year ago when Allen was complimented by new starters at both quarterback and tailback in Zach Maynard and Isi Sofele. Now both of those players have a season as the starter under their belt and are veteran returnees. Add backup senior tailback C.J. Anderson, who had an outstanding spring, and the Bears have four returning skill position players on offense that combined for 3,017 passing yards, 1,830 rushing yards and 1,589 receiving yards last season.

"We have some of the top experienced playmakers in the league returning on the offensive side of the ball in guys like Keenan Allen, Zach Maynard, Isi Sofele and C.J. Anderson," Tedford said. "All of those players picked up a tremendous amount of experience last season, and we're looking forward to that experience paying off in their play this year. Behind those guys we also have some talented youngsters and newcomers that will be pushing hard for playing time."

Most of the offensive production from newcomers will likely come from the receivers, where Cal is bringing in a group that includes five freshmen that received at least four stars by a major scouting service.

The group up front making room for the skill players to operate will return three of five starters from a year ago in the senior trio of Dominic Galas, Brian Schwenke and Matt Summers-Gavin that combined for 38 of 39 possible starts in 2011 and have totaled 63 in their Cal careers, although Galas was injured lifting weights during the summer and will miss the opening of the campaign.

The Bears will look to continue the offensive improvement they showed last year when Cal went from 334.00 yards per game and a No. 90 national ranking in 2010 to 401.46 yards per game and a No. 44 national showing in 2011. Last year's offense was sparked by a passing game that moved up 48 spots nationally from No. 94 (175.08 ypg) to No. 46 (246.62 ypg). Cal also moved up 20 positions nationally to No. 53 in scoring, improving from 25.8 points per game the previous season to 28.3.

Zach Maynard

Senior Zach Maynard will be back to lead the Bears' offense again in 2012 after a strong finish to his first season as the starting signal-caller for the Bears a year ago when he completed 68.1 percent of his passes, had a 5-to-1 touchdown to interception ratio and posted a 154.25 quarterback efficiency rating over his final four regular-season contests. The great stretch of play lifted Cal into a spot in the Holiday Bowl after a 3-1 record in the final month of the regular season, with the only loss a 31-28 defeat on the road at the hands of a Stanford team that would finish with an 11-2 record and play at the Fiesta Bowl.

"It is a tremendous advantage to have a returning quarterback like we do in Zach Maynard," Tedford said. "Zach has made tremendous strides since he has been at Cal and his numbers over his final four games last season proved it. He has learned to manage the game and be efficient, and has developed into a strong asset for us at the position."

Maynard's final numbers were pretty good, too. He started all 13 games and ended up completing 231-of-405 (57.0%) passes for 2,990 yards to rank third on the school's all-time single-season passing yardage list, while his 17 touchdown passes were one shy. He threw for at least one touchdown pass in 10 of 13 games and either threw or ran for a TD 12 times, while both throwing and running for a score on three occasions all in the second half of the regular season.

Junior Allan Bridgford was able to get into four games off the bench in 2011 and completed 13-of-32 passes for 184 yards. While there is no question that Maynard will head into the 2012 season as the starter, Bridgford got a lot of the work with the first-string offense in the spring. In the team's spring game, he led the Gold squad to a 21-20 victory over the Blue team quarterbacked by Maynard.

"In addition to Zach Maynard, we have a strong backup in Allan Bridgford and some other young guys that we believe are capable of getting the job done," said Tedford, who has developed six quarterbacks selected in the first round of the NFL Draft during his collegiate coaching career.

The young guys include true freshman Zach Kline, who is coming off an All-American senior season at San Ramon Valley High School in 2011 when he completed 230-of-341 (67.4%) passes for 3,630 yards and a school-record-tying 36 TDs with only seven interceptions. Other quarterbacks include redshirt freshman Kyle Boehm, sophomore Austin Hinder, true freshman Brendan Keeney and Joey Mahalic, a 23-year-old true freshman who spent five seasons playing minor league baseball.

Cal has a long-standing tradition of featuring two tailbacks and the scenario should be no different in 2012. In fact, the Bears are arguably in as good of shape heading into a season in the backfield as they've been since 2009 when current NFL players Jahvid Best and Shane Vereen were both returning after combining for 2,295 rushing yards the previous season.

This year, the returning duo comes in the form of seniors Isi Sofele and C.J. Anderson, who combined to rush for 1,667 yards last season to extend Cal's string of having its top two running backs combine for 1,500 or more rushing yards to nine consecutive seasons. Their combined total represents the most rushing yards the Bears have had returning by their top two running backs since Best and Vereen in 2009 and the third-most during the nine-year streak, with the combination of Marshawn Lynch and Justin Forsett's 2,245 rushing yards returning in 2006 the only other one higher.

Isi Sofele

Sofele is on the watch list for the 2012 Maxwell Award given annually to the top college football player in the nation after registering the sixth-highest rushing total in Cal history in his first season as a starter last year when he ran for 1,322 yards and 10 touchdowns on 252 carries to give Cal it's ninth 1,000-yard rusher in the past 10 campaigns.

C.J. Anderson

Anderson proved to be a capable second option a year ago and finished the season with 345 yards rushing and eight touchdowns on 72 carries. Early in the season he was most often used in short-yardage and goal-line situations, but his role expanded later in the campaign. He rushed for 48 or more yards in three of his final four regular-season games, including a season-high 96 against Oregon State. He was also used heavily in the passing game late in the season with 145 of his 186 total yards receiving coming in the final two regular-season games, including a 74-yard catch at Arizona State that was Cal's second-longest pass play of the campaign.

But, there's even more excitement about this position group in 2012 beyond Sofele and Anderson. The Bears also return several promising young players that seem to be next in line to continue the tradition and may even contribute significantly to it as early as this season. Sophomore Brendan Bigelow and redshirt freshman Daniel Lasco are both coming off strong springs. Junior Dasarte Yarnway, who saw action at fullback in the spring as well, and redshirt freshman Darren Ervin are also candidates to contribute in 2012.

"This is arguably our strongest position group on the team," Tedford said. "We have five or six running backs that we truly believe will help us this year and that is important to us because we've always had the philosophy of using multiple backs in our run game. Isi Sofele and C.J. Anderson are two backs who proved they are capable with the seasons they had last year but other guys such as Brendan Bigelow, Daniel Lasco, Darren Ervin and Dasarte Yarnway should be in the mix as well."

Fifth-year senior Eric Stevens is expected to be back as the team's starting fullback in 2012 after missing all of last season and spring ball with an injury suffered in training camp. Stevens is a solid blocker who spent most of the 2010 campaign as the team's starter and has also been a special teams standout.

"We're looking forward to Eric Stevens returning from his injury that caused him to miss all of last season and resume his role as our starting fullback," Tedford said. "Eric has a great skill set for this position and did a nice job two years ago in the role."

None of the other fullbacks on the team's roster have taken a snap at the position in a game for the Bears.

Senior Kameron Krebs is listed as the backup on the post-spring depth chart after being converted to the position from a linebacker last spring, while true freshman Maximo Espitia was recruited to play fullback at Cal after seeing action as both a fullback and quarterback in high school.

"We're excited with Kameron's development last spring, and we're looking forward to Maximo being in the mix at the position relatively soon," Tedford said.

Wide receiver should be an incredibly interesting and entertaining position group for the Bears in 2012 led by junior preseason All-American and national honors candidate Keenan Allen, who has a chance to break nearly all of the school's career receiving records before he finishes his Cal career.

"There is no doubt that we have one of the best wide receivers in the country in Keenan Allen," Tedford said with emphasis. "He does everything well and is a tremendous competitor and student of the game. He's had two fantastic seasons for us, but I think his best football at Cal is still ahead of him. We're looking forward to the entire nation learning much more about him in 2012."

In his first two seasons at Cal, Allen has totaled 144 receptions, 1,833 receiving yards and 11 touchdown catches. Last year, he had 98 catches for 1,343 yards and six touchdowns, ranking second on the school's all-time single-season lists for both receptions and receiving yards. If he can duplicate those numbers in 2012 he would easily become the school's all-time leader in receptions and be 12 yards shy of the school's all-time mark for receiving yards.

The possibilities of who will join Allen at the position this year are numerous.

Keenan Allen

"Several of our current players developed nicely last spring, but we also have several of the top freshman receivers in the country that will have a chance to compete for playing time immediately," Tedford said.

The players that came along in the spring include senior Ross Bostock, junior Jackson Bouza, redshirt freshman Maurice Harris and sophomore Bryce McGovern – all of whom should be in the mix to receive the first extensive action of their collegiate careers in 2012. Senior Mike Manuel and redshirt freshman Joel Willis are also possibilities after moving to receiver from running back and defensive back, respectively, in the spring.

Richard Rodgers

The incoming true freshmen that will push for playing time in their first season at Cal include some of the best prep receivers in the country last year. Five-star recruit Bryce Treggs headlines a group of five rookie receivers that also includes Cedric Dozier, Chris Harper, Kenny Lawler and Darius Powe. All received at least four stars from a major scouting service.

The remainder of the group includes returnees in senior Kaulin Krebs and redshirt freshman Stephen Anderson, sophomores Idarre Coles and James Grisom that joined the program in the spring, and true freshmen Ross Anderson, Griffin Piatt and Patrick Worstell.

Cal should have an interesting mix of skill sets in its top three tight ends, with the blocking prowess and brawn of projected sophomore starter Richard Rodgers and the receiving ability of junior Spencer Hagan and sophomore Jacob Wark, although all three are strong in both areas.

"We're young but talented at tight end with returnees such as Richard Rodgers, Spencer Hagan and Jacob Wark," Tedford said. "With this group of players, we have a nice variety of skill sets that we can use in both the run and pass games. Mixing and matching the best parts of their skill sets, we should have effective pass catchers as well as blockers come from the position."

All three saw action in 2011 behind three-year starter Anthony Miller, now a member of the NFL's Denver Broncos, with Hagan the team's fifth-leading receiver registering 12 catches for 94 yards and two touchdowns.

Junior Nate Phillip and sophomore Brett Buchanan also return from last year, while the Bears have also brought in a pair of junior college transfers in Jake Davis and Harrison Wilfley, and true freshman Spencer Briare to bolster their depth at the position.

Cal's offensive line is expected to be led by the senior trio of Dominic Galas, Brian Schwenke and Matt Summers-Gavin that has combined to start 63 games in their Cal careers, including 38 of a possible 39 last season.

Summers-Gavin, who is expected to start at the right tackle position and protect left handed quarterback Zach Maynard's blindside, is Cal's active career leader with 25 starts. He has been the most decorated member of the team's offensive line prior to the 2012 campaign, receiving first-team preseason All-Pac-12 honors from Phil Steele and Blue Ribbon, as well as a second-team nod by Athlon and a third-team selection by Lindy's. He is also on the watch list for the Outland Trophy recognizing college football's top interior lineman on either side of the ball. In addition, he is the team's top candidate for the prestigious Campbell Trophy and Lowe's Senior Class Award.

Schwenke, a second-team preseason All-Pac-12 selection of Lindy's and Steele, is also a national honors candidate that is expected to move to center this season to play the position for the first time in his Cal career after spending the last three campaigns as a guard. His 24 career starts are one behind Summers-Gavin.

Galas, who is the only one of the trio to have played in all 38 games possible over the last three seasons, missed spring ball with an injury and is expected to move to right guard upon his return to action in the fall. He started all 13 games at center last season.

Brothers Tyler and Jordan Rigsbee look to have the first shot at becoming starters on the line at left tackle and left guard, respectively. Tyler is a fifth-year senior who has played in eight games off the bench over his first four seasons, while Jordan is a redshirt freshman. Both moved into the starting lineup this past spring.

Juniors Mark Brazinski and Matt Williams also return for the Bears. Brazinski was in the starting lineup for most of the spring before suffering an injury that could force him to miss much of the 2012 campaign, while Williams was in his first season with the program a year ago and is the club's only foreign-born player.

The Bears also recruited a trio of four-star recruits, including mid-year enrollee Christian Okafor, who got a head start on his classmates by participating in the team's 2012 spring practices. Freddie Tagaloa and Matt Cochran were both on MaxPreps' list of the nation's top players overall at No. 93 and No. 188, respectively, when they signed national letters of intent at Cal in February. Cochran was also Scout's No. 3 center nationally, while Tagaloa ranked as high as the nation's No. 13 offensive tackle according to MaxPreps. All three were four-star recruits.

Junior Donovan Frazer, a transfer from Laney College, and freshman Steven Moore are the team's other incoming offensive linemen.

"The key to having a strong offensive line is creating chemistry and having a cohesive group of guys that play well together," Tedford said. "We have veterans like Dominic Galas, Brian Schwenke and Matt Summers-Gavin who should be the leaders of this group, and many others are just waiting for their turn to step in. We spent last spring and will spend a little more time in camp identifying who will join those three in the starting lineup."

Matt Summers-Gavin

DEFENSE

Cal has led the Pac-12 in total defense each of the past two seasons utilizing a balanced attack and creative schemes to create pressure and make the Bears one of the top big-play teams in the country. Last year, Cal was first in the conference and seventh nationally in tackles for loss, while ranking third in the league and 19th nationally in sacks. Cal led the league and ranked 13th nationally in sacks in 2010.

Much of the core of those defenses has moved on to the NFL but the Bears do still have six defensive starters returning from last year's club, including three in the defensive backfield and a pair of outside linebackers that will try to compensate for the loss of a total of nine players from the last two seasons now on NFL rosters.

"We have led the league in total defense each of the last two seasons, had some terrific performances and produced some excellent players," Tedford said. "We've lost some of our defensive leaders to the NFL so the challenge is to find the next series of leaders on the defensive side of the ball among a group of young players that have lots of talent. Now is their time."

The most experience on the defensive side of the ball comes in the defensive backfield, where seniors Josh Hill and Marc Anthony, and junior Steve Williams have combined to play in 91 games with 58 starts during their collegiate careers.

The Bears figure to have a mix of youth and veterans looking for increased roles in the front seven, where Cal must replace starters at both defensive ends and inside linebackers but do return a pair of outside linebackers with significant starting experience in junior Dan Camporeale and sophomore Chris McCain. Junior Deandre Coleman and sophomore Mustafa Jalil look to have the inside track on becoming the team's next set of starters at defense end, while veteran senior nose guards Kendrick Payne and Aaron Tipoti are back after sharing the bulk of the snaps at the positions over the past two seasons. Seniors Robert Mullins and J.P. Hurrell, and sophomores Nick Forbes and David Wilkerson are all in the running for playing time at inside linebacker.

Coleman and Tipoti have received Cal's top preseason honors on the defensive side of the ball with first-team All-Pac-12 selections, while Tipoti is also on the watch list for the prestigious Outland Trophy honoring college football's top interior lineman on either side of the ball.

Cal has lost five defensive linemen to the NFL in the last three seasons, including back-to-back first-round draft picks in Tyson Alualu and Cameron Jordan in the 2010 and 2011 drafts, but still figures to be solid up front and have lots of depth with all but two players returning from last year's squad.

"Defensive line is a position where it's critical to have a lot of depth and we feel like we do," Tedford said. "It's great to be able to substitute and keep people fresh and not have a great deal of falloff when you change personnel. We have many players that can step in and produce and make a strong impact this year."

Indeed, the Bears have all three of their top nose guards back from last year in seniors Kendrick Payne and Aaron Tipoti, and sophomore Viliami Moala. Payne and Tipoti mostly shared the position last year by combining to make 10 starts. Tipoti was an honorable mention All-Pac-12 choice of the league's coaches a year ago and is a first-team preseason All-Pac-12 pick in 2012. Junior Austin Clark also plays the position and has gained significant experience each of the past two springs.

First-team preseason All-Pac-12 junior Deandre Coleman and sophomore Mustafa Jalil are expected to take over for departed 2011 senior starters Trevor Guyton and Ernest Owusu at defensive end. Both played key roles as backups in 2011, with Coleman also filling in as a starter twice and Jalil once. Junior Keni Kaufusi and sophomore Todd Barr are expected to begin training camp as the team's backup defensive ends, while others looking for increased playing time at the position include sophomore Gabe King and redshirt freshman Puka Lopa.

Cal's look at linebacker will certainly be different in 2012 than it was a year ago when veteran seniors Mychal Kendricks and D.J. Holt were familiar faces in their third seasons as starters. Both have now moved on to the NFL so the Bears are assured of having two new starters at the inside linebacker positions.

"It's tough to replace veteran guys like Mychal Kendricks and D.J. Holt on the inside, but we have a couple of veterans there in Robert Mullins and J.P. Hurrell who will get a chance," Tedford said. "Nick Forbes and Jason Gibson also had impressive spring workouts, and we'll take a look at David Wilkerson on the inside."

Wilkerson is the only one of the five mentioned by Tedford with significant playing time at the collegiate level. The third-year sophomore, who was granted a medical redshirt season in 2010 when an injury ended his campaign after three games, has played on the outside during each of his first two seasons. As a part-time starter in 2011, he showed signs of emerging as a playmaker with his 4.0 sacks (-23 yards) ranking third on the team, while he contributed a total of 5.5 tackles for loss (-35 yards) among his 17 stops. His 0.40 per-game sack average ranked 11th in the Pac-12.

Dan Camporeale

Mullins and Hurrell are both seniors that have primarily played on special teams during their careers, although each started one game in place of Kendricks last season. Forbes and Gibson are a sophomore and redshirt freshman who have played in one game between them but both had strong springs.

Cal also added junior Khairi Fortt to the mix on the inside when he transferred to Cal from Penn State just prior to training camp. Fortt was listed as a co-starter at middle linebacker for the Nittany Lions after 2012 spring practice. He had two-year career totals of 50 tackles, 6.5 tackles for loss (-23 yards) and 2.5 sacks (-16 yards).

The story is different on the outside where the Bears will have a pair of part-time starters back in junior Dan Camporeale and sophomore Chris McCain, in addition to Wilkerson.

Camporeale is a former walk-on who blossomed into his role as a part-time starter last year and contributed career highs of 19 tackles, 4.5 tackles for loss (-11 yards) and one fumble recovery. McCain, a 2012 preseason third-team All-Pac-12 pick of Athlon, found his way into the starting lineup just before the midway point last season and finished with 29 tackles to lead all Cal freshmen and rank 10th overall on the team despite missing three games after he had moved into the starting lineup due to injury.

David Wilkerson

"Young players like Chris McCain, David Wilkerson and Dan Camporeale saw lots of playing time on the outside last season and should be even stronger now with the experience they have gained," Tedford said.

Sophomore Cecil Whiteside was also reinstated to the team just prior to training camp after having been dismissed in May for violating team rules. Whiteside played in 10 games with three starts as a 2011 freshman, registering 17 tackles, 4.0 tackles for loss (-26 yards), 3.0 sacks (-24 yards), one pass breakup and a team-high-tying two forced fumbles.

Other returning linebackers on the team's roster include junior Steven Fanua, sophomores Ted Agu, Lucas King, Matt Mayes and Brennan Scarlett, and redshirt freshmen Nathan Broussard and Jalen Jefferson.

The team's incoming true freshmen linebackers are Michael Barton and Hardy Nickerson, while sophomore Antione Davis transfers in after one season at Contra Costa College.

The veteran trio of seniors Josh Hill and Marc Anthony, and junior Steve Williams gives Cal a core of players in the defensive backfield with significant starting experience at the collegiate level. After seeing most of his action as a nickel back a year ago, the versatile Hill is expected to move into a starting safety role. Anthony and Williams return as the team's starting corners.

Hill, who has played in 36 games with 20 starts throughout a career that has seen him in action at cornerback, nickel back and safety, will be asked to step into a leadership role in the defensive backfield following the departures of 2011 starting safeties Sean Cattouse and D.J. Campbell. Hill is Cal's active career leader in tackles (127), interceptions (4), interception return touchdowns (1), interception return yards (46), forced fumbles (2, tied for lead) and fumble recoveries (2). He also ranks second among all active players in pass breakups (15) and passes defended (19). Last season, he played in all 13 games with six starts and ranked fifth on the club with 49 tackles while sharing the team lead with a pair of interceptions.

Anthony is back for his third season as a starter and has more career starts (22) than any active Cal player on defense, having started 11 games in each of the past two seasons. He is Cal's active career leader in passes defended (21) and pass breakups (18), while adding other career totals of 86 tackles, 5.5 tackles for loss (-10 yards), three interceptions that he has returned 32 yards and one forced fumble. A third-team preseason All-Pac-12 pick of Phil Steele this season, Anthony is coming off a 2011 campaign in which he posted a career-high and team-leading 12 pass breakups to rank tied for seventh on the school's all-time single-season list. His per-game average of 1.18 passes defended (interceptions plus pass breakups) was fourth in the Pac-12.

Williams is the only member of the trio to have started all 13 games last season in his first campaign as a full-time starter. He tied for the team lead with two interceptions and 13 passes defended, while ranking second with 45 interception return yards and 11 pass breakups, tying for 10th on the school's all-time single-season list in the latter. His per-game average of 1.00 passes defended last season was fifth in the Pac-12.

"We have lots of experience, talent and depth in the defensive backfield," Tedford said. "It's always great to have both of your starting cornerbacks returning because that's one of the toughest positions in football and experience is crucial. We did lose both starting safeties but have confidence that Josh Hill will do a great job with his opportunity to play. We've also got some talented young players who are pushing for playing time, so I really like where we are with this unit."

Several others players will compete for the starting safety spot alongside Hill and for action at cornerback and nickel back.

Michael Lowe, Avery Sebastian and Alex Logan should battle for a starting job at safety after seeing most of their action as special teams standouts in 2011, with Lowe contributing 14 tackles and two pass breakups before a season-ending injury late in the campaign vs. Oregon State, Sebastian totaling nine stops and Logan five.

Stefan McClure saw extensive action as a true freshman last season with most of his playing time coming at cornerback, including a two-game stint as a starter in place of an injured Anthony. He finished with 24 tackles, one interception and a pass breakup before his season came to an end when he was injured in the regular-season finale at Arizona State.

Marc Anthony

Kameron Jackson begins the season as the team's other backup corner after playing in six games off the bench last season with six tackles.

Other returnees include fifth-year senior Tyré Ellison, as well as junior Vachel Samuels, and sophomores Isaac Lapite and Adrian Lee. Sophomore Ikem Okwudiafor and freshman Jordan Morgan joined the team in the spring.

SPECIALISTS/ SPECIAL TEAMS

After four seasons of Bryan Anger and Giorgio Tavecchio handling most of the team's punting and placekicking duties, the Bears will have an all new look in the kicking game in 2012. True freshman Cole Leininger has been listed on the post-spring depth chart as the starting punter before ever putting on a Cal uniform, while veteran fourth-year junior Vincenzo D'Amato is expected to handle the team's placekicking duties after sharing them with Tavecchio as a true freshman in 2009. The team's long snapper and holder will also be new.

Led by the standout performances of three-time first-team All-Pac-12 selection Anger and Tavecchio, who arguably had the best season ever by a Cal placekicker in 2011, the Bears' special teams units have shown marked improvement in their first two seasons under special teams coordinator Jeff Genyk. Cal improved 11 spots in net punting average to No. 19 in 2010 and another nine places to No. 10 in 2011. The Bears have also been much better on kickoffs, going from an average opponent starting field position of just beyond the 32-yardline each of the two years prior to Genyk's arrival to just inside the 26-yardline in both 2010 and 2011.

"We certainly have a challenge because we need to replace two of the best specialists in the history of Cal football with the departure of Bryan Anger and Giorgio Tavecchio," Tedford said. "We're bringing in one of the best punters in the nation in Cole Leininger to take Bryan's place, and we have several guys who are vying to be our next kicker with Vincenzo D'Amato having a strong spring and getting the first shot."

14 – Chad Smith, 6-5, 202, So.*, HS Los Angeles, CA/Loyola HS

The Bears are looking to incoming freshman Cole Leininger to step into the starting punter role after the departure of celebrated four-year starter and three-time all-conference selection Bryan Anger, who was drafted in the third round (No. 70 overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Jacksonville Jaguars to become the highest punter taken in the draft in the past 17 years.

Leininger was a second-team All-American as a 2011 high school senior when he averaged 42.7 yards per punt. He also scored a team-high 110 points on 14 made field goals and 68 extra points, while putting 64 of his 90 kickoffs into the end zone but is expected to focus on punting at the beginning of his collegiate career.

Sophomore Steffan Mos also joins the Bears after averaging 40.8 yards per punt during one season at Grossmont College in 2011 to earn second-team All-Southern California Football Association honors. He is the first Cal player to transfer from Grossmont since Joe Roth in 1975.

Sophomore Chad Smith moved to the gridiron last spring after spending one season with the Cal crew program. Smith averaged 41.0 yards per punt over his final two campaigns as a prep.

PLACEKICKERS (4)

45 – James Langford, 6-3, 200, Jr., TR Pleasanton, CA/Cal Poly/Foothill HS

Cal fans became familiar with the left footed Giorgio Tavecchio handling nearly all of the team's placekicking duties the past two seasons and being involved in the kicking game for most of the past four campaigns. Tavecchio has moved on to the San Francisco 49ers after a brilliant 2011 season but another familiar face that shared much of the work with Tavecchio in 2009 is back in the fold.

Junior Vincenzo D'Amato has changed both his first name (Vince to Vincenzo) and number (No. 16 to No. 13) since his arrival at Cal in 2009, but fans should become familiar with him again in 2012. After redshirting last season while Tavecchio became the first Cal player to pace the Pac-12 in field goal percentage and the first since 1991 to lead the conference in field goals made per game, D'Amato stepped into the starting role in the spring and has two years of eligibility remaining. He ranked third on the squad in scoring with 52 points in 2009, connecting on 7-of-12 field goals and all 31 of his extra-point tries.

Vincenzo D'Amato

Junior James Langford had a strong spring, including making both of his field goal attempts from 47 and 41 yards as well as his lone extra-point try in the spring game for the winning Gold squad, but will be required to sit out for one season after transferring from Cal Poly. Redshirt freshman Benjamin Calder and true freshman Noah Beito are also on the roster.

LONG SNAPPERS (5)

86 – Brandon Madueño, 6-0, 243, Jr.*, SQ West Covina, CA/Damien HS
69 – John Sheperdson, 6-3, 220, So., 1L Danville, CA/San Ramon Valley HS

After seven seasons with long snappers from North Canyon High School in Phoenix holding the position in Nick Sundberg (2005-08) and Matt Rios (2009-11), a California native will take over the job in 2012. The question is which one of the five hailing from the Golden State will be putting the ball in the hands of freshman punter Cole Leininger and holder Jackson Bouza when the season rolls around.

Brendan Bigelow

Sophomore John Sheperdson is the only one that's ever done so in a college game before, fulfilling the role for the team's Holiday Bowl matchup with Texas last season. Junior Brandon Madueño is listed along with Sheperdson as a possible starter on the team's post-spring depth chart, while sophomore Cary Kriegsman also returns. In addition, the Bears are bringing in freshmen Duke Moran and Bradley Northnagel at the position.

"Long snappers are often overlooked until you don't have one," Tedford said. "The good news is that we do have three returning long snappers on the roster, but none other than John Sheperdson has snapped in a game before. We are looking for one of these guys to emerge because it is vital to have a good and consistent long snapper to be successful in the kicking game."

RETURNERS (3)

13 – Mike Manuel, 5-9, 198, Sr., 1L Carson, CA/Golden West College/Los Alamitos HS/Carson HS

There are typically several players that contribute to Cal's return game throughout any particular season but the Bears seem to have their primary returnees in place prior to the 2012 campaign. Junior Keenan Allen has been designated as the team's starting punt returner, while sophomore Brendan Bigelow and senior Mike Manuel are the top kick returners.

"We have a couple of experienced kick returners that saw lots of action in the role last year in Brendan Bigelow and Mike Manuel," Tedford said. "We're also looking for Keenan Allen to replace Marvin Jones as our punt returner. That's how we'll head into training camp. But we have good team speed and there are a lot of skill position players that can handle the return game. We will get them some work during training camp and at some point in the season many of them could play a role."

Allen will be taking on the role of punt returner for his first time at Cal but has experience returning kicks when he led the Bears with 18 kick returns for 406 yards and an average of 22.6 yards per return that was second on the club as a true freshman in 2010.

Bigelow and Manuel were Cal's top kick returners a year ago. Bigelow returned 23 kicks for 475 yards, both team highs, and the club's first kickoff return for a touchdown since 2007, while Manuel tied for second on the squad with 12 kick returns for 258 yards and a 21.5 average that led all players with more than one kick return for the season.

The only other returning player with significant experience in the return game is senior Isi Sofele, who has brought back 23 kicks for 468 yards and a 20.3 average during his career, with all but one of those returns happening in his first two seasons with the program before he became the starting tailback in 2011.

*Note: has utilized redshirt season prior to 2012

JEFF TEDFORD

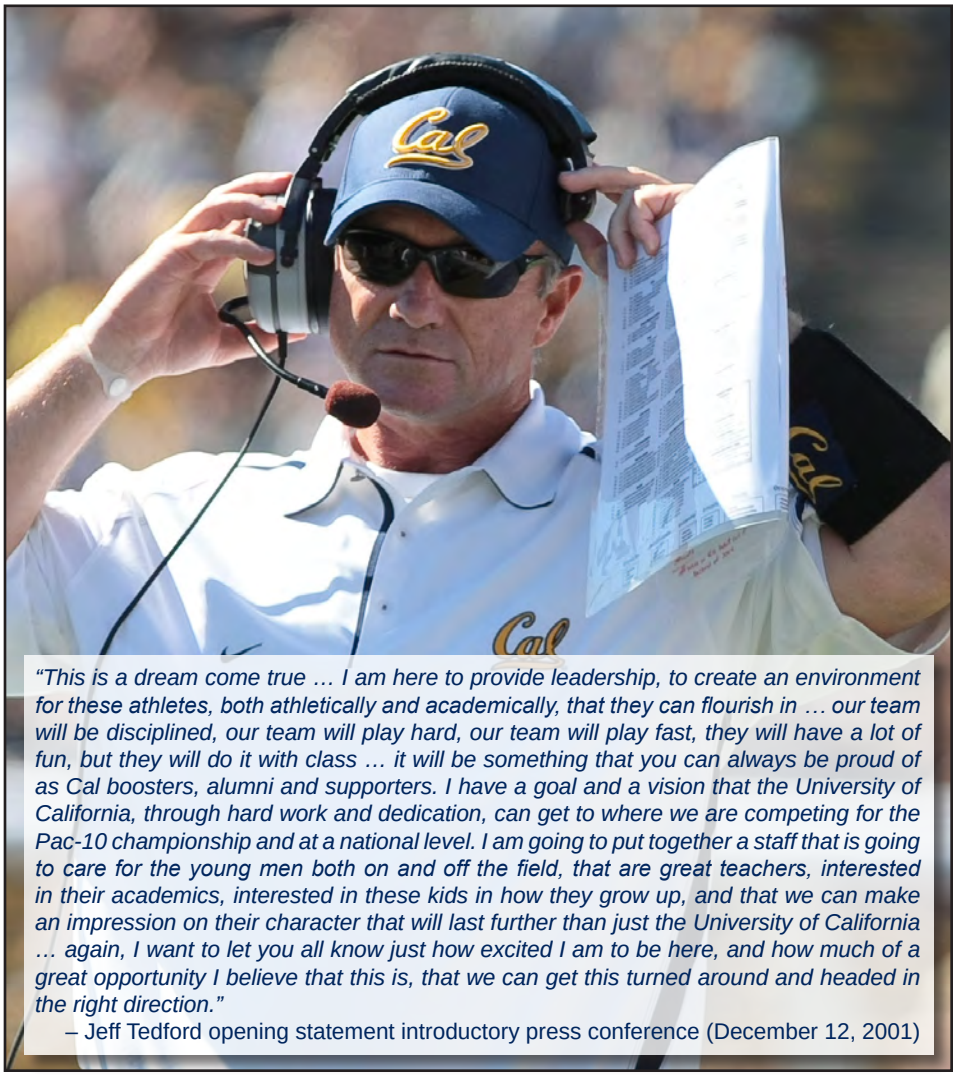
Head Coach • 11th Season at Cal

Jeff Tedford is the winningest coach in Cal football history, has established the Golden Bears as one of the elite football programs in the Pac-12 and lifted the team into the national discussion on a consistent basis during his tenure as the school's head coach. Now in his 11th season at the helm in 2012, he has led the Bears to tied for the third-most Pac-12 victories over his first decade, final rankings among the nation's top 25 four times and spots among the top 10 at some point of five seasons.

Cal posted a school-record run of seven straight bowl appearances from 2003-09 and has played in a bowl game eight times in the last nine campaigns. The Bears are 5-3 in the postseason under Tedford, including a school-record string of four consecutive bowl wins from 2005-08, making him the only Cal mentor with more than two postseason victories. The Bears also won enough games to be bowl eligible with a seven-victory season in his first campaign in 2002 but were ineligible for a bowl. In addition, Cal put together a school-record-tying eight consecutive winning campaigns from 2002-09 and added a ninth in 10 seasons in 2011 to begin another streak. Cal has twice posted a school-record-tying 10 wins under Tedford, the sixth and seventh times in school history, in 2004 and 2006.

Tedford has posted a career record of 79-48 (.622) in a school-record 127 games at Cal, having set the school's win mark when he recorded the 75th victory of his career vs. Presbyterian at AT&T Park on Sept. 17, 2011. He is also the school's all-time leader for victories in conference games (48), road contests (28) and bowl games (5). To top it off, he is 7-3 in the Big Game, equaling Pappy Waldorf's school record of seven wins against Stanford.

The Bears have had 36 players selected in the NFL Draft during the 10 drafts that have occurred since Tedford has been the head coach at Cal, including eight first-round picks. Cal's 33 active NFL players at the end of the 2011 regular season and current 46 players in the league rank second among Pac-12 schools.



"This is a dream come true … I am here to provide leadership, to create an environment for these athletes, both athletically and academically, that they can flourish in … our team will be disciplined, our team will play hard, our team will play fast, they will have a lot of fun, but they will do it with class … it will be something that you can always be proud of as Cal boosters, alumni and supporters. I have a goal and a vision that the University of California, through hard work and dedication, can get to where we are competing for the Pac-10 championship and at a national level. I am going to put together a staff that is going to care for the young men both on and off the field, that are great teachers, interested in their academics, interested in these kids in how they grow up, and that we can make an impression on their character that will last further than just the University of California … again, I want to let you all know just how excited I am to be here, and how much of a great opportunity I believe that this is, that we can get this turned around and headed in the right direction."

– Jeff Tedford opening statement introductory press conference (December 12, 2001)

All of this at the head of a program that won just one game in 2001, the year prior to his arrival, rates the Cal football renaissance over the past decade as one of the most impressive turnarounds in college football history.

Tedford also has earned a reputation as a strong recruiter, with his last three classes in 2010, '11 and '12 being ranked as high as No. 11, No. 13 and No. 15 nationally. Prior to the 2011 campaign, Sporting News bestowed the honor of the Pac-12's best recruiter on him.

But Tedford's teams have not only got it done on the field, they've also got it done in the classroom. His players have been recognized as conference All-Academic honorees 103 times in 10 seasons. Of the 202 seniors who played for Tedford in his first 10 campaigns, 178 (88%) have earned their college degrees and/or gone on to NFL careers.

Tedford's success with the Cal program has resulted in local devotion and national attention. Cal averaged more than 57,000 fans per contest for seven consecutive seasons from 2004-10 before moving to the 45,000-seat AT&T Park in 2011 while Memorial Stadium undergoes an extensive renovation and retrofit prior to reopening for the team's 2012 home contests. The seven-year stretch included a string of 43 consecutive games in front of at least 50,000 fans at Memorial Stadium (Sept. 11, 2004 – Nov. 20, 2010). In 2006, the Bears set school records for average fans per home game (64,318) and overall spectators (450,223). The following year in 2007 Cal established a school record with 41,366 season-ticket holders.

Nationally, Cal has had multiple Heisman Trophy candidates under Tedford's tutelage, with J.J. Arrington (2004), Marshawn Lynch (2006), DeSean Jackson (2007) and Jahvid Best (2009) among top candidates for the prestigious honor at some point in the season, and Arrington finishing eighth in the final voting. Keenan Allen has been on several lists of Heisman Trophy candidates for the 2012 campaign.

Other national recognition has come the Bears way in recent years. Alex Mack was the winner of the 2008 Draddy Award (often referred to as the Academic Heisman), while Mike Mohamed was one of 16 players across the country in the National Football Foundation's Scholar-Athlete Class of 2010 and a finalist for the prestigious honor won by Mack now known as the William V. Campbell 88% percent of the seniors to play for Tedford over 10 seasons have earned their degrees and/or gone on to NFL careers.

CAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS UNDER JEFF TEDFORD

- Named Pac-10 Coach of the Year as voted by conference coaches, becoming the third Cal head coach to receive the honor since the award's inception in 1975.
- Enjoyed a six-win increase from the previous season, tying for the biggest one-year turnaround in the nation and the second-largest about-face in school history (the 1947 club went 9-1 after a 2-7 season in 1946).
- Led the Bears to victories over three nationally ranked teams (Michigan State, Washington and Arizona State) in the same season for the first time in 52 years.
- Scored three road wins over nationally ranked opponents in the same season for the first time in school history.
- Halted a 12-year victory drought in Sun Devil Stadium, mowing down Arizona State, 55-38.
- Set a modern-day school record by scoring 427 points (broken in 2003) with a 35.6 points per game scoring average that tied for 10th-best in the nation.
- Defeated Washington to snap a 19-game losing streak to the Huskies.
- Capped the season by registering Cal's first Big Game win over Stanford in eight years, a 30-7 throttling of the Cardinal.

- Established first back-to-back winning seasons at Cal in 12 years.
- Set single-season school marks for total offense (6,061) and first downs (321), as well as a modern-era record for scoring (457).
- Led the Pac-10 in rushing for the first time in 45 seasons with 2,356 yards and a 168.3 yard per game average.
- Posted first bowl win at Cal in 10 years, defeating Virginia Tech by a score of 52-49 in the Insight Bowl.
- Set single-game school bowl records for most points (52), total yards (530), passing yards (394), completion percentage (77.1, later broken), TDs (7) and rushing TDs (5, later tied).
- Beat a team ranked as high as No. 3 nationally for the first time in 52 years with a 34-31 victory in three overtimes over No. 3 USC at home.
- Defeated Washington in Berkeley for the first time in 28 years, with the 54-7 win the widest margin of victory by a Cal team in a conference game in 81 years, setting Cal's single-game record for total offense with 729 yards.

- Named Pac-10 Coach of the Year for the second time, something no other Cal football head coach has ever done.
- Reached Cal's highest national ranking (No. 4) in 52 years.
- Posted school's best regular-season record (10-1) since 1950 club was 9-0-1 in the regular season.
- First perfect home record (5-0) in 55 years since the 1949 team was 6-0 at Memorial Stadium.
- Most road wins (5) in school history.
- Earned first back-to-back bowl trips since 1990 and '91 seasons.
- Set single-season school record for total offense (492.4 ypg), ranking No. 1 in the Pac-10.
- Broke single-season school mark for yards per play (7.0), almost one yard better than old standard of 6.1 in 2003.
- Led Pac-10 in rushing (256.8 ypg) for second straight year, which were the first two times since 1958.
- Allowed fewest points per game by a Cal defense since 1968, ranking eighth nationally at 16.0 ppg.
- Recorded first back-to-back defensive shutouts in 36 years (38-0 at Arizona, 27-0 vs. Arizona State).

- Finished No. 25 in the AP and coaches' polls, marking the first time Cal had appeared in final polls in consecutive seasons since doing it five years in a row from 1947-51.
- Finished the season ranked ninth nationally with 235.3 rushing yards per game to mark the Bears' second straight season as one of the nation's top-10 rushing teams (sixth in 2004).
- Won fourth straight Big Game for the first time since the 1936-39 campaigns and again at Stanford, marking Cal's first two straight road victories in the series since winning six straight on The Farm from 1937-51.

Trophy. Giorgio Tavecchio was a semifinalist for the same honor in 2011. In 2006, the Bears had a pair of players collect national awards. Jackson was the recipient of the inaugural Randy Moss Award as the top returner in the country, while Daymeion Hughes earned The Lott IMPACT Trophy, given to the nation's top defensive player to equally recognize his athletic performance and personal character.

Despite his success and notoriety, Tedford remains devoted to being a mentor.

"Football is more than a game," he says. "I think it teaches so many values for young people as they move on into life – teamwork, sacrifice, dedication, hard work – all those things are very valuable to their futures. I'm going to be a person that they can trust and talk to while they're here. But I really hope that when they leave, they understand that they can come back to Cal and ask for anything and count on me and our entire staff in any situation."

His legendary work ethic, exemplified by the well-used air mattress in his old office that has been replaced by a small bed in an adjacent room in the team's new football facility, shows the coach's drive, which is not geared towards individual success. His true goals are success as a team and success for his student-athletes.

"Jeff is the hardest worker I have ever encountered in this business," says Cal Director of Athletics Sandy Barbour. "He is not going to be outworked, because he believes he owes that to his student-athletes. The future of the Cal football program is bright and stable under the leadership of Jeff Tedford."

That relentless drive developed in Tedford as a young football player at Warren High School in the Southern California city of Downey. After a solid prep career, the undersized quarterback went on to a standout two-year stint at Cerritos College (1979-80) before a record-setting two-year stay at Fresno State (1981-82). During his days as a Bulldog, he established several school passing records, including career marks for passing yardage (4,872) and touchdown passes (35), while earning honorable mention All-America notice in 1982 when he set single-season Fresno State standards for passing yardage (2,993) and TD passes (24).

After receiving a bachelor's degree in physical education from Fresno State in 1983, Tedford played professionally in the Canadian Football League for six seasons with Hamilton, Calgary, Saskatchewan and Winnipeg. He appeared in the league's championship game (Grey Cup) with Hamilton in 1984.

Tedford has used his own signal-calling experience to build a reputation as a quarterback guru. During his 20-year collegiate coaching career at Cal (2002-present), Oregon (1998-2001) and Fresno State (1992-97), Tedford has been integral in the development of six quarterbacks that became first-round picks in the NFL Draft – Kyle Boller, David Carr, Trent Dilfer, Joey Harrington, Aaron Rodgers and Akili Smith.

Rodgers, an under-the-radar junior college transfer like Tedford, ranked No. 8 nationally in pass efficiency in 2004 when he completed 66.1 percent of his passes for 2,566 yards and 24 touchdowns with only eight interceptions for the Bears. He put up similar numbers the previous

- Guided Cal to a school-record-tying 10 wins, just the seventh time in school history the Bears had posted the total.
- Recorded a fourth straight season with at least eight victories.
- Named a finalist for the Liberty Mutual Coach of the Year Award, which honors the coach who best exemplifies responsibility and excellence on and off the field of play.
- Led Cal to its fifth straight Big Game win for the first time since the club won five in a row from 1919-23.
- Led Bears to a perfect home record (7-0) for the second time in three years.
- Beat Washington for the fifth straight time after having previously dropped 19 straight in the series.

- Led Bears to a top-10 in-season ranking for the fourth straight campaign.
- Six players selected in the 2008 NFL Draft – a school-record for the seven-round version of the draft.
- Tailback Justin Forsett rushed for 1,546 yards – the third-most in school history.
- Opened the year with a thrilling 45-31 victory over No. 15 Tennessee on national television.
- Also defeated No. 11 Oregon on the road with the ESPN Gameday crew in attendance.
- Directed Bears to a No. 2 national ranking – their highest since 1951.
- All 13 of Cal's games were televised – the first time in program history that every contest was telecast.

- Set a record with a fourth consecutive bowl victory while reaching a bowl game for the sixth consecutive year.
- Posted a winning record for the seventh straight campaign.
- Posted a 7-0 home record to mark the third time in five seasons Cal had been unbeaten at home.
- Finished No. 25 in coaches' poll to mark fourth top-25 finish in five years.
- Tailback Jahvid Best rushed for 1,580 yards – the second most in school history – to extend the school record of consecutive years with a 1,000-yard rusher to seven.
- Produced Draddy Trophy (now known as the William V. Campbell Trophy) winner Alex Mack.

- Recorded eighth consecutive winning season to equal a school record (1918-25), while also extending school-record string of bowl appearances to seven.
- Equaled Cal's modern-era record for victories (67) and the school's record for Big Game wins (7) with a victory at Stanford on Nov. 21 in his 100th game as head coach.
- Became one of only three Cal football coaches to reach the 100-game mark.
- Led Bears to back-to-back wins in consecutive weeks over nationally-ranked teams for the first time since 1950, beating Arizona at home and winning at Stanford.

- Started the season 2-0 to rank No. 24 in the coaches' poll and make it each of the last seasons and eight of the past nine in which the Bears have been ranked among the nation's top 25 teams at some point in the season.
- Featured a defense that led the Pac-10 and ranked in the top 25 nationally in sacks (2.83 spg, No. 13), total defense (319.08 ypg, No. 18) and pass defense (187.00 ypg, No. 21), recorded five first-half shutouts, held its opponents to 10 or more total points on four occasions – highest total since the "Bear Minimum" defense limited seven opponents to 10 or fewer points in 1968 – and held opponents below 200 yards of offense three times.
- Scored 50 or more points on three occasions (UC Davis, Colorado, Arizona State).
- Led Cal to victories in each of its first four home games at Memorial Stadium and played the final game at the venue until 2012 when the stadium reopens following an extensive renovation and retrofit.

- Returned the Bears to the Holiday Bowl after the team rallied by posting a 3-1 record in the final month of the regular season.
- Opened the season with three consecutive victories, including a hard-fought 36-33 overtime win at Colorado.
- Featured Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year Mychal Kendricks and fellow first-team all-conference selections Keenan Allen, Bryan Anger and Mitchell Schwartz.
- Led the Pac-12 in total defense (332.92 ypg), pass defense (204.23), tackles for loss (7.69 tflpg) and opponents' first downs (17.4 fdpg).
- Finished the regular season with a 4-1 record in their temporary home venue of AT&T Park.
- Defeated Utah and Colorado (non-conference game) in their first season as members of the Pac-12.

season when he completed 61.6 percent of his passes for 2,903 yards and 19 touchdowns with only five interceptions. After being drafted by the Green Bay Packers in the first round of the 2005 NFL Draft, Rodgers has become one of the top quarterbacks in the NFL and followed his first Pro Bowl selection in 2009 by earning Super Bowl XLV MVP honors the following season after leading the Packers to a victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers. In 2011, he was named the NFL's MVP and earned his first All-Pro honor from the Associated Press.

"As far as a gameday coach, he was incredibly demanding in a way that pushes you to strive for perfection," Rodgers says of Tedford. "I think we're both perfectionists, we like things to look a certain way, we're both fierce competitors. I loved how he got our offense into a rhythm with his play-calling and I loved his energy. That second year there was a fun year … he and I still have a special friendship and bond."

Dilfer was selected sixth overall by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in the 1994 NFL Draft and played for five teams over 14 NFL seasons in a career that was highlighted by leading the Baltimore Ravens to a win in Super Bowl XXXV following the 2000 campaign.

"I believe Jeff's one of the finest minds in all of football," said Dilfer, who currently serves as a football analyst for ESPN after a 14-year NFL playing career from 1994-2007. "He's certainly the finest coach I've ever been around. He's a great leader and great teacher. He has very high expectations for himself and the people around him. And he will work tirelessly to meet those expectations. Jeff taught me more about toughness and the game of football than any coach I've ever played for, and I've had some awfully good coaches."

In addition to his success with quarterbacks, Tedford's teams have featured balanced attacks and become notorious for their ferocity on the ground. In nine of his first 10 seasons at Cal, Tedford has had at least one running back post a 1,000-yard rushing season, including a string of seven consecutive years with a 1,000-yard rusher from 2002-08 and then again in 2010 and 2011. In 2004, Arrington broke Chuck Muncie's single-season school record with 2,018 yards, which led the country (168.2 ypg) as Arrington rushed for at least 100 yards in each of his 12 contests. In 2007, Justin Forsett's 1,546 rushing yards were briefly the second-best in Cal history, but Best's four-game flourish (814 yards) at the end of 2008 gave him 1,580 for the year to move past Forsett. Lynch had back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons in 2005 and 2006, while Adimchinobe Echemandu (1,195 yards in 2003), Isi Sofele (1,322 yards in 2011), Shane Vereen (1,167 yards in 2010), and Joe Igber (1,075 yards in 2002) have also reached the mark under Tedford. In addition to the 1,000-yard rushers, Cal has also been known for having two strong running backs every year with a current string of nine consecutive seasons with the top two backs combining for 1,500 or more yards.

While offense has been Tedford's forte, Cal's defense has toughened considerably during his reign as well, allowing an average of just 22.7 points per game during his first 10 seasons, second-best in the Pac-10/12 over that period. His 2004 team ranked eighth nationally in scoring defense, allowing just 16.0 points per game. In 2005, the Bears led the Pac-10 in scoring defense, giving up only 21.2 points per contest. In 2008, Cal led the Pac-10 in the two key categories of red zone defense (68.2%) and takeaways (34). The Bears were second in the conference in rush defense (112.0 ypg) in 2009. Cal then had a stellar season on defense in 2010 in their first year under former Super Bowl coordinator Clancy Pendergast, leading the league and ranking among the top 25 nationally in sacks (2.83 spg, No. 13 NCAA), total defense (319.08 ypg, No. 18 NCAA) and pass defense (187.0 ypg,

"Along with the expectations, which we embrace, it's really important to always stay hungry. I don't think we've attained our full potential yet. It's something we always strive to do. We never want to be satisfied with where we've been. We always want to look forward to where we're going."

No. 21 NCAA). In 2011, Cal again led the Pac-12 in total defense (332.92 ypg) and pass defense (204.23 ypg), ranking 25th and 37th nationally. Cal also continued to make big plays on defense in 2011 as the Pac-12's top team in tackles for loss (7.69 tflpg, No. 7 NCAA) while ranking third in the conference in sacks (2.62 spg, No. 19 NCAA). In addition, the Bears led the Pac-12 in opponents' first downs, allowing only 17.4 per game.

Prior to his arrival in Berkeley, Tedford was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Oregon, serving in that role for four seasons, including the 2001 campaign when the Ducks finished with a No. 2 national ranking.

Tedford played an integral role in the rise of the Oregon program during his tenure in Eugene – a period in which the Ducks posted the Pac-10's best record (38-10) while finishing progressively better each year (8-4 in 1998, 9-3 in 1999, 10-2 in 2000 and 11-1 in 2001). During his first season as offensive coordinator in 1998, Oregon set school records in passing yards, total offense and points scored. Tedford's passing acumen was clearly evident in the rapid development of Smith, who earned Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year accolades as he finished second in the nation in pass efficiency and was later chosen third overall in the 1999 NFL Draft by Cincinnati.

Duck quarterbacks A.J. Feeley and Harrington combined to pass for 3,131 yards and 24 TDs on the Sun Bowl champion team that ranked 13th nationally in scoring in 1999, while the 2000 club tied for the Pac-10 crown and defeated Texas in the Holiday Bowl. Tedford's last Oregon squad in 2001 showcased one of the nation's premier quarterbacks in Harrington, who won Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year honors and finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy balloting.

In 1992 as the quarterbacks coach at Fresno State, Tedford began honing the skills of Dilfer. Under Tedford's guidance, the Bulldogs' quarterback earned first-team All-WAC honors for an offense that led the nation in scoring (44.2 ppg), ranked second in total offense (541.9 ypg) and beat USC in the Freedom Bowl. A season later, Tedford became the Bulldogs' offensive coordinator, and Fresno State ranked third nationally in scoring and total offense while earning an Aloha Bowl invitation. Dilfer ranked first nationally in passing efficiency (173.1 rating) and won the WAC Offensive Player of the Year award. He was later chosen by Tampa Bay with the sixth overall selection of the 1994 NFL Draft.

Tedford's coaching career began with two seasons as volunteer assistant at Fresno State (1987-88) before he joined Calgary of the CFL for three seasons (1989-91), including the 1991 team that advanced to the Grey Cup title game.

Despite his success as a coach and mentor, Tedford still follows a basic philosophy.

"We try to focus on one game at a time and try to reach our full potential," he says emphatically.

And he still values each and every member of his football team.

"Whether it is the guys who are suited up, the guys who are going to play 50-60 plays or the guys who aren't going to play at all, I want them all to understand that they are very important to the success of the program," he says. "Their contributions are invaluable."

Tedford's hard work and dedication not only inspire his players, it has also made him a role model to the young men in the Cal program.

"Coach Tedford wasn't just a coach, I think of him as more like a father figure," says Desmond Bishop, an All-Pac-10 linebacker and key member of the Green Bay Packers' Super Bowl XLV winning squad. "He taught us lessons about life. He taught us to have integrity, to have character. He prepared us to be men."

Offensive coordinator/offensive line coach Jim Michalczik is in his ninth season overall and his second stint on the Cal coaching staff in 2012. Michalczik has a combined 22 campaigns of experience in the collegiate and professional coaching ranks, including a total of eight winning seasons and seven bowls with the Bears. He was the team's offensive line coach from 2002-08 before spending two seasons in the same role with the Oakland Raiders (2009-10). In 2011, he returned to Cal in his current role of offensive coordinator/offensive line coach.

"Offensive line play is critical to the success of any offense and coach Michalczik has done a tremendous job coaching the position," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "He not only does a great job with schemes but he is a very good technician and fundamentally sound. He also builds a certain toughness into his players and the group as a whole. In addition, he has a knack for being able to work with both experienced veterans while also serving as a mentor for young players to bring them along so they can contribute as well."

The play of Cal's offensive line under Michalczik's direction from 2002-08 and again since 2011 has been a key factor in the Bears' 66-36 (.647) record during the period. Cal has produced bowl teams in each of Michalczik's last seven seasons at Cal and bowl victories in five of those campaigns. The 2004 and 2006 squads both tied the single-season school record with 10 victories, with the latter sharing the regular-season Pac-10 title.

The Bears have put a lot of points on the scoreboard with Michalczik as their offensive line coach, ranking among the nation's top 30 in scoring offense in six of his eight seasons in Berkeley. Cal has also averaged at least 30.0 points per game six times during the period, including a 36.8 mark in 2004 that ranked second in the Pac-10 and seventh nationally as well as a single-season school-record 457 total points over a 14-game schedule in 2003.

Cal has also had a balanced attack that has chewed up yardage both in the air and on the ground during Michalczik's time at Cal, averaging at least 350.0 yards per game of total offense in all eight of Michalczik's seasons, including a school-record 492.4 yards per contest in 2004 as part of a five-year run from 2003-07 when the Bears averaged at least 400.0 yards per game every season.

The Bears returned to over 400.0 yards of offense in Michalczik's first season back at Cal in 2011 and improved in nearly every facet offensively. Cal went from 334.00 yards per game and a No. 90 national ranking in 2010 to 401.46 yards per game and a No. 44 national showing in 2011, sparked by a passing game that moved up 48 spots nationally from No. 94 (175.08 ypg) to No. 46 (246.62 ypg). Cal moved also moved up 20 positions nationally to No. 53 in scoring, improving from 25.8 points per game the previous season to 28.3. Wide receiver Keenan Allen (98 receptions, 1,343 receiving yards) put up a pair of numbers that were the second-highest single-season totals in school history, while Zach Maynard (2,990 yards passing) posted the third-highest passing yardage total in school history and Isi Sofele (1,322 yards rushing) had the sixth-highest single-season rushing total at Cal. Much of the offensive production was fueled by the play of second-round NFL Draft pick and first-team All-Pac-12 offensive lineman Mitchell Schwartz, who had come to Cal in 2007 and first played for Michalczik as a redshirt freshman the following year.

Cal's rushing attack that has produced 1,000-yard rushers in each of Michalczik's eight seasons has been a key factor in the success of the offense during his tenure. In 2004, J.J. Arrington set a single-season school record with 2,018 rushing yards and ranked second in the nation in rushing yards per game (168.2 ypg), with Michalczik's offensive line clearing the way. Arrington was also the eighth-leading vote-getter in the Heisman Trophy race that year. The Bears were ranked in the top 10 nationally in rushing offense in both 2004 (sixth) and 2005 (ninth), while leading the Pac-10 in both 2003 and 2004.

Cal's offensive line has also had a great deal of success protecting the quarterback under Michalczik, including a pair of back-to-back seasons in 2006 and 2007 when the Bears allowed only a combined 24 sacks in 26 games – fewest in the Pac-10 and third-best in the nation during that period. The protection helped Cal quarterbacks produce five of the six highest single-season TD passing totals in school history over his eight campaigns. The Bears averaged at least 240.0 yards per game in passing five times in those eight seasons, including an average of 264.6 yards per game in 2003 that is the fourth-best in school history and a 246.6 average in 2011 that was their best in five years.

Michalczik was instrumental in the development of two-time first-team All-American and three-time first-team All-Pac-10 center Alex Mack, who was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the first round (21st pick overall) of the 2009 NFL Draft and has started all 48 games possible in his first three NFL seasons (2009-11). Mack, who was named to the Pro Bowl for the first time following his 2010 NFL campaign, was a three-time first-team All-Pac-10 choice, two-time finalist for the Rimington Trophy awarded to the nation's top center, and two-time Morris Trophy winner on the offensive side of the ball. The latter honor is annually awarded to the Pac-10's top offensive and defensive linemen. In 2008, Mack also won the Draddy Trophy (often referred to as the Academic Heisman). The award has since been renamed the William V. Campbell Trophy.

There have been other significant success stories on the offensive line under Michalczik, with a total of nine first-team All-Pac-10 selections during his eight seasons at Cal. Schwartz, who was selected in the second round (No. 37 overall) of the 2011 NFL Draft by Cleveland, is the most recent addition to the list in 2011. In addition to Mack's three consecutive selections (2006, 2007, 2008), Mark Wilson (2003), Ryan O'Callaghan (2004, 2005) and Marvin Philip (2004, 2005) were also first-team choices. O'Callaghan was also a Morris Trophy winner as a senior in 2005 while Philip was a two-time finalist for the Rimington Trophy in 2004 and 2005. All told, Cal offensive linemen have earned 24 first-team, second-team or honorable mention All-Pac-10 selections under Michalczik, including all five starters in 2004.

Mack and Schwartz, along with current NFL players Justin Cheadle (Kansas City Chiefs), Brian De La Puente (New Orleans Saints), Mike Gibson (Philadelphia Eagles) and Mike Tepper (Indianapolis Colts) are six of the 12 former Cal offensive linemen that played for Michalczik to move on to the NFL. O'Callaghan (2006-10), Aaron Merz (2006-07), Philip (2006-09), Erik Robertson (2007-08), Scott Tercero (2003-04) and Wilson (2004-09) have also spent time on NFL rosters.

Michalczik played a key role in the Oakland turnaround in 2010, as the Raiders went undefeated in the AFC West. The Oakland offense ranked second in the NFL in rushing (155.9 ypg), sixth in scoring (25.6 ppg) and 10th in total offense (354.6 ypg). Tackle Jared Veldheer was chosen to several All-Rookie teams.

Prior to joining Cal in 2002, Michalczik spent three seasons at Oregon State coaching the tight ends, while also serving as special teams coordinator and an assistant coach on the offensive line. The Beavers posted their first winning season in 29 years in his first campaign in Corvallis in 1999. The following season Oregon State posted a final No. 4 national ranking after going 11-1 and tying for the Pac-10 title.

Michalczik was also the offensive line coach for seven seasons at Montana State from 1992-98 after beginning his coaching career with two campaigns (1990-91) as a defensive line coach at Miami, Fla. The Hurricanes won the 1991 national title after posting an unbeaten 12-0 season. In 1990, Miami was ranked fourth nationally and finished with a 9-2 mark.

After a standout prep career at Port Angeles High School, Michalczik earned three letters as an offensive guard at Washington State. He was an honorable mention All-American selection by Sporting News as a senior in 1988. Michalczik earned a bachelor's degree in education from Washington State in 1988 and signed as a free agent with the Arizona Cardinals the following year.

The native of Port Angeles, Wash. and his wife, Jennifer, have two sons, Max and Chase.

Cal lines up for its third season in 2012 with Clancy Pendergast as the Golden Bears' defensive coordinator after back-to-back years leading the conference in total defense under his leadership. Pendergast is one of three current defensive coordinators that have been a defensive coordinator in the Super Bowl and his defenses at Cal have benefited from his NFL experience, producing nine NFL players in his first two seasons.

"Clancy has gained a better and better feel for the college game throughout his first two seasons at Cal after a long NFL career, and he will be even better this year," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "He is a talented defense mind who does a great job of teaching the entire defense and communicating to our play what we need to get done. He keeps the terminology simple but still very multiple. I think our guys have really gravitated towards his knowledge and leadership."

Utilizing a balanced attack with creative schemes to create pressure, Cal led the Pac-12 in total defense (332.92 ypg) and pass defense (204.23 ypg) in 2011 while ranking 25th and 37th nationally, respectively. The Bears' defense put opposing quarterbacks under pressure from a variety of attacks – with 16 different players contributing to the team's 34.0 sacks. Cal's per-game averages paced the Pac-12 and ranked seventh nationally in tackles for loss (7.69 tflpg), while ranking third in the conference and 19th nationally in sacks (2.62 spg). In addition, the Bears led the league in opponents' first down, allowing only 17.4 per game. The Bears were also second in the conference and 39th nationally in pass efficiency defense (122.06). Cal staunchly defended the run, holding five opponents under 70 yards rushing. The Bears' defense played particularly well late in the campaign. In back-to-back wins over Washington State and Oregon State that started a successful final month of the regular season, Cal allowed only a combined 13 points while holding the Cougars and Beavers to an average of 48.0 rushing yards per game. Overall, Cal was fourth in the Pac-12 and 34th nationally in 2011 in rushing defense (128.69 ypg). The Bears forced 23 turnovers in 2011 that led to 82 points, including 12 that the defense was directly accountable for on a 19-yard fumble return for a touchdown by Trevor Guyton vs. Fresno State and a 32-yard interception return for a score from Josh Hill against Utah.

Mychal Kendricks, the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year and a second-team All-American in 2011, flourished in Pendergast's defense. Kendricks recorded a career-high 107 tackles while adding 14.5 tackles for loss and 3.0 sacks, with his per-game tackles for loss (1.12) and tackles (8.15) ranking third and fifth in the Pac-12. Kendricks was chosen in the second round (No. 46 overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles. Pendergast was also crucial to the development of Guyton at defensive end and safety D.J. Campbell, both of whom ended up as seventh-round NFL Draft picks despite not developing into full-time starters at Cal until their final seasons in Berkeley and then both starting all 13 games as seniors. Guyton, selected No. 219 overall by Minnesota, was a second-team All-Pac-12 pick after leading the Bears with 5.5 sacks and ranking second to Kendricks with his 12.0 tackles for loss. His per-game averages ranked sixth in the conference in tackles for loss (0.96) and 10th in sacks (0.42). Campbell, selected No. 216 overall by Carolina, ranked fourth on the team with 71 tackles and added a team-high-tying two interceptions. Safety Sean Cattouse, linebacker D.J. Holt and defensive lineman Aaron Tipoti all had honorable mention All-Pac-12 campaigns under Pendergast. Cattouse (San Diego Chargers) and Holt (Washington Redskins) signed as undrafted free agents with NFL teams after the season, while Tipoti will return as a senior in 2012.

In 2010, Cal's defense led the Pac-10 and ranked in the top 25 nationally in per-game averages for sacks (2.83 spg, No. 13), total defense (319.08 ypg, No. 18) and pass defense (187.00 ypg, No. 21).

Cal was also first in the Pac-10 in first downs allowed (18.1 fdpg) and second in opponents' third-down conversion percentage (34.7%). The team's pass efficiency defense and scoring defense, which held opponents to 17 points or less in eight of 12 games, were both third in the Pac-10, as well as 31st and 40th nationally. Cal was significantly better in all the above categories compared to 2009 when the Bears were seventh in the Pac-10 and No. 72 nationally in total defense (378.85 ypg). Cal was fifth in the Pac-10 and 35th nationally in rushing defense, allowing 132.08 yards per contest.

Individually, players such as Cameron Jordan and Chris Conte thrived under Pendergast's aggressive system before being taken by the New Orleans Saints and Chicago Bears in the first and third rounds of the 2011 NFL Draft, respectively. Both players earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors for the first time in their collegiate careers, with Jordan adding honorable mention All-American honors from Pro Football Weekly. Jordan started all 12 games and recorded career highs of 62 tackles and 12.5 tackles for loss (No. 4 Pac-10), to go with 5.5 sacks (No. 11 Pac-10). Conte had by far the biggest season of his collegiate career and ranked third on the team with a career-high 72 tackles in his first campaign as a full-time starter. Mike Mohamed also continued his consistent and strong play from previous seasons, leading the Bears in tackles for the second consecutive campaign with 95 stops and earning second-team All-Pac-10 honors. Mohamed was selected in the sixth round of the 2011 NFL Draft by the Denver Broncos. Jordan and Conte both became starters in their rookie NFL campaigns in 2011.

The Bears' 2010 defensive unit was also spectacular at times, recording five first-half shutouts and holding its opponents to 10 or fewer total points on four occasions – the highest number in a single season since the "Bear Minimum" defense limited seven opponents to 10 or fewer points in 1968. Cal also held its opponents below 200 yards of total offense three times. In one of their most significant performances of the season, the Bears held top-ranked Oregon nearly four times below its season average in a 15-13 defeat and Pendergast was named the National Coordinator of the Week by Rivals for his unit's effort. The Ducks came into the game averaging 54.7 points per contest.

Cal scored four defensive touchdowns in 2010, with fumble returns for scores by Darian Hagan, Derrick Hill and Jordan, and an interception return from Mohamed. After two games, Cal had actually put up more points (12) than it had allowed (10), with both of the defensive touchdowns coming against Colorado on a 41-yard interception return by Mohamed and an 82-yard fumble return from Hagan. Cal either scored on a turnover or after forcing a turnover in eight of its 12 games. The team scored a total of 72 points after forcing turnovers.

Pendergast took over as the Golden Bears' defensive coordinator in February of 2010 after six previous campaigns as an NFL defensive coordinator with the Kansas City Chiefs (2009) and Arizona Cardinals (2004-08). He was the defensive coordinator in Arizona when the Cardinals captured the 2008 NFC title to earn a berth in Super Bowl XLIII.

During his six-year stint as an NFL defensive coordinator, Pendergast's defenses was the ability to force turnovers, with his squads racking up a combined 176 total takeaways (92 interceptions, 84 fumble recoveries).

In his one season with Kansas City in 2009, a Chiefs' defense that was among the NFL's youngest (26.6 average years of age opening-day starting lineup, 25.3 average years of age opening-day roster) and least experienced (4.9 average years of experience opening-day starting lineup) ranked 12th in the NFL in turnovers with 19 of their 28 takeaways coming in the final eight games of the season. The defense also scored three touchdowns off turnovers.

Kansas City showed significant improvement in several areas under Pendergast. The Chiefs more than doubled their sack total from the previous season by downing the quarterback 22.0 times behind the line of scrimmage after picking up only 10.0 in 2008. Fourth-year player Tamba Hali led the way with a then career-high 8.5 sacks to earn a spot on the USA Today All-Joe team. The Chiefs also allowed seven fewer rushing touchdowns, increased their quarterback hurries from 40 to 53 and were much better on third downs, ranking third in the NFL in allowing conversions on third-down and 10 or more yards to go after being 26th in the category the season before Pendergast's arrival. The Chiefs moved up to 15th in third-down conversion percentage (38.1%) after being tied for 31st in 2008. In addition, Kansas City improved to tied for fifth in the league in allowing opponents to score in their initial possession after tying for 20th in 2008, as well as eighth in forcing three-and-outs (24.4%) after being 31st the previous season. Kansas City's cornerback duo of second-year players Brandon Flowers (5th-T, 19) and Brandon Carr (10th-T, 16) both ranked among the NFL's top 10 in passes defended, and were among the youngest starting tandems in the league.

For the five-year period from 2004-08, the Arizona teams Pendergast coached ranked eighth in the NFL by forcing 148 turnovers (77 interceptions, 71 fumbles).

During Arizona's Super Bowl run in the playoffs following the 2008 regular season, the Cardinals led all NFL teams by forcing 13 turnovers. The performance of the Arizona defense played a key role in post-season victories over Atlanta, Carolina and Philadelphia as the Cardinals limited the three highly regarded offenses to an average of 20.7 points per game. During the 2008 regular season, Arizona led the NFL with 17 fumble recoveries and ranked tied for fifth in the league with 30 takeaways. Arizona was also third in the NFL with opponents facing an average of 8.16 yards to go on second down and sixth by permitting 4.97 yards per play on first down.

The 2007 edition of the Cardinals ranked ninth in the NFL in run defense, allowing only 97.9 yards per game. On November 11, 2007, Arizona set a modern-day NFL record by holding the Detroit Lions to -18 rushing yards. The 2007 team also set single-season franchise records with six interception returns for touchdowns and 551 interception return yards. The club's 18 total interceptions tied for 10th in the league.

In 2006, Pendergast's defense forced 33 turnovers (16 interceptions, 17 fumbles), the most by the Cardinals since 1998 and tied for fifth in the NFL. The 17 fumble recoveries ranked fourth in the league.

The Cardinals were eighth in the NFL in total defense (295.6 ypg) in 2005, as well as fourth in third-down efficiency (34.2%), seventh in first downs allowed (272) and tied for 10th in fumble recoveries (13).

In Pendergast's first season with Arizona in 2004, the Cardinals improved to 12th in the NFL in both total defense and scoring defense after being ranked 26th and 32nd in those two categories the year before Pendergast arrived. In addition, Arizona forced 30 turnovers to rank tied for 13th in the NFL, compiling seven more takeaways than the season before his arrival when the Cardinals were 24th in the league with 23. The 2004 squad was also second in the NFL in red zone TD percentage (45.0%), fourth in third-down defense (31.6%) and tied for fifth in fumble recoveries (15).

During his tenure in Arizona, Pendergast also worked with the secondary and coached safety Adrian Wilson to a pair of Pro Bowls in 2006 and 2008. Defensive end Bertrand Berry (2004) and defensive tackle Darnell Dockett (2007) also earned their first Pro Bowl selections playing in Pendergast's defense, while defensive back Antrel Rolle also thrived.

In the five seasons prior to Pendergast joining the team in 2004, Arizona had ranked in the top 10 of a major defensive statistical category on only one occasion when the Cardinals were 10th in passing yards allowed in 1999.

In the five seasons under Pendergast, Arizona was 20th or better in the final NFL rankings in points allowed, total yards allowed, rushing yards allowed, passing yards allowed, yards allowed per play, opponents third-down percentage, sacks, interceptions and fumbles recovered a combined 37 times in 45 opportunities.

Pendergast spent the 2003 season as the linebackers coach with the Cleveland Browns.

Prior to his one campaign in Cleveland, Pendergast was a member of a Dallas Cowboys' coaching staff that won two NFC East titles (1996, 1998) and made three NFC Playoff appearances (1996, 1998, 1999) during his seven-year tenure from 1996-2002. Pendergast spent his first four seasons in Dallas (1996-99) as a defensive assistant and quality control coach. He oversaw the club's nickel defense packages in 2000 before coaching the defensive backs in his final two campaigns (2001-02) with the Cowboys. Dallas ranked third in the NFL in pass defense in both 2000 (168.3 ypg) and 2001 (180.6 ypg). In 2002, Pendergast tutored safety Roy Williams, who was a consensus all-rookie selection and led Dallas with five interceptions. He also coached Roy Williams to his lone All-Pro season in 2003 with Dallas.

Pendergast began his NFL coaching career in 1995 with one season as a defensive assistant/quality control coach for the Houston Oilers.

Prior to his 15 years in the NFL, Pendergast spent four seasons as an assistant coach at the collegiate level. He served as a graduate assistant with Mississippi State in 1991, before working on coaching staffs at USC as a defensive assistant in 1992 and Oklahoma as a graduate assistant and tight ends coach from 1993-94. All three of the teams he worked with prior to moving on to the professional ranks qualified for bowl games.

Pendergast graduated from Arizona in 1990 with a bachelor's degree in Agriculture.

- D.J. Campbell (Cal)
- Sean Cattouse (Cal)
- DeAngelo Hall (Atlanta)
- Jimmy Smith (Colorado)

Ashley Ambrose is in his second season as the defensive backs coach at Cal in 2012 after a successful debut in his first campaign on the staff. Both safeties that Ambrose coached in 2011 – D.J. Campbell (Carolina) and Sean Cattouse (San Diego) – moved on to the NFL after earning honorable mention All-Pac-12 honors as a seniors in 2011. Josh Hill – who has played cornerback, nickel back and safety during his Cal career – will be an experienced replacement at one safety spot in 2012, while the team's top three cornerbacks from a year ago in Marc Anthony, Stefan McClure and Steve Williams also return for the Golden Bears. Anthony (1.18) and Williams (1.00) were fourth and fifth in the Pac-12, respectively, in passes defended per game in 2011.

Ambrose's defensive backs were significant contributors to a 2011 Cal defense that led the Pac-12 in both total defense (332.92 ypg) and pass defense (204.23 ypg), while ranking 25th and 37th nationally, respectively. The Bears were also second in the conference and 39th nationally in pass efficiency defense (122.06). Cal's defensive backs recorded 10 of the team's 12 interceptions that ranked fifth in the Pac-12. One of the team's 12 interceptions was returned 32 yards for a touchdown by Hill against Utah.

"Ashley has a lot of credibility as a defensive backs coach having been an NFL player himself for a long time," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "When he talks to the kids about fundamentals, confidence and the way to play that position the players have a great deal of respect for him. He's brought a lot of great energy. He is a bright young coach with a tremendous amount of football experience."

Before joining the Bears the 13-year NFL veteran and 1996 AFC Defensive Back of the Year spent three seasons on the Colorado football staff, including the 2010 campaign as the defensive backs coach. He served as the receivers coach in 2009 and was a defensive technical intern in 2008.

During his lone season working with the Colorado defensive backs in 2010, Ambrose coached senior Jimmy Smith to first-team All-Big 12 honors and helped him become a first-round selection of Baltimore (No. 27 pick overall) in the 2011 NFL Draft. As a senior in 2010, the cornerback recorded a career-high 70 tackles, including a team-best 52 solo stops. Smith, who also co-led the team with five pass breakups, was the only Colorado defensive player named to the All-Big 12 first or second team, improving his status from an honorable mention All-Big 12 choice the year before Ambrose coached him. Another 2010 Ambrose pupil, senior cornerback Jalil Brown, was an honorable mention selection for the second consecutive season and shared the team lead along with Smith with five pass breakups. Brown was taken in the fourth round of the 2011 NFL Draft by the Kansas City Chiefs.

Ambrose brought a wealth of professional football experience to a coaching career that began in 2006 as an intern coach with the Atlanta Falcons. After being selected by Indianapolis in the second round (29th pick overall) of the 1992 NFL Draft, he went on to play 13 seasons in the league, four with Indianapolis (1992-95), three with Cincinnati (1996-98), three with New Orleans (1999, 2003-04) and three with Atlanta (2000-02). He was the AFC Defensive Back of the Year and earned All-Pro honors with the Bengals in 1996 when he had a career-high eight interceptions that were tied for second in the NFL and one off the league lead. Ambrose posted career totals of 42 interceptions (tied for 66th all-time through the 2011 season) with three returned for touchdowns, 178 pass deflections and 514 tackles (464 solo).

After 192 games and 141 NFL starts, he retired from professional football following the 2004 campaign.

Ambrose earned his bachelor's degree in Industrial Technology in 1992 from Mississippi Valley State, where he lettered four years at cornerback. He had 17 interceptions, 40 pass deflections and 110 tackles, as well as seven kick returns for touchdowns (four punt, three kickoff) during his college playing career.

He has long been active in community service, as he developed the "Ashley Ambrose All-A's Club" that rewarded high school football players who excelled academically. He also participated in VH-1's Save the Music program and in the NFL United Way Hometown Huddle campaign among his many community service endeavors as a professional athlete, which included donating hundreds of tickets to scholar-athletes.

A native of New Orleans, Ambrose graduated from Alcee Fortier High School in 1988, where he lettered in football, basketball, and track and field. Ashley and his wife, Melanie Zaharias-Ambrose, were married on May 25, 2012. He is the father of two children, Aisha and A.J.

PROMINENT PUPILS

- John Broussard (San Jose State)
- Austyn Carta-Samuels (Wyoming)
- James Jones (San Jose State)
- Zach Maynard (Cal)
- Adam Tafralis (San Jose State)

Marcus Arroyo is in second season as the quarterbacks coach at Cal in 2012 and his first as pass game coordinator after receiving a promotion following the 2011 campaign. The former San Jose State quarterback has spent the last nine seasons coaching at the collegiate level, including four as an offensive coordinator or co-offensive coordinator.

"Marcus has done a tremendous job in the development of our quarterbacks and now he is going to be even more deeply involved in the planning of the offense," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "He is a terrific young coach that has quickly become a key member of our staff."

Cal had a much improved offensive in 2011 during Arroyo's first-year of working with the team's quarterbacks, especially in the passing game where the Golden Bears jumped from 94th in 2010 (175.08 ypg) to 46th in 2011 (246.62 ypg). Cal also rose from 90th (334.00) to 44th (401.46 ypg) in total offense in his first season. In addition, Cal moved up 20 spots to No. 53 nationally in scoring, improving from 25.8 points per game the previous season to 28.3.

Arroyo guided first-year Cal starter Zach Maynard throughout a 2011 season in which he completed 231-of-405 passes (57.0%) for 2,990 yards, with 17 touchdowns and 12 interceptions for a 126.98 passer efficiency rating. Maynard's 2,990 yards of passing were the third-highest in school history, while his 17 TD throws were one outside the school's single-season top 10. After missing the 2010 season following his transfer from Buffalo, Maynard came on strong over the final third of the 2011 regular season as evidenced by the dramatic rise in his completion percentage, touchdown to interception ratio and quarterback rating. Over his final four regular-season games, he completed 68.1 percent of his passes, threw five touchdowns to one interception and posted a 154.25 rating compared to completing 53.4 percent of his passes, 12 touchdowns to 10 interceptions and a rating of 121.31 over his first eight regular-season contests.

Prior to joining Cal, Arroyo served for two seasons at Wyoming as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks' coach during the 2009 and 2010 campaigns. He helped develop 2009 true freshman quarterback Austyn Carta-Samuels into the Mountain West Conference Freshman of the Year and the Offensive MVP of the 2009 New Mexico Bowl. Carta-Samuels completed 59.7 percent of his passes in two campaigns under Arroyo's guidance.

Arroyo made a significant impact in his first season at Wyoming in 2009 when he installed a new spread offense that helped the Cowboys score 30 or more points five times, winning all five of those games. Arroyo's offense displayed an ability to come from behind in his first season, recording five fourth-quarter comebacks. His offensive unit also did an outstanding job of protecting the ball. Wyoming ranked No. 7 in the nation in fewest turnovers lost (14) and was No. 15 in the NCAA in both fewest fumbles lost (7) and fewest interceptions thrown (7).

When Wyoming captured the 2009 New Mexico Bowl title, it marked the second time in four seasons that Arroyo was part of a New Mexico Bowl winning team. His other victory in the game came in 2006 while he was coaching at San Jose State.

Prior to his stint at Wyoming, Arroyo was the co-offensive coordinator for two seasons and quarterbacks coach for three at his alma mater San Jose State. He was the quarterbacks' coach and play-caller for the Spartans in 2006, before being promoted to co-offensive coordinator for his final two seasons in 2007 and 2008 under head coach Dick Tomey.

In the first and last of those campaigns, the Spartans earned bowl-eligible status. In 2006, San Jose State posted a record of 9-4, and earned a berth in the inaugural New Mexico Bowl where the club defeated New Mexico by a score of 20-12. SJSU again achieved bowl eligibility status in 2008, with a 6-6 mark, but was not invited to a bowl game.

From 2006-07, Arroyo tutored the Spartans' all-time leading passer and total offense leader Adam Tafralis, who set school records for career passing yards (7,548) and total offense (8,111). Tafralis went on to sign a free agent contract with the Indianapolis Colts of the NFL in the spring of 2008. He also played three seasons (2008-10) with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian Football League, and spent time on the rosters of both the United Football League's Sacramento Mountain Lions (2011) and the CFL's Toronto Argonauts (2012) before his retirement from football.

Arroyo also spent one season at San Jose State in 2005 as a graduate assistant coach on the offensive side of the ball before being elevated to a full-time assistant in 2006.

Arroyo began his college coaching career in 2003, serving as an undergraduate assistant coach at his alma mater for one year. In 2004, he was the offensive coordinator at Prairie View A&M, an NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) team in Prairie View, Texas.

Arroyo played quarterback at San Jose State in 1998 and from 2000-02. He finished his career among the Spartans' all-time leaders in passing yards (No. 9, 4,603), total offense (No. 9, 4,525) and passing efficiency (No. 10, 115.6 rating).

Arroyo's legacy at San Jose State includes being the quarterback or play-caller each of the last four times the Spartans have been bowl eligible (2000, 2002, 2006, 2008).

Arroyo received his bachelor's degree in kinesiology at SJSU in 2003.

He and his wife, Kelly, were married on July 9, 2010. Kelly began her collegiate athletic career as a volleyball player at Southern Oregon and later was a swimmer at San Jose State.

Former NFL standout Wes Chandler is in his first season as the wide receivers coach at Cal in 2012. Chandler has spent 25 seasons in professional football, including stints as an assistant coach with the Cleveland Browns, Dallas Cowboys and Minnesota Vikings. He has also coached at both the collegiate and high school levels.

"We're very excited to have Wes Chandler on our coaching staff," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "Wes is a quality person who brings all of the things to the table that Cal stands for. He's a great football coach who is an outstanding technician. It's going to be fun watching him work with some of the top notch talent we have at the position. Just as importantly, he cares about the kids off the field and will be able to help them reach their full potential in all areas of their life."

Prior to joining Cal, Chandler most recently spent time running personal businesses and was a staff member for Football University, a premier educational camp for an elite class of football players.

His last position on a coaching staff was with the New York Sentinels in 2009 as offensive coordinator.

Chandler was the wide receivers coach for the NFL's Cleveland Browns for two seasons from 2007-08. In his first campaign, the Browns posted a six-game turnaround and registered a 10-6 record but failed to make the playoffs, losing a head-to-head tiebreaker with AFC North champion Pittsburgh. The 2007 Browns were eighth in the NFL in total offense (351.3 ypg), scoring offense (25.1 ppg) and touchdown passes (29), while ranking 12th in passing (232.9). Braylon Edwards recorded his best NFL season in 2007 under Chandler's tutelage, posting career highs of 80 receptions, 1,289 receiving yards and 16 touchdown catches with both of the latter also leading the team and the yardage ranking second.

During his one season in Minnesota in 2005, the Vikings finished 9-7 and were second in the NFL North.

He also spent three campaigns in Dallas as the Cowboys' wide receivers coach from 2000-02, where he coached the likes of Antonio Bryant, Joey Galloway, Rocket Ismail and James McKnight. Galloway put up 61 receptions, 908 yards receiving and six touchdowns in 2002, while Bryant contributed 44 catches for 733 yards and six scoring grabs. In 2001, Ismail (53) and Galloway (52) led the team in receptions, while McKnight's 52 catches for 926 yards led the 2000 club.

Chandler's first coaching position in the professional ranks was a two-year tenure as the offensive coordinator with the Orlando Thunder of the World League of American Football (1991-92).

While the WLAF was morphing into NFL Europe, Chandler coached wide receivers for two seasons at Central Florida (1993-94) before NFL Europe began in the spring of 1995. Chandler rejoined the league overseas and was the offensive coordinator for back-to-back teams that posted 7-3 regular-season records and played in the World Bowl, with the Rhein Fire in 1997 and the Frankfurt Galaxy in 1998. Chandler was the offensive coordinator for Rhein for three seasons (1995-97) still as part of the WLAF and then in his first season officially with NFL Europe with the Frankfurt Galaxy (1998). He was also the head coach of the Berlin Thunder in 1999.

Chandler's coaching career began with three seasons (1988-90) at Father Lopez High School in Daytona Beach, Fla., serving the first campaign as the offensive coordinator and his final two years as head coach and athletic director.

In 11 seasons as an NFL player with the New Orleans Saints (1978-81), San Diego Chargers (1981-87) and San Francisco 49ers (1988), Chandler posted career numbers that through the 2011 NFL season are along the league's all-time leaders in receiving yards per game (59.8, 49th), receiving yards (8,966, 53rd), touchdown receptions (56, 79th) and receptions (559, 81st). Chandler was named to four Pro Bowl teams (1979, 1982, 1983, 1985), once selected a first-team All-Pro in 1982 and was a second-team All-Pro choice in 1979. Chandler was the third overall section out of Florida in the first round of the 1978 NFL Draft by New Orleans and was named to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his second season in the league. During the strike-shortened 1982 campaign, Chandler caught 49 passes while leading the NFL in receiving yards (1,032) and receiving touchdowns (9) for an NFL record 129.0 yards receiving per game. Chandler retired from the NFL after one final season with the 49ers in 1988.

Chandler caught 92 passes for 1,963 yards and 22 touchdowns collegiately in a run-oriented Florida offense, while adding another six scores on rushes and kick returns. He earned first All-America and All-Southeastern Conference honors in both 1976 and 1977.

He has been inducted into the Hall of Fame for the University of Florida, Florida-Georgia, the Florida High School Athletic Association, and the San Diego Chargers. Chandler is also a member of their Chargers' 50th Anniversary Team announced in 2009 to honor the top players and coaches in the franchise's history.

Chandler is single. He has one son, Lamar.

Jeff Genyk is in his third season as the special teams coordinator/tight ends coach at Cal and his 21st as a collegiate coach in 2012.

The special teams units have improved significantly since Genyk's arrival, while punter Bryan Anger and kicker Giorgio Tavecchio have broken several records along the way and are now on NFL rosters with Jacksonville and San Francisco, respectively.

Anger became the highest selected punter in the NFL Draft in 17 years and only the second Cal punter to ever be drafted when he was taken in the third round (No. 70 overall) by the Jaguars in 2012. He was only the second Cal player at any position to earn first-team all-conference honors for three consecutive seasons, with the final two of those campaigns coming under the guidance of Genyk. Anger also earned the College Football Performance Awards' Elite Punter Trophy for his combined performance during the 2010 and 2011 campaigns. In his first season under Genyk in 2010, he broke a 23-year-old single-season school record with an average of 45.6 yards per punt that ranked second in the conference and sixth nationally. He nearly matched it in 2011 with a 44.2 average that was tied for the fifth-best in school history, third in the league and 13th in the country. Anger finished with the second-best career punting average in Cal history (43.5).

Tavecchio bloomed while working with Genyk and had arguably the best season ever by a Cal place-kicker in 2011 that led to his signing an undrafted free agent contract with the 49ers in May of 2012. Tavecchio became the first Cal player to pace the Pac-12 in field goal percentage (20-23, 87.0%) and the first since Doug Brien in 1991 to lead the conference in field goals made per game (1.54), ranking 16th nationally in the latter. His field goal percentage was a single-season school record, while his 20 field goals ranked third on Cal's all-time single-season list. After joining the program as a true freshman walk-on three days before the team's first game in 2008, Tavecchio ended up third all-time at Cal in field goals (48), as well as fourth in scoring among kickers and fifth overall with 256 points. Much of his development came while working with Genyk over the last two seasons as he moved into the role as a full-time starter on field goals, extra points and kickoffs, after sharing some of those duties in his first two campaigns.

"Coach Genyk's support and guidance meant a lot to me," Tavecchio said. "I feel I really improved mentally and physically during my time with him."

"Jeff has done an excellent job coaching two of the best specialists in school history the last two seasons in Bryan Anger and Giorgio Tavecchio," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "This year it will be a little bit different with both of those guys graduating. He will have talented but inexperienced kickers and punters to work with that he will need to bring along and have them raise the level of their game."

In addition to the individual accomplishments of Anger and Tavecchio, the Bears have also posted two of the highest net punting averages in the nation during Genyk's two campaigns, improving 11 spots to No. 19 in his first season in 2010 (38.54) and then another nine places to No. 10 in 2011 (39.74). The Bears have also been much better on kickoffs under Genyk, going from an average starting opponent starting field position of just beyond the 32-yardline the two years prior to his arrival to just inside the 26-yardline in both 2010 and 2011.

Genyk has also served as the tight ends coach at Cal for a group led by Anthony Miller, who was an honorable mention All-Pac-12 choice during a strong senior season in which he contributed 24 receptions for 263 yards and a career-high three touchdown grabs. He was also noted as one of the Pac-12's top blocking tight ends and helped open holes for Isi Sofele, who gave Cal its ninth 1,000-yard rusher in the past 10 seasons with 1,322 yards on the ground in 2011. Miller signed an undrafted free agent contract with Denver in April of 2012.

Before coming to Cal, Genyk served as the head coach at Eastern Michigan from 2004-08. He coached the Eagles to their best conference finish in seven years in 2004 with a third-place showing in the West Division of the Mid-American Athletic Conference. His 2006 squad ranked third nationally in punt return yardage defense and 15th in the nation the following season. Eastern Michigan also set three NCAA passing records as well as multiple MAC and school records during his tenure.

While at Eastern Michigan he coached three players (LB Daniel Holtzclaw, DE Jason Jones, PK Andrew Wellock) who earned All-American recognition. Jones was a second-round selection of Tennessee in the 2008 NFL Draft who played 49 NFL games with 31 starts over four seasons with the Green Bay (2008-11) before signing with his current team Seattle. Wellock was a finalist for the 2004 Lou Groza Award given annually to the nation's top placekicker. He also coached OT T.J. Lang, who was selected by Green Bay in the fourth round of the 2009 NFL Draft and over the last three campaigns has played in 44 regular-season games and six post-season contests for the Packers, including Super Bowl XLV won by Green Bay. In 2011, Lang was the Packers' recipient of the NFL's Ed Block Courage Award given to one player on each of the league's 32 teams to a player who exemplifies commitments to the principles of sportsmanship and courage. The award is unique in that the recipients are selected solely by a vote of their teammates.

Genyk previously spent 12 seasons at Northwestern (1994-2003), with responsibility for the special teams unit during each of his final five campaigns with the Wildcats. He was also the running backs coach and recruiting coordinator for five seasons (1999-2003) after having worked with the safeties in 1998 and the outside linebackers in 1997. During his first five campaigns, he was the school's Director of Football Operations (1994-96) and a defensive graduate assistant (1992-93).

Genyk was on the Northwestern football staff for three Big Ten championship teams and four bowl appearances. The 1995, 1996 and 2000 teams all won Big Ten titles. The 1995 squad played in the Rose Bowl, the 1996 team was in the CompUSA Florida Citrus Bowl and the 2000 club played in the Alamo Bowl. The 2003 squad participated in the Motor City Bowl.

In 2000, Genyk tutored Damien Anderson to a Northwestern school-record 2,063 rushing yards as the Wildcats' tailback earned All-American honors and finished fifth in voting for the Heisman Trophy. Another one of his Northwestern pupils, Jason Wright, reached the 1,000-yard rushing mark in both 2002 and 2003.

Genyk began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Grand Rapids Community College in Michigan, where he worked with quarterbacks and tight ends from December 1990 through the spring of 1992.

Prior to joining the coaching ranks, he worked in private business from 1982-91. He also has experience as a television color analyst, taking on that role for ESPN Regional Television's coverage of Atlantic Coast Conference football during the 2009 campaign.

Genyk was a quarterback and punter at Bowling Green State from 1978-81 and graduated from the school with a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1982. He also has two master's degrees with an MBA from Western Michigan in 1989 and a master's in education and social policy from Northwestern in 1994. A native of Milan, Mich., he was an All-State quarterback at Milan High School.

Associate head coach Ron Gould is in his 16th season at Cal in 2012 and his second as the team's run game coordinator after he was promoted to the role following the 2010 campaign.

Gould has coached some of the nation's top performing running backs year-in and year-out for the Bears over his first 15 seasons working with the team's backfield. Cal has produced a 1,000-yard rusher nine times in the last 10 seasons, most recently when Isi Sofele surpassed the mark with 1,322 rushing yards in 2012 that was the sixth-highest single-season total in school history. Sofele ranked fifth in the Pac-12 and 22nd nationally with an average of 101.69 rushing yards per contest.

"The production that Ron's backfields have given us over the years is tremendous," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "He met a significant challenge last year when he had one of his most inexperienced backfields but the production just kept coming. He has a long list of players that have moved on to the NFL. Those are the things that everyone sees, but he also does a really nice job of developing the whole player, not just a runner but a pass protector and a receiver."

Cal has been known for its two-tailback system during Gould's tenure, with the Bears' top two rushers combining for at least 1,500 yards each of the last nine campaigns. Sofele and C.J. Anderson (345 rushing yards) – both of whom return for their senior seasons in 2012 – continued that trend with a combined 1,667 rushing yards in 2011. The pair also combined for 18 touchdowns on the ground.

There are many household NFL names that are former Cal running backs with a total of 10 having played in the league, most recently with the second-round selection of Shane Vereen by the New England Patriots in the 2011 NFL Draft. Jahvid Best was a first-round choice (No. 30 overall) by the Detroit Lions in 2010. Others throughout his Cal career that have moved on to the NFL include J.J. Arrington, Adimchinobe Echemandu, Justin Forsett, Marshawn Lynch, Chris Manderino, Tarik Smith, Byron Storer and Will Ta'ufo'ou.

In a 2010 season during which Vereen rushed for a career-high 1,167 yards, Gould was a candidate for the American Football Coaches Association Assistant Coach of the Year Award.

The only season over the past decade in which Cal has not had a 1,000-yard rusher was in 2009 but the Golden Bears still had a strong campaign running the football. Vereen (952 rushing yards, 12 TDs) and Best (867 rushing yards, 12 TDs) carried the ball for a combined 1,819 yards and 24 touchdowns. Cal was third in the Pac-10 in rushing in 2009 with an average of 169.5 yards per game that was the team's second-highest average in the past six seasons. Best was well on his way to his second consecutive 1,000-yard campaign before suffering a season-ending injury 133 yards shy of the mark with four full games on the schedule.

Best galloped for 1,580 yards in 2008 to lead the Pac-10 in rushing and rank second on the school's all-time single-season list. Best is one of three Cal tailbacks to have led the Pac-10 in rushing under Gould, with Lynch (2006) and Arrington (2004) the others.

The 2008 season registered by Best is second only to the one Arrington produced in 2004 when he rushed for a single-season school-record 2,018 yards during a consensus All-American campaign and finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting. Arrington rushed for over 100 yards in each of his 12 games that season.

Cal's other 1,000-yard rushers during the run under Gould have included Joe Igber (2002), Echemandu (2003), Lynch (2005, 2006) and Forsett (2007).

Three of the backs – Lynch (2006), Forsett (2007) and Best (2008) – were first-team All-Pac-10 choices while Lynch was also the Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Year. Best was a second-team All-Pac-10 selection in 2009, while Vereen was a second-team choice in 2010 after earning honorable mention honors in 2009. Sofele added an honorable mention nod in 2011.

Six of the players listed among Cal's all-time top 10 in rushing have played for Gould, while nine of the school's top 11 individual rushing seasons have been posted under his guidance.

Cal's top rushing season under Gould came when the Bears led the Pac-10 and ranked sixth in the country in 2004 with an average of 256.8 rushing yards per game. The number was the Bears' highest since a school-record 317.0 average in 1952 and the fourth-highest in school history. The team's 3,081 total rushing yards was second all-time at Cal and only the school's third 3,000-yard rushing season, while the 30 rushing touchdowns and the 6.1 yards per carry on 509 rushes were both the best in the school's recorded history.

Cal followed its record-breaking 2004 season by rushing for an average of 235.2 yards per game that was second in the Pac-10 and ninth nationally in 2005. The Bears led preceded the 2004 campaign by leading the conference in rushing with an average of 168.3 yards per contest in 2003 when Cal also had a league-high 28 rushing touchdowns.

Prior to his arrival at Cal in 1997, Gould was the defensive backs coach at Boise State for four seasons (1993-96), with the 1994 Broncos finishing as the NCAA Division I-AA runner-up and ranking among the nation's top five in pass efficiency defense and scoring defense.

During a one-year stint in the same role at Portland State (1992) he helped the Vikings to the 1992 NCAA Division II semifinals.

Gould started his coaching career with two seasons as a graduate assistant at Oregon (1990-91).

He has also served NFL internships with the Atlanta Falcons, Arizona Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49ers and St. Louis Rams.

Gould was a standout defensive back at Scottsdale Community College (1984-85) before earning a scholarship from Wichita State. He later went on to become a starter for Oregon in 1987 after WSU dropped its program and signed with the Los Angeles Rams in 1988.

He and wife Teresa, Cal's Deputy Director of Athletics & Chief of Staff, reside in the East Bay, where they raise their sons, Tevin and Trae.

Todd Howard is in his first season as the defensive line coach at Cal in 2012 and has a combined 20 years of coaching experience at the NFL and collegiate levels.

"Todd has a tremendous amount of experience as both a coach and player at the NFL and collegiate level," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "We've had an opportunity to play against several of the teams he has coached in the past, and I've always been impressed by the way his defensive line has played. He is also consistent with what we stand for at Cal and is an excellent mentor to our student-athletes athletically, academically and socially."

Howard most recently spent the 2011 campaign as the defensive line coach at Washington State, where he tutored second-team All-Pac-12 selection Travis Long on a vastly improved Cougar team.

Prior to arriving in Pullman, Howard was at UCLA as the defensive line coach and associate head coach on defense with the Bruins going to bowls during three of the first four years of his tenure. He coached three first-team All-Americans in Bruce Davis, Justin Hickman and Brian Price. In 2010, Howard mentored All-Pac-10 freshmen honorees Cassius Marsh and Owamagbe Odighizuwa in his final season with the Bruins. In 2007, UCLA ranked 14th in the nation in rush defense (109.2 ypg) and 29th in total defense (343.23 ypg). In addition, the 2007 defense was second nationally in tackles for loss per game (8.77 tflpg) and tied for 15th in sacks per game (3.0 spg). In his first season at UCLA in 2006, the line showed marked improvement. The Bruins were ranked tied for ninth in the nation and led the Pac-10 in rush defense (91.08 ypg) and 33rd nationally in total defense (304.83).

Howard served for three seasons with the Jacksonville Jaguars from 2003-05 as the assistant defensive line coach. The Jaguars finished 12-4 in the regular season to earn a spot in the NFL Playoffs in his final campaign, with the defense leading the NFL in fewest rushing touchdowns allowed with four. The same squad ranked tied for third in the league with 47.0 sacks, sixth in total defense (290.9 ypg), seventh in passing defense (184.1 ypg) and 14th in rushing defense (106.8 ypg). Defensive tackle Marcus Stroud earned All-Pro honors and Pro Bowl selections in each of Howard's three seasons in Jacksonville. John Henderson was chosen for the Pro Bowl following the 2004 season.

His other NFL coaching experience came as a defensive assistant for two campaigns with the St. Louis Rams (1998-99), who won Super Bowl XXXIV in Howard's second season. In addition, he was a member of the NFL's minority coaching program with the Washington Redskins and performed a minority coaching internship with the San Diego Chargers in 2002.

Before his stints at UCLA and Washington State, Howard coached collegiately at Louisiana Tech (2000-02), Grinnell College in Iowa (1994-97) and his alma mater Texas A&M (1991-93), where he was a member of a staff that captured three Southwest Conference titles. Howard was hired as the associate head coach and co-defensive coordinator at Southwest Texas State in 2003 before leaving to join the Jaguars.

A third-round draft choice of the Kansas City Chiefs in 1987, Howard played in the NFL for two seasons as an inside linebacker and on special teams.

Howard earned bachelor's degree in sociology from Texas A&M in 1991 and his master's degree in human resources from the same school in 1995. He was an all-conference and honorable mention All-America selection with the Aggies, starting at linebacker for three seasons (1984-86) on teams which won a pair of Southwest Conference titles.

Howard has three children: Trey, David and Ava.

- Mychal Kendricks (Cal)
- Mike Mohamed (Cal)

Kenwick Thompson is in his sixth season coaching Cal's linebackers and serving as the program's recruiting coordinator in 2012 as well as his first as an associate head coach after receiving a promotion following the 2011 campaign. Thompson coaches a unit that has been greatly responsible for Cal's defensive success in recent years, with linebackers filling out the top two spots on the team's list of leading tacklers each of the past three seasons and the top four positions in 2008.

"Kenwick is very deserving of the promotion to associate head coach he received in the offseason," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "He is an integral part of our coaching staff. He always does a fine job of putting our linebackers in position to be successful and making sure they understand what they're doing so they can play fast. He also does a great job of communicating with the players, and gets them to play hard and understand what they're doing."

Cal has had strong defenses throughout Thompson's tenure, including most recently in 2011 with a unit that led the Pac-12 in total defense (332.92 ypg) and pass defense (204.23 ypg) for the second season in a row, while ranking 25th and 37th nationally. A year ago, the group's linebackers combined for 307 of the team's 517 tackles (59.4%).

The 2011 defense was led by linebacker Mychal Kendricks, the Pat Tillman Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year and a second-team All-American who recorded a career-high 107 tackles while adding 14.5 tackles for loss and 3.0 sacks. Kendricks' per-game tackles for loss (1.12) and tackles (8.15) ranked third and fifth in the Pac-12. He was chosen in the second round (No. 46 overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles after completing his collegiate career with 259 career tackles to rank ninth on Cal's all-time list, while his 36.5 tackles for loss was one-half of a TFL shy of the school's all-time top 10. He also added 13.5 career sacks.

Fellow senior D.J. Holt played the other inside linebacker spot opposite Kendricks in 2011 and had a career season as well. Holt, who signed an undrafted free agent contract with the Washington Redskins in April of 2012, earned honorable mention All-Pac-12 honors for the second year in a row and shared the team's Bear Backers MVP honor with Kendricks on the defensive side of the ball. A member of the ESPN.com Pac-12 Blog's All-Underrated squad, Holt started all 13 games and was second on the team to Kendricks with his 82 tackles while adding a career-high 10.5 tackles for loss and a career-high-tying 2.0 sacks. He was 10th in the Pac-12 in tackles for loss (10.5) and 16th in tackles (6.31). Holt finished his Cal career with 218 tackles, 20.5 tackles for loss and 4.0 sacks.

The team's linebackers contributed heavily to an aggressive 2011 defense that registered per-game averages that paced the Pac-12 and ranked seventh nationally in tackles for loss (7.69 tflpg), while ranking third in the conference and 19th nationally in sacks (2.62 spg) by posting 46.5 of the team's 100.0 tackles for loss and 15.5 of its 34.0 sacks.

The Bears' defense played particularly well late in the 2011 campaign. In back-to-back wins over Washington State and Oregon State that started a successful final month of the regular season, Cal allowed only a combined 13 points while holding the Cougars and Beavers to an average of 48.0 rushing yards per game.

Thompson has been instrumental in the development of several other top linebackers in addition to Kendricks and Holt, including 2011 NFL Draft sixth-round selection Mike Mohamed of the Denver Broncos and 2009 seventh-round Detroit Lions' pick Zack Follett.

Mohamed racked up the honors for his performances on and off the field during a stellar football and academic career at Cal. His collegiate days included a 2010 senior season in which he was selected as a finalist for the prestigious Campbell Trophy often recognized as the Academic Heisman and was also a recipient of the National Football Foundation's Scholar-Athlete Award. Mohamed finished his career ranked fourth on Cal's all-time list with 340 tackles.

Cal's 2010 defense led by Mohamed paced the Pac-10 and ranked in the top 25 nationally in per-game averages for sacks (2.83 spg, No. 13), total defense (319.08 ypg, No. 18) and pass defense (187.00 ypg, No. 21). The Bears were also first in the Pac-10 in first downs allowed (18.1 fdpg) and second in opponents' third-down conversion percentage (34.7%). The team's pass efficiency defense and scoring defense, which held opponents to 17 points or less in eight of 12 games, were both third in the Pac-10, as well as 31st and 40th nationally. Cal was also fourth in the Pac-10 and 34th nationally in rushing defense (128.69 ypg) to improve in all key areas from 2009. Mohamed finished second in the conference in tackles per game (8.6) and posted a team-high 95 tackles total.

The Bears' 2010 defensive unit was also spectacular at times, recording five first-half shutouts and holding its opponents to 10 or fewer total points on four occasions – the highest number in a single season since the "Bear Minimum" defense limited seven opponents to 10 or fewer points in 1968. Cal scored four defensive touchdowns in 2010, with one of the scores a 41-yard interception return for a touchdown by Mohamed. Cal either scored on a turnover or after forcing a turnover in eight of its 12 games for a total of 72 points.

The highlight of the 2009 team's defense also led by Mohamed was ranking second in the conference in rush defense (112.0 ypg). Mohamed earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors by leading the conference in tackles per game (8.6) and the Bears with a career-high 112 total.

Follett was the leader of a 2008 defense that was fourth in the Pac-10 and 26th nationally in total defense (315.23), while leading the conference in takeaways (34) and red zone defense (68.2%). Follett earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors as a senior after leading the conference in tackles for loss (23.0) and forced fumbles (5), while ranking fourth in sacks (10.5). He also finished with 87 tackles to tie for second on the team with Mohamed, while Anthony Felder had 93 to lead the squad and give the trio of linebackers a combined 267 stops.

In Thompson's first season in 2007, the Bears posted the Pac-10's second-best pass defense (214.31 ypg). Worrell Williams (105) and Anthony Felder (100) each broke the century mark in tackles to rank second and third on the team, with Follett adding another 64 and leading the team in both tackles for loss (12.5) and sacks (5.5).

In the recruiting world, Thompson has helped guide Cal to three consecutive classes from 2010-12 ranked as high as No. 11, No. 13 and No. 15 nationally.

Prior to his arrival at Cal, Thompson spent six seasons at San Jose State and was a versatile member of the school's coaching staff during his tenure. After being hired as the Spartans' linebackers coach and spending three seasons in that role (2001-03), he also worked as the program's recruiting coordinator (2002-03), co-recruiting coordinator (2004), co-special teams coordinator (2004), defensive line coach (2004), strength and conditioning coach (2005) and defensive tackles coach (2006). In his final campaign in 2006, the Spartans posted a nine-win season and defeated host New Mexico in the New Mexico Bowl. San Jose State ranked third in the Western Athletic Conference in both scoring defense and total defense that season.

Thompson previously coached for seven campaigns at Texas Southern from 1994-2000, including the last five seasons as the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. In his first two season at the school, he worked with the team's running backs (1994) and as the defensive line coach/recruiting coordinator (1995).

Thompson also coached for two seasons at his alma mater Harding as a graduate assistant (1991-92) after getting his start in the profession as an assistant coach in the Italian American Football Association for one campaign in 1990.

As a collegiate player at Harding, Thompson was a two-time All-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference selection and the league's Defensive Player of the Year as a senior when he also served as a team captain. He recorded 30.0 career quarterback sacks, leading the Bison in sacks in each of his last two seasons.

Thompson and his wife, Monica, have two sons, Jaxson and Jacob.

Mike Blasquez is in his 21st year as a strength and conditioning coach, his 10th season at Cal and his second working with the school's football team in 2012. Blasquez worked directly with the Cal men's basketball program from 2003-10 before assuming his current responsibilities with the Golden Bears' football program at the beginning of the 2011 calendar year. He began his tenure at Cal in 2003 and has overseen the school's entire strength and conditioning program since 2007, managing training programs for all athletic teams in that role.

Blasquez has also been instrumental in developing many of the elements of the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance that opened in January of 2012. He was directly involved with the strategic planning, operations and design of the state-of-the-art 18,700-square foot High Performance Zone, a fully integrated training space with world-class strength and conditioning, sports medicine and sports science facilities and services. Developed with sports performance in mind, high-quality equipment and an open layout provide impressive training options to prepare for the highest levels of competition.

Among the many features of the facility are a large weight room, synthetic turf area, fitness studio, under-water AlterG treadmills and cold plunges.

The facility's weight room is outfitted with over 50,000 pounds of weight, 22 fully customized work stations with inlaid platforms that provide student-athletes with a state-of-the-art facility that incorporates the latest technology and adaptability in exercise and monitoring equipment. The 25-yard turf area is used for warm-ups, plyometrics, short agility work, medicine ball throws, rehabilitation and much more. Spin, Pilates, yoga and back classes are among the activities that take place in the fitness studio.

The high performance zone is centrally located within the Simpson Center that also houses the program's football offices, training room, rehabilitation facilities including AlterG treadmills and cold plunges, a medical suite, dining and nutrition, academic support area, team meeting room, locker room and player lounge – all just a few steps away.

"The central location of the high performance zone is critical and a key component of our philosophy," Blasquez said. "Everything that our student-athletes need to be successful is right here for them."

"Coach Blasquez has brought a new mindset to our strength and conditioning," head coach Jeff Tedford said. "His approach has been something different for the guys that they have all really enjoyed. I've seen transformation in their bodies through the workouts that they've done. Our players have really enjoyed the hard work, and I think it's going to pay off for us. We're going to be a stronger team than we've ever been this year, while continuing to work on speed and flexibility."

In addition to training current Cal student-athletes, many former players and local professional athletes work out with Blasquez and his Cal staff during their offseason. Players that have recently completed their collegiate eligibility the previous year are part of the mix as they are afforded the opportunity to stay in the Berkeley area after they graduate, or as they finish up their academics at Cal while also preparing for events such as the NFL Scouting Combine and Cal's Pro Day, which in 2012 was held mostly inside at the team's new facility due to inclement weather.

Many of the 13 players from Cal's 2011 team that are currently on NFL rosters continue to train at Cal and utilize the facility. Others that have trained recently at Cal include former players Jahvid Best (Detroit Lions), Chris Conte (Chicago Bears), Justin Forsett (Houston Texans), Lavelle Hawkins (Tennessee Titans), Jason Hill (Denver Broncos), Maurice Jones-Drew (Jacksonville Jaguars), Cameron Jordan (New Orleans Saints), Mike Mohamed (Denver Broncos), T.J. Ward (Cleveland Browns) and Demetrius Williams (free agent). Former Cal basketball players Ryan Anderson (Orlando Magic) and Leon Powe (Atleticos de San German, Puerto Rico) are also among this group.

"We want to provide a place for former Cal student-athletes and professional athletes who live in the area to come and train in the offseason," Blasquez said. "It gives our recent players a chance to stay in the area and finish up their academics while getting an opportunity to train with elite athletes at the professional level. It's a great mix."

The Bay Area native arrived at Cal in 2003 after spending 11 seasons from 1992-2002 as the head strength and conditioning coach at De La Salle High School in Concord. During his tenure at the local legendary prep football national powerhouse, Blasquez worked alongside head coach Bob Ladouceur to lead the Spartans to a perfect 138-0 record as part of the team's national-record 151-game win streak from 1992-2004. During Blasquez' 11-year stint the Spartans were named national champions six times (1994, 1998-2002), were honored as the top team in California on 10 occasions (1992, 1994-2002) and won North Coast Section titles in each of his 11 seasons. Blasquez coached several future NFL players while at De La Salle, including current standouts Jones-Drew and D.J. Williams.

During his time with the Spartans, Blasquez was named the Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by the Professional Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society in 1998. From 2001-03, he was also the director of outreach at the Muir Hospital Orthopedic Center in Walnut Creek.

Blasquez received his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Cal State Hayward in 1991, and holds certifications in athletic training (ATC) and strength and conditioning (CSCS). He and his wife, Mary, have two daughters, Makena and Bianca.

Mike McHugh is in his 10th campaign as the Director of Football Operations at Cal in 2012 and his 30th season involved with football as a coach or administrator at the professional, collegiate or high school level. McHugh oversees all day-to-day operations of the Cal football program.

McHugh's comprehensive list of responsibilities is highlighted by the coordination of team travel, the building and maintenance of the budget, the organization of training camp and spearheading the team's community relations efforts, which include student-athlete visits to childrens' hospitals, reading to elementary students, and various food and clothing drives.

He also supervises the operational activities and staff of the High Performance Zone, training room, video, recruiting and academic support departments. In addition, McHugh oversees training table and player meals, facilities and new construction, and serves as the assistant director of the Cal football summer camps.

McHugh has been Cal's team liaison for appearances in eight bowl games, including the 2003 Insight Bowl, 2004 Holiday Bowl, 2005 Las Vegas Bowl, 2006 Holiday Bowl, 2007 Armed Forces Bowl, 2008 Emerald Bowl, 2009 Poinsettia Bowl and 2011 Holiday Bowl.

Prior to joining Cal in 2003, McHugh spent two seasons as an offensive assistant coach with the Detroit Lions (2001-02) following previous stints as the Director of Football Operations at Oregon (1999-2000) when Cal head coach Jeff Tedford was the Ducks' offensive coordinator and Missouri (1993-98). He was also on the staff for four seasons at Eastern Michigan as a defensive line assistant coach (1992), recruiting coordinator (1991) and offensive line assistant coach (1989-90).

McHugh got his start in the football business at the high school level in 1983 as an assistant coach at Liberty-Benton High School before working for five seasons at Northmor High School as an assistant coach (1984) and head coach (1985-88).

McHugh played two seasons of collegiate football during a three-year stretch from 1979-81 as a tight end and wide receiver at Findlay and was a member of the school's 1979 NAIA national championship team, while also participating on the track and field squad. Before transferring to Findlay, he spent two seasons as a wide receiver at Potomac State College (1976-77).

FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

ERNIE CHU

ASSISTANT VIDEO COORDINATOR

Ernie Chu is in his fifth season as Cal's assistant video coordinator in 2012. He assists with video evaluation of practices and games while also working to produce recruiting, motivational and instructional videos.

A native of nearby Albany and a graduate of Albany High School, Chu previously worked for three seasons in the UC Davis football video office from 2005-07, including the final two campaigns as the head video coordinator.

Chu is a 2007 graduate of UC Davis, earning a pair of bachelor's degrees in biological sciences and economics. He has been enrolled in the MBA program at UC Davis since the fall of 2010.

RON COCCIMIGLIO

DIRECTOR OF CAREER DEVELOPMENT/ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Ron Coccimiglio is in his second season as the director of career development/assistant director of football operations at Cal in 2012. Coccimiglio duties include promoting the development of student-athletes in order to successfully transition them into the professional work place. He oversees life skills coaching and the summer and career job placement programs.

Coccimiglio graduated from Cal with a bachelor's degree in sociology in 1981 after playing football for the Golden Bears from 1976-80. He still ranks tied for sixth on the school's all-time list with 11 career interceptions that he returned 227 yards that is third all-time in interception return yardage. He led the Golden Bears in interceptions in each of his final two seasons, picking off three in 1979 and four in 1980 when he served as a co-captain.

Coccimiglio worked as a vice president for two print firms and a partner in a print brokerage firm during a professional career in the print industry that spanned more than 20 years before returning to his alma mater to serve for three seasons as a defensive assistant from 2003-05. He came back for a second stint on the staff from 2007-09 as the assistant director of football operations before stepping into his current position.

Coccimiglio and his wife, Judi, also a Cal graduate, have been married for more than 30 years. The couple has a son, Nicholas (wife, Shannon), and three daughters, Jillian (husband, Matt), Jennifer and Janelle. Along with his wife and daughter Jillian, Coccimiglio is the owner of several Yogurt Shacks in the Bay Area.

CHRIS DiSANTO

ASSISTANT STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

Chris DiSanto is in his first season as an assistant strength and conditioning coach in 2012 after joining the program in February of 2012. In addition to his duties with football, DiSanto acts as the liaison between the athletic department's nutrition specialists and the players and coaches.

DiSanto joined Cal after spending the previous four years serving in the same capacity for the Oakland Raiders, where he was responsible for the core development training of the team's specialists including placekicker Sebastian Janikowski, punter Shane Lechler and long snapper Jon Condo. Under DiSanto's assistance, Lechler was named to his seventh Pro Bowl in 2011 while Janikowski was an All-Pro choice and also a Pro Bowl selection for the first time after having been an alternate in 2010. In 2011, Janikowski tied an NFL record by hitting a 63-yard field goal and later that season broke a franchise record by making six field goals in one game. DiSanto also worked with Tommy Kelly in 2010, helping the defensive tackle post a career high in sacks (7.0) and earn an alternate selection to the Pro Bowl.

DiSanto began his coaching career while he was still a football student-athlete at West Chester in Pennsylvania. During the summer after his junior year, he accepted a volunteer internship with Arizona State's strength and conditioning program. DiSanto returned to West Chester for his senior year and earned first team all-conference honors as the Rams won the 1999 Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference East Championship.

After graduating from West Chester in 2000, DiSanto served as a volunteer strength and conditioning coach for the Philadelphia Eagles for the next two years during which time he also held positions with the Philadelphia Kixx, Philadelphia Wings and West Chester.

In 2003, DiSanto returned to the playing field and spent the next four years with multiple teams in the Arena Football League and Arena Football League 2. After spending the 2005 season as the offensive line and assistant strength coach at the collegiate level at Pikeville, DiSanto joined the Spokane Shock of the Arena Football League 2 and was a captain for a team that captured a title in 2006 marking the first time in league history that an expansion team claimed the championship.

DiSanto returned to the coaching ranks in 2007 as a strength and conditioning coaching intern for one season with the Minnesota Vikings. In 2008, DiSanto accepted his first full-time coaching position in the NFL when he joined the Raiders as the assistant strength and conditioning coach.

A native of Holland, Pennsylvania, DiSanto has been a featured speaker for the Glazier Clinics presenting on topics such as nutrition, training and recovery. He a certified strength and conditioning specialist (CSCS) through the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Sotudeh's most recent position in his final year of doctorate study at Maryland was as an academic writing and resource specialist for the athletic department. He worked previously as a graduate course developer and instructor for the university's education policy and leadership program from 2005-11. Sotudeh also has experience as an academic enrichment program mentor.

Sotudeh also received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Maryland in behavioral and social sciences and curriculum and instruction in 1994 and 2000, respectively. He then worked as an ESOL teacher and transition coordinator for the Montgomery County Public Schools for over five years before returning to Maryland to pursue his doctorate.

BEN STEELE

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT, OFFENSE

Ben Steele is in his second season as an administrative assistant on the offensive side of the ball with the Cal football program in 2012.

Steele arrived at Cal in 2011 after spending two seasons on the Colorado staff as a graduate assistant (2010) and an operations and recruiting assistant (2009). During his time at Colorado, he was in the master's program in education.

Steele's first position as a member of a collegiate football staff came at his alma mater Mesa State as an offensive assistant coach in 2008.

Prior to returning to his alma mater to coach, he attended and received master's credit from the Harvard Business School in 2006 as part of the NFL's Executive Business Program.

Steele was a player in the NFL from 2001-07, signing with the San Francisco 49ers in 2001 and earning a spot on the practice squad as a tight end. He then signed with Oakland for the 2002 season where he was a practice squad member for a Raiders' team that advanced to Super Bowl XXXVII. He was a member of the Raiders, as well as the Minnesota Vikings and Seattle Seahawks in 2003. From 2004-06 he spent time on the Green Bay Packers' roster before finishing his playing career with the Houston Texans from 2006-07.

Steele earned a bachelor's degree in mass communications with an emphasis in broadcasting from Mesa State in 2001. While there he worked at various local media outlets including KMSA Radio and also returned to Grand Junction to work at KKCO NBC 11 News, where he served as the weekend sports anchor during the offseason in 2002 and 2003. During his two seasons at Mesa State (1999-2000), he earned all-conference honors as a junior and played in a Division II All-Star Game following his senior campaign.

Steele started his collegiate career at Fort Lewis College, where he played football from 1996-98. He redshirted the 1996 season and then played tight end in 1997 and 1998, hauling in 10 receptions for 84 yards and one touchdown.

Steele and his wife, Rachel, were married in 2008.

BUD TURNER

FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

A longtime member of the Cal football program and one of its most recognizable faces, Bud Turner is in his 43rd season associated with Cal football in 2012. Since beginning his tenure in 1970, Turner has worked with every area of football operations, most closely with the equipment and training staff, and now serves in security and operations.

Turner, who oversees field security during practice and games, holds a lifetime honorable Big C and is a member of the Sons of California.

Affectionately known as "Dog," Turner and his wife, Joan, have three children – Kim, Kurt and Kristi – and seven grandchildren.

MATT WIEGAND

GRADUATE ASSISTANT, OFFENSE

Matt Wiegand is in his second season at Cal in 2012 as a graduate assistant on the offensive side of the ball and works primarily with the team's tight ends and offensive linemen.

Wiegand arrived at Cal in 2011 after spending two seasons at Utah, where he worked as a graduate assistant with the offensive line in 2010 after one campaign as an administrative assistant for the offense in 2009. The Utes posted 10-3 records both seasons, winning the Poinsettia Bowl in 2009 and participating in the Las Vegas Bowl in 2010.

Wiegand split the 2008 season between the Los Angeles Avengers of the Arena Football League as a coaching intern and operations assistant, and Occidental College, where he coached the tight ends/h-backs and offensive line.

In 2007, he coached the offensive line and was the video coordinator for Claremont-Mudd-Scripps – a football program that serves three California colleges.

He also had two separate one-year coaching stints at Arcadia High School, serving as the head coach of the freshman team in 2005.

Wiegand played collegiately on the offensive line at La Verne, earning first-team All-Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference honors in 2006.

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in movement and sport science from La Verne in 2007 and completed a master's in organizational leadership from Azusa Pacific in 2009.

BIG GAME HISTORY & RECORDS

BIG GAME HISTORY

On Oct. 20, 2012, California and Stanford will play the 115th Big Game to continue one of the greatest rivalries in college football. The series, which dates back to 1892 is the 10th-longest running series between Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) teams and has featured some of the most memorable finishes in the history of the sport.

Cal enters this year's match-up at Stanford Stadium trailing the all-time series, 57-46-11, but has won seven of the last 10 contests between the teams since Jeff Tedford became the Golden Bear head coach in 2002. Tedford has equaled Pappy Waldorf for the most Big Game victories by a Cal coach with his current total of seven.

The Cal-Stanford series has been a remarkably close rivalry, with the Big Game having been determined by a touchdown or less 52 times.

The status of the rivalry as one of the truly great sporting spectacles across the country was undoubtedly established in the very first game, when Stanford upset Cal, 14-10, on March 19, 1892, in a contest played on a field at the corner of Haight and Stanyan streets in San Francisco. Stanford manager Herbert C. Hoover, later to become the 31st president of the United States, and his Cal counterpart counted the gate receipts and reported a then-staggering sum of $30,000.

The game continued to grow in popularity with capacity crowds becoming the norm. In 1923, Cal opened Memorial Stadium with a 9-0 win to cap an undefeated season. Stanford and Cal also opened Stanford Stadium in 1921 with the Bears winning, 42-7, en route to the Rose Bowl.

Cal achieved great success in the series under Waldorf, who retired with a 7-1-2 record vs. Stanford from 1947-56. The 1949 game was highlighted by Jim Monachino's 84-yard run – still the longest rush by a Cal player in Big Game history

Five Big Games have been won on the final play, starting with the 1972 meeting in Berkeley. Cal faced fourth down from the Stanford seven-yardline with three seconds to go. But Vince Ferragamo completed a touchdown pass to a diving Steve Sweeney, giving the Bears a 24-21 win.

Two years later, Stanford's Mike Langford booted a 50-yard field goal as time expired to lift the Cardinal to a 22-20 decision over the Bears.

In 1982, Cal won on a five-lateral, 57-yard kickoff return that will forever be remembered as "The Play." Trailing 20-19, the Bears received Stanford's kick with just four seconds left. Cal proceeded to travel the length of the field and march through the Stanford Band to produce an improbable 25-20 victory.

The Cardinal prevailed in 1990 by scoring nine points in the final 12 seconds. John Hopkins connected on a 37-yard field goal as time ran out for a 27-25 win.

Finally, in 2000, Cal and Stanford played the first overtime game in the history of the series, with the Cardinal emerging 36-30 winners.

For the 100th renewal of the series, the teams donned uniforms representative of the ones they wore more than a half-century earlier. On the night prior to the Nov. 21, 1997 contest, a gala event dubbed the "Big Auction" raised more than $1 million in scholarship funds for each school.

In last year's Big Game at Stanford Stadium, Stanford was a 31-28 winner, winning back-to-back Big Games for the first time since the 2000 and 2001 meetings.

THE AXE

The Stanford Axe, the trophy awarded to the winner of the Big Game every year, actually made its debut on the eve of a baseball game between the rival universities on April 13, 1899. On that afternoon at a pre-game rally, a group of Stanford students introduced the instrument to decapitate a straw man adorned in California blue and gold, much to the delight of the Indian faithful who chanted "Give 'em the axe" while the proceedings continued.

The next day, Stanford rooters taunted their Cal counterparts by cutting pieces of blue and gold ribbon with the Axe and by using it to chop at a designated piece of wood whenever the Indians made a good play.

Cal rallied for an upset over Stanford and the Golden Bear fans were so overcome with emotion that a group of Cal men wrestled The Axe away from the Stanford students and smuggled it across the bay via ferry. The Axe was placed in a safe at a Berkeley bank, to be removed once a year for the Axe Rally.

By 1933, both sides decided that the Axe would make an ideal Big Game trophy. It was mounted on a plaque that lists the scores of each game since 1933.

GAME SUMMARIES 1-2

CAL 36, FRESNO STATE 21

September 3, 2011 • TV: CSN California • Attendance: 31,563

SAN FRANCISCO – The California defense harassed Derek Carr and the Fresno State offense all game to win their season opener, 36-21, over the Bulldogs in the Battle By the Bay at Candlestick Park.

While Cal was in control after scoring three touchdowns in the first quarter, it was a defensive score that put the game away in the third.

Linebacker Cecil Whiteside came off the edge and got to Carr before he could get rid of the ball. He knocked it out of Carr's hand and the ball fell right to Trevor Guyton, who ran it back 22 yards for his first-career touchdown that made it 33-14.

Cal fared much better with its new quarterback. Transfer (Buffalo) Zach Maynard threw an interception in his first pass, but bounced back to throw for 266 yards and connect with Marvin Jones on two touchdown passes.

Isi Sofele ran for 83 yards and two touchdowns, Jones had 118 yards receiving and Keenan Allen caught eight passes from his half-brother for 112 yards to give the Bears an emphatic start to the season a year after posting a losing record.

Maynard completed 16 of his 35 pass attempts and had a knack for the big play.

Maynard's mobility helped him win the job, and he showed it off with a couple of long runs, including a 48-yarder on Cal's opening drive of the second half that set up his second TD throw. The 23-yarder to Jones made it 26-14.

CAL 36, AT COLORADO 33 (OT)

September 10, 2011 • TV: CSN California • Attendance: 49,532

BOULDER – Keenan Allen hauled in a 5-yard TD pass in overtime from his half brother, Zach Maynard, lifting California to a thrilling 36-33 win over Colorado.

Maynard lofted a pass into the corner for Allen, who easily beat Colorado defensive back Parker Orms to set off a wild celebration by the Bears near the goal line.

The catch by Allen came moments after Will Oliver connected on a 22-yard field goal in overtime for Colorado.

Tight end Anthony Miller caught two of Maynard's four TD passes, and C.J. Anderson scored on a 19-yard scamper in the fourth quarter.

The Bears faced a first-and-30 at the CU 35 in overtime, but Maynard completed a pass to Allen for 32 yards near the goal line. Two plays later, the tandem hooked up again for the game winner.

Following two touchdowns from Colorado's Paul Richardson, Anderson's TD gave the Bears the lead back with 9:55 remaining, Cal cornerback Steve Williams found a way to bottle up Paul Richardson, knocking down two crucial passes late in the contest.

After a Colorado first-quarter field goal, Maynard marched the Bears down the field and hit fullback Nico Dumont for a 2-yard score on the first touch of Dumont's career.

SAN FRANCISCO – Zach Maynard threw for 215 yards and three touchdowns, and California made Jeff Tedford the program's winningest coach with a 63-12 romp over.

Isi Sofele ran for a career-high 110 yards and two touchdowns and Brendan Bigelow returned a kick 88 yards for a score to give Tedford his 75th victory.

On Cal's second drive, C.J. Anderson rushed for a 9-yard touchdown through the infield dirt to cap a three-play, 50-yard drive that gave the Bears a 7-0 lead.

Sean Cattouse followed with an interception on a pass by Presbyterian's Ryan Singer. Two plays later, Sofele powered his way into the end zone from a yard out to put Cal ahead 14-0.

Cattouse leaped up to snag his second interception – the seventh of his career – near the Bears sideline early in the second quarter. Three players later, Marvin Jones sprinted across the field on a crossing pattern and slipped past two defenders for a 51-yard touchdown that extended Cal's lead to 28-0.

The Bears quickly drove 55 yards on five plays highlighted by Keenan Allen's 21-yard touchdown catch from Maynard just before the break. Bigelow returned the opening kickoff in the second half for an 88-yard touchdown that put the Bears ahead 49-12.

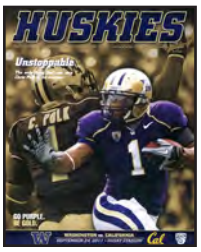
AT WASHINGTON 31, CAL 23

September 24, 2011 • TV: FSN/CSN Bay Area • Attendance: 60,437



SEATTLE – Despite garnering the longest pass play in school history, California lost its first game of the season to Washington, 31-23.

Zach Maynard found Keenan Allen wide open on a busted coverage running straight down the hash marks early in the first quarter. Allen broke an attempted tackle and tumbled into the end zone for a 90-yard touchdown to give Cal an early 7-0 lead. The scoring toss was the longest reception in school history.

Down 31-23, on the game's final drive, Maynard converted on three straight third downs to move Cal into Washington territory. Maynard connected with Allen for 19 yards down to the Washington 2-yard line.

An incompletion and a pair of runs left Cal facing fourth down from the 2-yard line. Maynard's fourth-down pass for Allen sailed high and out of the end zone.

After a 29-yard field goal by Giorgio Tavecchio, Keith Price connected with Kevin Smith for 12 yards on a long third down. Five plays later, Price connected for a 20-yard touchdown strike to take a 21-10 lead.

Tavecchio connected from 36-yards out to pull within eight and California got the ball right back after Price fumbled on the first play of Washington's next drive. Maynard completed passes of 17 yards to Allen and 15 yards to Covaughn DeBoskie-Johnson to get inside the Washington 5-yard line.

AT OREGON 43, CAL 15

October 6, 2011 • TV: ESPN/ESPN3D • Attendance: 58,796

EUGENE – Cal fell to No. 9 Oregon, 43-15. Isi Sofele was solid for the Golden Bears rushing for 119 yards, averaging 9.9 yards per carry. Keenan Allen had 9 catches for 170 yards and a touchdown.

Giorgio Tavecchio made three field goals - including a career-best 54-yarder - for Cal, which led 15-14 at the half. Cal took a 3-0 lead on Tavecchio's 27-yard field goal on the first series of the game, but LaMichael James answered with a 53-yard dash for a score.

Tavechhio added another field goal, this time a 38-yarder, to make it 7-6, but Oregon extended its lead on De'Anthony Thomas' 17-yard touchdown run late in the first quarter.

Tavecchio's career-long 54-yard field goal cut it to 14-9.

The Bears stopped Oregon on a fourth down on their own 41. Quarterback Zach Maynard led an efficient march that was capped by his 12-yard touchdown pass to Kennan Allen that gave the Bears a 15-14 lead.

After the half, Oregon quickly regained the lead with Darron Thomas' 23-yard pass to De'Anthony Thomas. The Ducks extended it on Kenjon Barner's 68-yard touchdown run and Darron Thomas completed a pass to De'Anthony Thomas for the 2-point conversion.

The Ducks added one more score in the fourth quarter to put the game away.

USC 30, AT CAL 9

October 13, 2011 • TV: ESPN/ESPN3D • Attendance: 44,043

SAN FRANCISCO – The Trojans kept Cal off the scoreboard until late in the third quarter, and the Bears struggled with turnovers in their eighth straight loss in the series against USC, 30-9.

Zach Maynard threw for 294 yards and ran for a touchdown and his half-brother, Keenan Allen, had a career-high 13 catches for 160 yards.

Cal was behind 23-0 early in the third quarter before the offense finally got going, with Maynard leading the Bears to a 27-yard Giorgio Tavecchio field goal and then scoring on a 3-yard run with 6 seconds left in the third to cut it to 23-9.

Cal's defense did a decent job defending Matt Barkley and the Trojans' high-powered offense but USC took advantage of short fields for its scores.

USC broke the game open with 17 points in the second quarter, getting a 39-yard TD catch, a field goal after Chris Galippo intercepted Maynard's pass deep in Cal territory and a 7-yard TD pass from Barkley to Brandon Carswell after punter Bryan Anger was stopped on a fake that made it 20-0.

Barkley completed 19 of 35 passes for a season-low 195 yards. Robert Woods, the nation's top receiver, was held to five catches for 36 yards.

Cal's only sustained drive of the first half ended in the final minute when Maynard threw into triple coverage and was intercepted in the end zone by Dion Bailey.

AT CAL 34, UTAH 10

Oct. 22, 2011 • TV: CSNBA/KJZZ • Attendance: 35,182

SAN FRANCISCO – Zach Maynard threw for one touchdown and ran for another and California's defense completely shut down Utah's offense to help the Golden Bears get their first Pac-12 win of the season, 34-10, over the Utes.

Isi Sofele ran for 84 yards and a score, Keenan Allen caught a TD pass and Josh Hill returned an interception 32 yards for a score as the Bears controlled the entire game.

Utah had just 58 yards of offense in the first three quarters.

Maynard completed 19 of 29 for 255 yards. Allen had eight catches for 78 yards. Allen secured his 100th career reception with his second catch of the day. Earlier in the campaign, Allen equaled DeSean Jackson as the fastest Golden Bear to reach 1,000 career receiving yards when he accomplished the feat in his 16th career game at Cal, which Jackson also did in 2006.

Cal scored 20 points in the second quarter to seize control of the game. After the defense came up with another three-and-out to start the third quarter, Maynard capped an 87-yard drive with a 4-yard keeper that made it 27-0.

Sofele's five-yard run early in the second quarter got the Bears on the scoreboard. Aaron Tipoti then forced a fumble with a hard hit on Hays on the next play from scrimmage, setting up the first of Giorgio Tavecchio's two first-half field goals.

Late in the second quarter, Mychal Kendricks intercepted Jon Hays and returned the ball 32 yards to the Utah 42. Maynard threw a 30-yard pass to Marvin Jones and then Allen took a short pass and ran in for a 12-yard touchdown with 27 seconds left in the half.

PASADENA – Freshman safety Tevin McDonald made the first three interceptions of his college career, Derrick Coleman scored three touchdowns, and UCLA beat Cal, 31-14.

The Golden Bears committed five turnovers, four on interceptions thrown by Zach Maynard.

The Bears held the lead 7-0 midway through the second quarter, after Isi Sofele scored on a 1-yard run in the first quarter. But the Bruins rattled off 17-straight points to hold a 17-7 lead at half.

C.J. Anderson punched in a 1-yard touchdown for Cal less than two minutes into the third quarter to bring the Bears within three, but they could get no closer.

D.J. Campbell paced Cal on defense with a career-high 11 tackles and his second fumble recovery in as many games. Campbell picked up the fumble when UCLA muffed a punt at the outset of the second half. The fumble recovery preceded Anderson's touchdown to pull the Bears within three.

Anthony Miller stepped up big for the Bears, producing a career-high-tying five catches for a season-high 67 yards.

Cal's All-American candidate Keenan Allen once again led the Bears in receiving with seven receptions for 83 yards. He also had one rush for 12 yards.

Bryan Anger booted a season-high punt for the third consecutive game with 64-yarder in the first quarter, the first of his five punts on the day. He also had three punts of 50 or more yards. Anger also placed three punts inside the 20.

AT CAL 30, WASHINGTON STATE 7

Nov. 5, 2011 • TV: CSNCA/ROOT • Attendance: 35,506

SAN FRANCISCO – California quarterback Zach Maynard threw for 118 yards and a touchdown, Isi Sofele ran for 138 yards and a touchdown, and Cal routed Washington State, 30-7.

Maynard hit Anthony Miller for a 19-yard touchdown pass on the first series of the game by the Golden Bears.

Quarterback Marshall Lobbestael and the Cougars faced constant pressure from the smothering Cal defense and managed only a five-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter by Rickey Galvin.

Will Kapp, the son of former Cal coach and Bears 1959 Rose Bowl quarterback Joe Kapp, ran 43 yards for his first career touchdown on fourth-and-1 early in the third quarter for the Bears' lone points of the second half.

Sofele carried 23 times on the way to his third 100-yard game of the season, and C.J. Anderson added a five-yard touchdown run as Cal outgained the Cougars, 411-224. Washington State managed only 22 yards in the first quarter, including four yards passing.

Keenan Allen's 29-yard catch set up Sofele's touchdown late in the first quarter and put Allen over 1,000 yards receiving, the sixth player in Cal history to do so in a season. He finished with eight receptions for 85 yards.

Giorgio Tavecchio kicked a 43-yard field goal.

Cal's attacking defense made things difficult all day for a Washington State passing game that came in ranked second in the conference, averaging 316.1 yards per game.

AT CAL 23, OREGON STATE 6

Nov. 12, 2011 • TV: CSNCA/ROOT • Attendance: 39,602

SAN FRANCISCO – Isi Sofele rushed for a career-high 190 yards and one touchdown, quarterback Zach Maynard threw for one score and ran for another, and California beat Oregon State, 23-6.

The win, the Golden Bears' third in four games, makes them bowl eligible after sitting out the postseason last year. It also snapped Cal's four-game losing streak to the Beavers.

Backup running back C.J. Anderson ran for 96 yards and wide receiver Michael Calvin, a fifth-year senior, caught his first career touchdown for the Bears.

Sofele, whose previous high of 138 yards was set in the previous week's win over Washington State, easily eclipsed that mark while anchoring a ground game that dominated the Beavers.

Cal outgained Oregon State, 296-27, on the ground and held the ball for more than 36 minutes while beating the Beavers for the first time since Sept. 30, 2006.

Safety D.J. Campbell intercepted a deflected pass thrown by Sean Mannion at the Bears 4-yard line to stop one drive, safety Sean Cattouse recovered a fumble at the 3 and linebacker Mychal Kendricks picked off a Mannion pass with 45 seconds left to end the Beavers' night.

After Oregon State punted and pinned the Bears at their own 9-yard line, Sofele got them out of the hole quickly with a 56-yard burst up the middle on a trap play. Sofele ran twice more for 14 yards and Maynard completed one pass and took a sack before finding Calvin for a 19-yard touchdown.

Maynard later directed a 16-play, 96-yard scoring march that just over nine minutes off the clock.

AT STANFORD 31, CAL 28

Nov. 19, 2011 • TV: ESPN • Attendance: 50,360

STANFORD – Zach Maynard finished with 280 yards passing and two touchdown throws for the Golden Bears, but Cal fell short to Stanford, 31-28.

Cal scored 15 points in the fourth quarter, including a C.J. Anderson 1-yard touchdown with 14 seconds left. But Stanford recovered the onside kick to clinch the contest.

In the fourth quarter, Maynard led a 68-yard drive ending with a three-yard TD pass to Spencer Hagan on third down. After a two-point conversion on a pass to Marvin Jones, Cal cut Stanford's lead to 28-21 with 10:53 left.

Jordan Williamson, who missed a 33-yard field goal wide left in the first half, kicked a 35-yard field to give the Cardinal a two-score cushion.

That proved pivotal when Anderson's TD run for the Bears with 14 seconds left pulled Cal within 31-28. But Stanford tight end Coby Fleener recoved the onside kick.

Steve Williams stepped in front of a falling Ty Montgomery to intercept Andrew Luck's pass midway through the first quarter and return it 49 yards for a score that was called back because of an illegal block in the back.

But three plays later, Maynard found Keenan Allen for a 17-yard TD pass and a 10-7 Bear advantage. Giogio Tavecchio kicked his second field goal of the game from 19 yards to give Cal a 13-7 lead in the second quarter.

CAL 47, AT ARIZONA STATE 38

Nov. 25, 2011 • TV: ESPN • Attendance: 52,350

TEMPE – California closed out the regular season with a 47-38 win over Arizona State, ensuring its ninth winning season in 10 years.

Cal rolled over Arizona State's defense from the start, racking up 484 total yards and scoring on nine of 12 drives.

C.J. Anderson had touchdown runs of 1 and 3 yards, and scored on a 74-yard pass. Isi Sofele ran for 145 yards and another score, and Giorgio Tavecchio hit four field goals.

Cal scored on its first three possessions: a 48-yard field goal by Tavecchio, an 18-yard run by Sofele and a 16-yard run by Maynard that put the Bears up 17-7 in the first quarter.

The Bears went up 27-14 late in the second quarter on a 1-yard run by Anderson and a 27-yard field goal by Tavecchio.

Cal took the lead for good on a three-yard run by Anderson in the third quarter, then extended its lead to 41-31 on Anderson's 74-yard catch-and-run.

Tavecchio followed with a 30-yard field goal to give the Bears a nine-point lead with just over three and half minutes left. Josh Hill sealed it by intercepting Brock Osweiler.

HOLIDAY BOWL
TEXAS 21, CAL 10

Dec. 28, 2011 • TV: ESPN • Attendance: 56,313

SAN DIEGO – Cal's third trip to the Holiday Bowl since 2004 was an unsuccesful one, as the Golden Bears fell to the Texas Longhorns, 21-10.

Cal now has an all-time bowl record of 10-10-1. This was the ninth time in the last 10 years that the Bears had enough wins to be bowl eligible. The Bears are also 5-3 in bowl games in the Jeff Tedford era.

Cal held multiple leads in the contest. Giorgio Tavecchio got the scoring started with a first-quarter field goal. Later, at the outset of the second half, Isi Sofele notched what would be the final touchdown of 2011 for the Bears, giving Cal a short-lived 10-7 lead. It was the 10th touchdown of the year for Sofele.

Texas marched right back down the field, capped by the eventual game-winning 47-yard touchdown pass from David Ash to Marqui Goodwin.

The game featured five turnovers by the Bears, including four fumbles. Despite holding the Longhorns to less than 150 yards passing and just 109 yards rushing, the turnovers tipped the sCales in favor of Texas.

The Longhorns (8-5) were even more impressive on defense, getting five takeaways and sacking Cal's Zach Maynard six times, both season highs.

The Golden Bears (7-6) are winless in five games against the Longhorns dating to 1959.

Texas put it away on Cody Johnson's 4-yard touchdown run on the first play of the fourth quarter, which was set up when Maynard was sacked and fumbled, which was recovered by Chris Whaley at the Cal 44.

Cal fumbled six times, losing four. The other turnover was an interception.

DB, 6-0, 205..... North Las Vegas, NV
2007-11 .....Cheyenne HS

AFTER CAL: Selected by the Carolina Panthers in the seventh round (No. 216 overall) of the 2012 NFL Draft … the second Cal safety drafted in as many years after the selection of Chris Conte in 2010 … the first Cal player to ever be drafted by Carolina … posted a solid all-around performance at Cal's 2012 Pro Day with 22 bench press reps of 225 pounds that would have tied for first among safeties at the 2012 NFL Combine that he was not invited to, a 4.51 40-yard dash and 38-inch vertical leap that would have checked in second at the combine at his position, and a 10' 7" broad jump that would have tied for second … on being selected in the 2012 NFL Draft – "I'm honored to be picked by the Panthers. They're a fairly young franchise, but they're up-and-coming and on the rise. They've had success in the past going to the Super Bowl, and they have plenty of good players on their team. I'm just really excited about getting a chance to go and play there." … on 2012 Cal Pro Day – "A lot of people tend to lose focus and lose sight of the goal they're trying to reach, which is making it into the NFL. So I tried to stay focused and surround myself with the people who had the same common goal. Things like constantly eating right, getting my rest, not going out much, getting treatment, keeping my mind fresh and my body right."

CAL CAREER: Played in 46 games including 37 of 38 possible contests his last three seasons and made 14 starts, primarily as a special teams player and reserve safety until starting all 13 games in his final season … contributed 110 tackles, 4.5 tackles for loss (-24 yards), 2.0 sacks (-17 yards), two interceptions that he returned 29 yards, seven pass breakups, one forced fumble, four fumble recoveries and 29 all-purpose yards.

2011: An honorable mention All-Pac-12 choice after starting all 13 games at safety and ranking fourth on the team with 71 tackles, while adding a team-high-tying two interceptions that he returned for 29 yards and two fumble recoveries, 2.5 tackles for loss (-7 yards), five pass breakups and a forced fumble … all of his season totals were career highs, with the pair of fumble recoveries equaling his 2009 total … his 0.15 interceptions per game ranked tied for 24th in the Pac-12 … posted a career-high 11 tackles, 1.0 tackle for loss (-4 yards) and a fumble recovery at UCLA … had eight tackles in the Holiday Bowl vs. Texas and against Washington State, and seven against USC … registered five tackles on four occasions vs. Fresno State (1.0 TFL, -1 yard), at Colorado (1 PBU), at Stanford (1 PBU), and at Arizona State in the regular-season finale when he also had a forced fumble and a pass breakup … had four tackles at Washington and at Oregon State, also posting an interception, a career-high two pass breakups and 0.5 tackles for loss (-2 yards) against the Beavers … had at least three tackles in all 13 games, including a trio of stops in four separate contests vs. Presbyterian, at Oregon when he also had an interception and 29-yard return just before halftime, and vs. Utah when he added a fumble recovery.

2010: Played in all 12 games, including his first career start at Washington State … posted 21 tackles, 2.0 tackles for loss (-17 yards), 2.0 sacks (-17 yards) and two pass breakups … recorded a season-high five tackles (all solo) at Arizona … had three tackles vs. UC Davis and Washington; two vs. Colorado, vs. UCLA, at USC and at Washington State; and one vs. Arizona State and Oregon … recorded his first two career sacks in back-to-back games at USC (-9 yards) and vs. Arizona State (-8 yards), while his two pass breakups came in back-to-back contests at Arizona and vs. UCLA.

2009: Played in 12 of the team's 13 games off the bench, recording 14 tackles and recovering two fumbles to rank tied for seventh in the Pac-10 with an average of 0.17 fumbles recovered per game … recorded a season-best three tackles in the Big Game at Stanford, while picking up two in each of the first three contests vs. Maryland, vs. Eastern Washington and at Minnesota, and again later in the campaign vs. Washington State … added a single tackle at UCLA, at Washington and in the Poinsettia Bowl vs. Utah … fumble recoveries came against Maryland and at Oregon with both occurring on opponent kick returns, leading to a touchdown vs. the Terrapins and a field goal against the Ducks.

2008: Played in 11 games off the bench and recorded four tackles … had a season-high two tackles at Arizona, as well as one each vs. Colorado State and Washington.

2007: Redshirted … did not play … earned Scout Team Player of the Year honors on defense.

ROSE BOWL

JANUARY 1, 1921

OHIO STATE	0

College football may never again witness the sheer dominance displayed by California's legendary "Wonder Teams" of the 1920s, and the 1920 football team, in particular, will forever be remembered as one of the sport's all-time great teams. Under the genius of coach Andy Smith, the Golden Bears completely dismantled opponents en route to an 8-0 record and made their first appearance in the Rose Bowl. Despite their record and having outscored opponents by a total margin of 482-14, the Bears entered the contest as an underdog. Possibly because some Easterners had not yet developed much respect for sutdent-athletes on the West Coast, a respected Ohio State team was predicted to beat Cal by six points.

The Bears wasted little time in refuting such predictions, as Pesky Sprott scored a touchdown early in the first quarter to give California a 7-0 lead. Smith's team was able to score two more touchdowns in the second quarter while a ferocious Bear defense held Ohio State scoreless for a 21-0 halftime lead. One of the scores came on a piece of Wonder Team trickery, as Sprott pitched the ball to end Brick Muller on a reverse who heaved the ball over 50 yards to Brodie Stephens for the touchdown. That play helped Cal break the game open and is thought of as one of the most famous plays in the history of the Rose Bowl. The Bears subsequently earned the unofficial national title.

California's Wonder Team of 1921 defeated every opponent they faced in the regular season, scoring a total of 167 points against conference opponents while only allowing 10. California took a 9-0 record into its second straight Rose Bowl, and although the Bears were predicted to record an easy victory, steady rains had reduced the field to a quagmire, and coach Andy Smith predicted a 0-0 tie. The Bears were fortunate to escape with that, as they only gained 49 yards in total offense and had two first downs while Washington and Jefferson had a 36-yard touchdown run called back on an offside penalty. The Bears original strategy to use a wide-open passing attack was impossible given the condition of the field, and they instead had to rely entirely on power. The results were almost disastrous for the Bears, but Archie Nisbet averaged 39.7 yards on 13 punts and deserved much credit for keeping the Presidents from the end zone.

Washington and Jefferson had a distinct advantage in maturity as most of the men on its team were older than the average college player, and California originally objected to having to play a team from a school whose scholarship requirements were far below that of California. The relatively unknown school representing the East was able to keep the Bears from scoring in the swamp-like condition of the field and put an end to California's winning streak at 18 games.

GEORGIA TECH	8

The Rose Bowl of 1929 will be remembered forever as one of the most amazing and most talked about games played in the history of collegiate football. California faced an undefeated Georgia Tech squad in a very closely contested battle that was made most memorable thanks to a single play by California's Roy Riegels. After a scoreless first quarter, the Bears threatened by moving the ball to Georgia Tech's 25-yard-line. They were unable to get any farther, however, and possession was lost on downs. The next play became one of the most famous (or infamous) of all time. Riegels, California's All-American center, placed his name in the game's lore when Georgia Tech's Stumpy Thomason was hit by the Bears' Benny Lom at the Georgia Tech 30. Riegels scooped up the fumble and started in the right direction, but suddenly he spun around and headed the wrong way. Riegels had reached the Cal one-yard-line before Lom was able to spin him back around, only to be tackled by Georgia Tech. The play led to a safety when the Engineers blocked Lom's subsequent punt.

Georgia Tech had a 2-0 lead at halftime, then scored again in the third quarter for an 8-0 lead going into the fourth quarter. The Bears finally scored late in the fourth quarter when Lom passed to Irv Phillips in the end zone.

California returned to the Rose Bowl with the "Thunder Team" of 1937. With a devastating offensive backfield and a rock-solid defense, the Golden Bears trampled their opponents in the regular season, posting a 9-0-1 record and scoring a total of 201 points while allowing only 33. The Bears, under coach Stub Allison, recorded six shutouts against opponents and utilized a punishing ground game which not only earned the team the nickname "The Thunder Team" but landed the undefeated squad a berth in the Rose Bowl.

In the Rose Bowl of 1938, the Bears recorded an impressive victory over Alabama, 13-0. California relied on its brilliant backfield of Vic Bottari and Sam Chapman to pave the way on offense. And on defense, the Bears rendered the Crimson Tide offense ineffective, holding Alabama scoreless. Following a fumble recovery by Perry Schwartz in the second quarter, the Bears marched 61 yards and scored on a four-yard run by Bottari. The only other score came early in the third quarter, when Bottari added a second touchdown on another four-yard run, making the final margin 13-0. California had completed an undefeated season for the first time since the Wonder Teams of the 1920s, and was rewarded with its most recent national championship.

Pappy Waldorf will always be remembered as one of the greatest coaches ever at California, and his 1948 team was the first of three consecutive squads he would lead to the Rose Bowl. The Bears of 1948 crushed their opponents en route to an undefeated 10-win regular season and a berth in the Rose Bowl of 1949. The Bears scored nearly three times as many total points as they allowed, and proved themselves as the top team on the West Coast.

The Rose Bowl of 1949 was billed as a battle of wits, as it pitted Pappy Waldorf against one of his former players, Northwestern coach Bob Voights. It proved to be an outstanding game, as the Bears matched the running of Jackie Jensen and Jack Swaner against Frank Aschenbrenner, Ed Tunnicliff and Art Murakowski of Northwestern. Aschenbrenner opened the scoring with a 73-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, but Jensen returned the favor with a 67-yard scoring run of his own on the next series. The game may have been decided on a controversial touchdown in the second quarter, when Murakowski scored from one yard out as he fumbled into the end zone. With Jensen sidelined by leg cramps, the Bears took the lead, 14-13, in the third quarter on a run by Swaner. Northwestern came back, however, to score the winning touchdown on a 43-yard run by Tunnicliff with 2:59 left in the game. Although the Bears lost the game, the final Associated Press Poll still ranked California fourth in the nation.

The Golden Bears entered the 1950 Rose Bowl with a perfect 10-0 regular season record and what many considered to be the West Coast's finest post-World War II team. Under coach Pappy Waldorf, the 1949 Bears were an even more dominant team than the previous year's Rose Bowl team. Cal scored an average of over 30 points per contest while only allowing slightly over 11 points per game in the regular season.

The Bears had built a 7-0 halftime lead on a seven-yard run by Jim Monachino, but Ohio State scored 14 unanswered points to open a 14-7 lead at the end of the third quarter. Monachino stunned the Buckeyes early in the final period when his 44-yard touchdown run tied the score at 14-14, but the Bears were to be denied once again. A bad punt by Bob Celeri gave Ohio State the ball deep in California territory late in the game and Ohio State's Jim Hague kicked a 17-yard game-winning field goal with 1:57 left in the contest. The Bears had managed to lose two consecutive Rose Bowls, but if it was any consolation, the final Associated Press Poll ranked the Golden Bears third in the country.

Pappy Waldorf took his Golden Bears team of 1950 to a third consecutive Rose Bowl. Again the Bears entered the Rose Bowl as an undefeated team that had laid waste to the Pacific Coast Conference. And once again California's string of hard luck Rose Bowl defeats continued. The Bears appeared ready to give coach Waldorf his first post-season victory, as they entered the game with a 9-0-1 record, having outscored opponents 218-76 during the regular season.

On the third play of the game, Pete Schabarum exploded on a 73-yard touchdown run that was wiped out because of a penalty. The Bears went ahead 6-0 in the second quarter on a 39-yard touchdown pass from Jim Marinos to Bob Cummings, and it looked as if the Bears might get that elusive Rose Bowl victory. After halftime, however, the Wolverines dominated the action and with only 5:37 left in the game, Michigan took its first lead. Moments later they added a second touchdown to secure a 14-6 win.

Although Pappy was never able to lead California to a Rose Bowl victory, the Golden Bears compiled a 53-9-1 record under coach Waldorf from 1947-52. Even after the Bears lost to Michigan in 1951, California was ranked as high as the fourth best team in the nation in the final polls (No. 4 UPI, No. 5 AP), making it three straight seasons that the Bears had finished among the top five teams in the country.

California's last Rose Bowl appearance was one that many Old Blues would like to forget. Behind quarterback Joe Kapp and halfback Jack Hart, the Bears defeated both USC and UCLA en route to a 7-3 regular season record and the Pacific Coast Conference title. Cal was the premier team on the West Coast and on January 1, 1959, the Bears faced Iowa in the Rose Bowl.

Cal wasn't given much of a chance of upending Iowa and that played out true to form as the Hawkeyes recorded a convincing 38-12 victory. The Bears could do little to stop Iowa's powerful rushing game, as the Hawkeyes broke the Rose Bowl record for rushing yardage (429) and total offense (516). Iowa's Bob Jeter erased another Rose Bowl record with an 81-yard touchdown run and finished with 194 yards on only nine carries. Iowa had a commanding 20-0 halftime lead, then increased it to 32-6 after three quarters. Hart was able to score a pair of second half TDs on two runs, but it was hardly enough to turn the tide.

GARDEN STATE BOWL

TEMPLE	28

California returned to post-season play for the first time in 20 years at the 1979 Garden State Bowl. Behind quarterback Rich Campbell, Cal featured a good offense and a solid defense that only yielded 15 points per contest in the regular season. The Bears won their first two and last two games of the year, all on the road, including impressive victories over Washington State and Stanford to bring home the Axe.

Facing Temple in the Garden State Bowl was no easy task for the Bears, as California failed to answer the Owls' rushing attack and suffered a 28-17 defeat. The Owls took control of the game early, scoring on their first three possessions to open a 21-0 first quarter lead. Campbell put the Bears back in the game on a pair of second quarter touchdown passes to Matt Bouza and Joe Rose. The scored remained 21-14 Temple until the fourth quarter when Mick Luckhurst's 34-yard field goal pulled California within four at 21-17. That was as close as the Bears were able to come, however, as Temple scored another touchdown late in the game to secure the win.

COPPER BOWL

The 1990 Golden Bears surprised the college football world by refuting predictions that they would be a last place team, capturing a 6-4-1 record and finishing in the top half of the conference for the first time since 1979. Perhaps most memorable in the regular season, California put an end to “The Streak” by beating UCLA at Memorial Stadium and making a late rally to tie USC in Los Angeles. Under coach Bruce Snyder, the Bears awakened from their hibernation of the 1980s and were hungry for their first bowl victory in more than half a century.

The Bears offense, which was very potent during the regular season, had its poorest showing of the season, netting only 261 total yards. Fortunately, California's defense rose to the occasion to yield a season-low 15 points. Quarterback Mike Pawlawski fired a 25-yard touchdown pass to Brian Treggs in the second quarter to give the Bears a lead they would never relinquish. Robbie Keen nailed a 46-yard field goal in the third quarter, and fullback Greg Zomalt bulled into the end zone from four yards out early in the fourth as the Bears built a 17-9 advantage. In the final minutes of the game, the Bears had to hold off a Cowboy rally that included a 70-yard punt return for a touchdown. However, California stuffed the two-point conversion attempt to seal the victory.

CITRUS BOWL

CLEMSON	13

Led by Mike Pawlawski and Russell White, the Golden Bears put more points on the board than any California squad since the Wonder Team of 1920. The Bears brought a 9-2 record into their first Jan. 1 bowl game in 33 years, capping a season in which they scored a modern-day record 86 points against Pacific, won dramatic come-from-behind games at Arizona and UCLA, and scored more points than any team in history against USC, a 52-30 whipping at Memorial Stadium.

California faced a very tough Clemson squad that had one of the strongest defenses in college football. The Bears, however, exploding for 17 first quarter points to leap to open a comfortable lead before the Tigers knew what hit them. Among the first quarter highlights was a 72-yard punt return for a touchdown by Brian Treggs that just about crushed any hope Clemson had of a comeback victory, as a ferocious Bear defense kept the Tigers at bay for the rest of the afternoon. White rushed for a 103 yards on 22 carries against a run defense that had not allowed a 100-yard runner in nearly four years, and the Golden Bears proved to a national television audience that they were indeed one of the elite Top 10 teams in the nation.

Riding a roller coaster of a regular season that began with five straight wins only to be followed by four consecutive losses and then three more victories, California received a bid to the inaugural Alamo Bowl in San Antonio, Texas. The Bears scored on four of their first five possessions and completely shut down the Iowa offensive attack, limiting the Hawkeyes to just 90 yards of total offense in the 37-3 victory.

After three Doug Brien field goals gave Cal a 9-0 lead 20 minutes into the contest, quarterback Dave Barr hit Mike Caldwell for a six-yard score. Linebacker Jerrott Willard followed by picking off a pass and rumbling 61 yards for the touchdown as time ran out in the first half to give Cal a 23-0 margin heading to the locker room. Barr, who passed for two more scores in the second half to Iheanyi Uwaezuoke and Brian Remington, finished the game 21-of-28 for 266 yards, while Lindsey Chapman led the rushing attack with 89 yards. As a team, the Bears ended the contest with an impressive time of possession advantage of 43:14 to 16:46. The victory lifted Cal into the final national polls (No. 24 Coaches/No. 25 AP).

ALOHA BOWL

In a game that followed a pattern established throughout the season, Cal provided plenty of offensive fireworks, but couldn't hold on in a 42-38 loss to Navy at the Aloha Bowl. Cal seemed to have the game well in hand with a 10-point lead late in the contest, but Navy rallied for a pair of touchdowns in the final eight minutes.

The game got off to a bang when Cal's Deltha O'Neal returned the opening kickoff 100 yards for a score. Then the Bears settled into their offense, seeming to score at will in the first half, putting together drives of 81, 73, 35 and 61 yards en route to taking a 35-28 halftime lead. Quarterback Pat Barnes threw for three scores, two to wideout Bobby Shaw and one to tight end Sean Bullard, and O'Neal added a 31-yard TD scamper.

However, Cal could manage only a 41-yard Ryan Longwell field goal in the second half, before Navy put on its late rush that culminated on a 10-yard game-winning TD run by backup QB Ben Fay with 1:41 left in the contest.

VIRGINIA TECH 49

After 98 points and 1,081 yards of offense, the Insight Bowl came down to a 35-yard field goal try, and Tyler Fredrickson made the final kick of his Cal career as time expired to give the Bears a 52-49 victory over Virginia Tech.

Cal's Aaron Rodgers flirted with 400 yards passing in an aerial duel that saw both teams rally from 14-point deficits. Rodgers was 27-of-35 passing for 394 yards and two TDs. He also ran for two scores and was named the game's offensive MVP.

Chase Lyman, starting in place of injured wide receiver Geoff McArthur, caught five passes for a Cal bowl-record 149 yards, including a 33-yarder from Rodgers for a touchdown.

Rodgers, who was 15-for-17 for 245 yards in the second half, scored on an eight-yard option play to put Cal ahead 42-28 with 48 seconds left in the third quarter. Virginia Tech came back as DeAngelo Hall reversed his field for a 52-yard punt return TD that tied the game at 49-49 with 3:11 remaining.

The winning drive came after Virginia Tech's subsequent kickoff went out of bounds, giving Cal the ball on the 35. Rodgers completed three passes to the Hokie 20-yard line, and a five-yard run by J.J. Arrington set up Fredrickson's winning field goal on the game's final play.

TEXAS TECH 45

Perhaps pining for a Rose Bowl bid that was snatched away by voters in the final week, Cal came up against the vaunted Texas Tech aerial attack led by Sonny Cumbie and fell, 45-31, in the Pacific Life Holiday Bowl. Cumbie threw for a career-high 520 yards and three touchdowns, as 21st-ranked Texas Tech upended the Golden Bears.

Cal's J.J. Arrington became just the third running back in Pac-10 history and the first for California to rush for 2,000 yards in a season when he reached the milestone against the Red Raiders. The senior carried 25 times for 173 yards against Tech to finish the year with a school-record 2,018 yards. His two-yard run in the first quarter was his 15th rushing touchdown of the year, breaking Cal's season record that has later been tied by Justin Forsett (2007) and Jahvid Best (2008).

Tech had four scoring drives that took under two minutes each. Trailing 14-7 after the first quarter, the Red Raiders scored 24 straight points and held a commanding 31-14 lead by early in the third quarter.

BYU 28

Marshawn Lynch rushed for career highs of 194 yards and three touchdowns to win the game's MVP award, and DeSean Jackson caught two scoring passes before Cal's defense held off BYU for a 35-28 victory.

Junior Steve Levy passed for 228 yards in his second career start for the Bears, who held off BYU's fourth-quarter comeback in a high-octane game that featured 915 total yards.

Cal took a 35-14 lead into the final quarter after Lynch's 35-yard scoring run and Jackson's exceptional 22-yard diving TD catch in the third. But BYU quarterback John Beck responded with scoring passes to Jonny Harline and Todd Watkins, whose nine-yard grab with 5:35 left cut Cal's lead to the final seven-point margin.

The Bears missed a 50-yard field goal with 2:20 to play in the fourth, but the Cougars moved just seven yards before Beck's arm was hit by Cal lineman Phillip Mbakogu on the ensuing series. Daymeion Hughes intercepted the wobbling pass to seal the victory.

The Bears' stars were the difference. Jackson scored on a 42-yard romp through the BYU secondary three seconds before halftime, while Lynch had scoring runs of 3, 23 and 35 yards along with a handful of jaw-dropping second-effort rushes. His 194 yards rushing and three touchdowns on the ground also were Cal bowl records.

TEXAS A&M 10

California posted its largest margin of victory in its bowl history with a 45-10 win over Texas A&M.

In his final game in a Golden Bear uniform, Marshawn Lynch rushed for 111 yards and two touchdowns to earn the game's co-offensive MVP honors. Justin Forsett was the game's leading rusher with 124 yards, and also found the end zone in the fourth quarter on an eight-yard dash.

Quarterback Nate Longshore completed 19-of-24 passes for 235 yards and a touchdown, en route to co-offensive MVP honors. Longshore also scored a touchdown on the ground in the first quarter to even the score at 7-7.

Not to be overshadowed by the offense, linebacker Desmond Bishop recorded a game-high 12 tackles to earn the game's Defensive MVP honors.

The Cal defensive unit was spectacular, allowing just 10 points, including a shutout in the second half. San Diego native Mickey Pimentel recorded seven tackles, while Eddie Young intercepted a pass (his first career INT) in the fourth quarter to highlight the other defensive notables.

ARMED FORCES BOWL

AIR FORCE 36

California scored its largest comeback victory in a bowl game with a 42-36 win over Air Force.

The Falcons' crisp option offense kept the Golden Bears guessing through the first 20 minutes as Air Force scored on two drives, then pushed in another seven points after a Bear miscue on a kickoff.

However, with Cal backup quarterback Kevin Riley stepping in under center, the Cal offense came to life. The freshman signal-caller connected with DeSean Jackson for a 40-yard score and found fellow standout receivers Lavelle Hawkins and Robert Jordan for touchdowns to pull the Bears within three, 24-21, midway through the third quarter.

Cal ran a relentless ground attack behind tailback Justin Forsett, who scored a pair of TDs before Riley put the game away with a nifty option run for a 42-30 advantage.

Riley earned MVP honors by connecting on 16-of-19 passes for 269 yards and three TDs. Forsett tallied 140 yards rushing and Thomas DeCoud paced the defense with 10 tackles. Jordan caught six catches for 148 yards.

EMERALD BOWL

California played its first bowl game ever in the Bay Area and made its hometown fans happy with a 24-17 victory over Miami, Fla.

Cal jumped out to an early 14-0 first quarter lead on a pair of Jahvid Best touchdown runs but Miami eventually came back to tie the contest at 17-17 in the fourth quarter. The game remained tied until late in regulation when Nate Longshore connected with Anthony Miller on a two-yard scoring strike with 2:37 to go. The winning touchdown was set up moments earlier when Zack Follett forced a fumble deep in Hurricane territory and Cameron Jordan returned it to the Miami two-yard line.

Miami was able to put together eight plays on an ensuing drive but time ran out on the Hurricanes after reaching the Bears' 37-yard line.

Best capped a tremendous season for Cal by rushing for an Emerald Bowl record 186 yards and two touchdowns, marking his fourth consecutive 100-yard rushing game and eighth of the season.

The Golden Bears also set several other school bowl records, including the team's 10.0 tackles for loss, Follett's bowl-record-tying 4.0 tackles and 2.0 sacks, a 74-yard first quarter passing play between Longshore and Verran Tucker, and Jordan's seven-yard fumble return.

The Golden Bears jumped out to a two-touchdown lead but could not prevail as Utah's Jordan Wynn threw for a career-high 338 yards and three touchdowns to rally the Utes to a 37-27 victory over California in the Poinsettia Bowl.

The Bears, in a bowl game for the school-record seventh straight year, had their four-game postseason winning streak snapped. The Utes scored 27 straight points to win their ninth straight bowl game, the longest streak in the country and tied for the second-longest ever following the 2009 season.

Shane Vereen, who scored twice, became the seventh Cal back to gain more than 100 yards in a bowl, finishing with 122 yards on 20 carries. Vereen started the scoring with a 36-yard touchdown run and Eddie Young intercepted Wynn on the first play of Utah's next drive, returning it 31 yards for a score.

But Utah's defense shut down Cal while the Utes offense on its last four possessions of the first half. Cal finally scored again on a 1-yard run by Vereen with 39 seconds left in the third quarter to put the Bears within six at 27-21 before Utah kicked a 25-yard field goal to pull away.

Playing in the Holiday Bowl for the third time in school history, the Longhorns topped the Golden Bears, 21-10, in the 2011 Bridgepoint Education Holiday Bowl at Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego, CA. In addition, Cal fell to 0-5 all-time against Texas.

The Bears jumped out to an early 3-0 lead on a 47-yard field goal by Giorgio Tavecchio, but the Bears could only manage one more score in the contest. Isi Sofele scampered six yards for Cal's lone touchdown of the game on the opening drive of the second half to take a brief 10-7 lead.

Texas quarterback David Ash added his name to the list of quarterbacks who've caught a touchdown pass in the Holiday Bowl and he also threw for one score. Ash caught a 4-yard pass from wide receiver Jaxon Shipley in the second quarter to join BYU's Steve Young, Texas A&M's Bucky Richardson and Oregon's Harrington as quarterbacks who've caught touchdown passes in the Holiday Bowl. Ash would later throw a 47-yard touchdown pass to Marquise Goodwin, who made a nice over-the-shoulder catch in full stride. That score gave the Longhorns a 14-10 lead and proved to clinch the win for Texas.

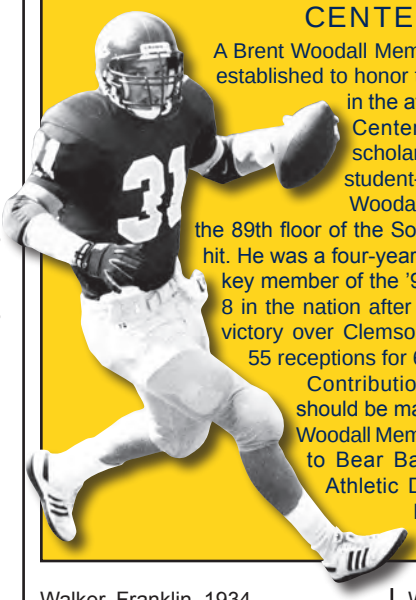
WOODALL SCHOLARSHIP CREATED FOLLOWING WORLD TRADE CENTER TRAGEDY



A Brent Woodall Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established to honor the former Cal tight end who died in the attacks on New York's World Trade Center on September 11, 2001. The scholarship will provide funding for future student-athletes to play Cal football.

Woodall was working as a stock trader on the 89th floor of the South Tower when the building was hit. He was a four-year letterman at Cal (1988-91) and a key member of the '91 squad that finished ranked No. 8 in the nation after a 10-2 record and a Citrus Bowl victory over Clemson. He completed his career with 55 receptions for 646 yards and four touchdowns.

Contributions to the Woodall Scholarship should be made out to the U.C. Regents/Brent Woodall Memorial Scholarship Fund and mailed to Bear Backers, University of California Athletic Department, 195 Haas Pavilion, Berkeley, CA 94720.

HALL OF FAMERS

The California Hall of Fame, which is located in the Hall of Fame Room in Memorial Stadium, honors the greatest Golden Bears in school history. Founded in 1986, the Hall features 256 individuals and six rowing teams. The following pages highlight the careers of all 72 Cal football players who are members of the California Hall of Fame.

TED ALBRECHT (Inducted 2000)

A standout offensive tackle for the Bears from 1974-76, Albrecht earned first team Associated Press All-American honors as a senior and went on to become a first round NFL Draft choice of the Chicago Bears. A two-time first team All-Pac-8 selection, he played alongside Joe Roth, Chuck Muncie and Wesley Walker in 1975 on one of the greatest offensive teams in school history. During that '75 season, he helped the Bears earn a share of the conference title, lead the NCAA in total offense yards and set a Cal modern record for most points in a season.

LEONARD "STUB" ALLISON (1997)

As Cal's head coach from 1935-44, Allison compiled a 10-year record of 58-42-2 and guided the Bears to a 13-0 Rose Bowl victory over Alabama in 1938. He was coach of Cal's "Thunder Teams," and his 1937 squad finished with a 10-0-1 mark and a No. 2 national Associated Press ranking. Among the All-Americans to play under Allison were Bob Herwig, John Meek, Sam Chapman, Jon Baker, Vic Bottari, Larry Lutz, Perry Schwartz, Vard Stockton and Bob Reinhard. Prior to arriving at Cal, Allison saw duty in World War I, where he earned the nickname "Top Sarge."

TROY AUZENNE (2003)

Auzenne, a left tackle for the Bears from 1988-91, earned first team All-American honors by the Football Coaches Association his senior year. Playing on Bear teams that won both the 1990 Copper Bowl (17-15 over Wyoming) and the 1992 Citrus Bowl (37-13 over Clemson), Auzenne earned All-Pac-10 first team recognition in his final season. Drafted in the second round of the NFL Draft by the Chicago Bears, he played five years in the NFL with the Bears (1992-95) and Indianapolis Colts (1996).

JON BAKER (1991)

Baker lettered for the Bears in 1944 and from 1946-48 as a guard on offense and a linebacker on defense. After earning second team All-Coast honors in 1947, he picked up first team recognition in 1948. In those two seasons, Cal won all but a pair of games and captured the conference championship twice to earn a spot in the Rose Bowl. Baker earned the Vard Stockton Award as Cal's outstanding defensive player in the 1949 Rose Bowl. He also played rugby in 1947 and 1948. After graduating with a degree in civil engineering, he went on to a fine NFL career. Baker was the league's Rookie Defensive Lineman of the Year in 1949 for the New York Giants and an All-Pro in 1951. In 1952, he was named to the Pro Bowl.

STANLEY BARNES (1986)

STEVE BARTKOWSKI (1990)

The only Cal player ever picked No. 1 overall in the NFL Draft, Bartkowski quarterbacked the Bears from 1972-74. As a senior, he led the nation in passing with 2,580 yards, and he completed his career with a then-Cal-record four 300-yard passing games. Cal's Most Valuable Player and a consensus first team All-American in 1974, he was taken first in the 1975 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons, playing in the NFL from 1975-86. In addition, Bartkowski was an All-American first baseman for the Bears baseball team in 1973 and led the squad with a .329 batting average.

VIC BOTTARI (1986)

Nicknamed "Vallejo Vic," Bottari was a starting halfback for Cal from 1936-38 and served as team captain as a senior. He suffered just one defeat in his final two seasons and was a consensus All-American selection in 1938. He finished his career as the third-leading scorer in Cal history with 145 points. Bottari was inducted into the Rose Bowl Hall of Fame in 1996 and is also a member of the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. He later served as president of the San Francisco Touchdown Club.

JIM BREECH (1999)

One of the finest placekickers in both Cal and NFL history, Breech connected on 50 field goals for the Bears from 1974-77 and completed his career as the most accurate collegiate kicker ever inside 40 yards, hitting 30-of-34 efforts. He was a two-time first team All-Pac-8 performer, leading the conference in scoring in 1977 with 82 points. Selected by the Detroit Lions in the 1978 NFL Draft, Breech spent 15 seasons in the league with Oakland (1978-79) and Cincinnati (1980-92), setting an NFL record by scoring in 186 consecutive games.

SAM CHAPMAN (1986)

Chapman was a three-year starter at halfback from 1935-37 and an outstanding player on both sides of the ball. He played on Cal's undefeated 1937 squad and earned first team All-America honors that season. In 1984, he was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. Also an exceptional baseball player, Chapman batted .431 in 1936 and had a long professional career with the Philadelphia Athletics.

JIM "TRUCK" CULLOM (1995)

A first team All-Coast tackle in 1949, Cullom was known as "The Toe" for his kicking abilities. He set a Cal record by scoring in 25 consecutive games from 1947-49 and made 103 PAT attempts during his career. The Bears were 29-3 during his career and went to the Rose Bowl in his junior and senior seasons. Cullom, who played briefly in the NFL, served as an assistant coach with the Bears from 1964-71 under Ray Willsey. He also was a standout rugby player at Cal and helped Doc Hudson coach that team upon his graduation.

SEAN DAWKINS (2005)

Dawkins, a consensus first team All-American wide receiver for Cal teams that earned back-to-back appearances in the Copper and Citrus Bowls following the 1990-91 seasons, snared 65 passes for 1,070 yards and a school-record 14 touchdowns to lead the Pac-10 during his senior season in 1992. Also named first team All-Pac-10 and Cal's Most Valuable Player in 1992, Dawkins was chosen by the Indianapolis Colts in the first round of the 1993 NFL Draft. He played 10 seasons in the NFL with Indianapolis (1993-97), New Orleans (1998), Seattle (1999-2000) and Jacksonville (2001).

CHARLEY ERB (1992)

One of the top quarterbacks in school history, Erb was a leader of Andy Smith's "Wonder Teams" that won consecutive conference championships in 1920, '21 and '22. He had a combined record of 27-0-1 as a starter, during which the Bears outscored their opponents, 1220-81. Erb directed Cal to its first Rose Bowl appearance and No. 1 ranking in 1920. He teamed with Pesky Sprott, Crip Toomey and Duke Morrison to form the highest scoring backfield at Cal, rolling up 72 touchdowns and 510 points during the 1920 season.

ROD FRANZ (1986)

Cal's only three-time first team All-American in football, Franz was Cal's starting right guard from 1947-49. He helped the Bears to a 29-3 cumulative record during those three seasons and back-to-back Rose Bowl appearances in his two campaigns. Also an assistant coach at Cal in 1956 and '57, Franz was elected to the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1977.

WALTER GORDON (1986)

Gordon, a standout tackle and guard, was the first Cal player to achieve national recognition when he was chosen to the Walter Camp third team All-America squad in 1918. He earned three letters in football and helped the Bears to the Pacific Coast Conference championship his senior season. Voted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1975, he also won the intercollegiate boxing title in 1917.

RUSTY GILL (2006)

A versatile three-year letterman, Gill played both fullback and halfback for Cal's football team. He was a dependable back who gained his greatest fame in his senior year, leading Cal to an 8-2 record and second place in the Pacific Cost Conference in 1931. Gill was tabbed with an assortment of All-American honors, including first team by both the New York Sun and the American Football Players, second team by United Press and honorable mention by the Associated Press. A first team All-Coast selection, Gill came from a very athletic family, as brothers Frank, Harry, Sam and Carol all played football at Cal.

PERCY HALL (1993)

Hall was part of one of the top backfields during the early years of Cal football (1896-99), teaming with Locomotive Smith and Kangaroo Pete Kaarsberg. Cal historian Brick Morse selected him as the first team halfback on his 1937 all-time Golden Bear football squad. In 1898, Hall helped Cal to an 8-0-2 record, including the Bears' first Big Game win over Stanford when he gained 183 yards and scored a pair of touchdowns. In addition, he played three years on Cal's baseball team at both first base and in the outfield.

JIM HANIFAN (2006)

Jim Hanifan started three years at defensive end for the Bears, and in 1953 and 1954 he also started at tight end. The Bears' 1954 team captain led the nation in receiving with 44 receptions for 569 yards and seven touchdowns. He received the Andy Smith Trophy for most conference minutes, was a unanimous first team All-Coast honoree and was chosen to the Catholic All-American team. After participating in the East-West Shrine Bowl, the Hula Bowl and the College All-Star game, Hanifan was selected by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League and later starred for the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League. In 1973, he entered the coaching ranks and has been a long-time NFL assistant and is a former NFL head coach.

LOREN HAWLEY (2007)

Loren Hawley played both rugby and football for the Bears from 1961-65 and is known as one of the best American-born rugby players to ever play the game. Tabbed "King of the Lineouts," Hawley helped revolutionize the game with his tremendous aerial skills. Playing for the legendary Miles "Doc" Hudson, he led Cal to an undefeated record vs. U.S. competition in 1965. On the football field, he was an accomplished defensive back and wide receiver.

JACK HART (2010)

A first-team all-conference selection in 1958, Hart served as co-captain the team that won the Pacific Coast Conference and played in the 1959 Rose Bowl. As a running back, he led Cal in rushing (395 yards), receiving (396 yards) and scoring (58 points) his senior season, which was capped with two touchdowns vs. Iowa in the Rose Bowl. He also paced the Bears in scoring as a sophomore (36 points) and junior (36 points). Hart has remained close to Cal and college football since graduating, serving as executive director of the annual East-West Shrine Game and as committee chairman for the Glenn Seaborg Award, which is presented to a distinguished former Cal football player each fall. He is also a past president of Pappy's Boys, an organization of players who played for head coach Pappy Waldorf that continues to support the Golden Bears.

MATT HAZELTINE (1988)

Hazeltine was an All-American center for the Bears in both 1953 and '54, playing under head coach Pappy Waldorf. He also earned Freshman All-America honors in 1951. After graduating from Cal, Hazeltine played 15 years in the NFL, the first 14 with the San Francisco 49ers, and played in a pair of Pro Bowls.

GARY HEIN (1997)

A two-sport star for the Bears, Hein started at cornerback in 1985 and '86. He earned honorable mention All-Pac-10 honors as a senior and accumulated 132 tackles and eight interceptions during his career. Hein, though, gained most of his accolades on the rugby field, where he was a four-time All-American and captured the Woodley Award as the nation's top collegian in both 1987 and '88. He helped Cal to three collegiate titles and also played for the U.S. national team from 1986-94.

BOB HERWIG (1988)

A three-year letterman in both football and basketball from 1935-37, Herwig played on Cal's "Thunder Teams" on the gridiron. He picked up All-America honors at center his senior year and was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1964. On the basketball court, Herwig served as team captain his final year.

EDWIN "BABE" HORRELL (1987)

The starting center on Cal's undefeated "Wonder Teams" in 1923 and '24, Horrell served as captain of the 1924 squad, the same year he earned first team Walter Camp All-American honors. He played a big role in the first game ever contested in Memorial Stadium, tackling a Stanford runner in the end zone for a safety in a 9-0 victory. In 1969, Horrell was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

TALMA "TUT" IMLAY (2000)

A two-year letterman at halfback who played for Andy Smith, Imlay was a third team Walter Camp All-American in 1924. His running and pass-catching abilities helped the '24 squad to a No. 2 national ranking at one juncture and an 8-0-2 overall record. After serving as team captain in 1925, Imlay played in the inaugural East-West Shrine game and scored the game's first touchdown.

JACKIE JENSEN (1986)

One of the greatest athletes ever to play at Cal, Jensen excelled in both football and baseball for the Bears. On the gridiron, he earned first team All-America honors at running back in 1948 when he became the first Cal runner to rush for more than 1,000 yards (1,080 yards). For his career, he finished with 1,703 yards and averaged 6.0 yards per carry. In baseball, he was twice named All-American and helped Cal to the 1947 College World Series title. At the professional level, Jensen was voted the American League MVP while with the Boston Red Sox in 1958. He was voted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1984.

JOE KAPP (1992)

Kapp played both football and basketball for the Bears in the late 1950s before returning as head football coach from 1982-86. As a player, he quarterbacked Cal to the Rose Bowl following the 1958 campaign, a season in which he also earned first team All-American honors. Kapp also lettered in basketball in 1956 and '57. After graduating, he spent eight years in the Canadian Football League before moving to the NFL, where he led the Minnesota Vikings to the Super Bowl IV on January 11, 1970. As head coach of the Bears, he compiled a 20-34-1 record.

GROVER KLEMMER (1988)

A talented all-around athlete, Klemmer lettered in track and field, football and basketball in the early 1940s. Most of his exploits came in track, where he set a world record in the 400 meters (46.0) and the 440 yards (46.4). As anchor for Cal's mile relay in 1941, he helped the Bears to a world record-time of 3:09.4.

PAUL LARSON (1994)

The only Cal quarterback ever to lead the nation in total offense, Larson earned first team All-American honors in 1954 when he also paced the country in passing with 1,537 yards and completed 64.1 percent of his attempts. Larson was 3-0-1 vs. Stanford while at Cal and his 280 passing yards vs. UCLA in 1954 was a school record at the time.

HARRY LIVERSEDGE (1996)

A versatile athlete who made his biggest headlines in track and field, Liversedge also lettered at guard in football in 1916 and in rugby in 1914. He won a bronze medal at the 1920 Olympics in the shot put with a mark of 46-5 1/4 and was an alternate for the 1924 Olympic team. Liversedge went on to a distinguished military career with the U.S. Marines, receiving both a Navy Cross and a Bronze Star and rising to the rank of brigadier general. He also helped lead the Marines ashore during the Iwo Jima campaign in 1944.

BEN LOM (1991)

Lom lettered for the Bears from 1927-29 and earned All-Pacific Coast Conference honors his last two seasons. He was a member of the Cal squad that played in the 1929 Rose Bowl and later served as the first president of the San Francisco chapter of the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. However, he is perhaps best known as the player who tackled Roy Riegels near the goal line on his wrong way run in the '29 Rose Bowl.

MICK LUCKHURST (2005)

Luckhurst was a two-sport standout in rugby and football. He was named tournament MVP when he helped Cal to its first collegiate national rugby title by kicking a pair of penalty kicks and a dropkick to give the Bears a come-from-behind victory over Air Force in 1980. Also a standout placekicker on the Cal football team, he led the Bears in scoring as both a junior (55 points, 9-for-15 in field goals) and senior (60 points, 14-of-17 field goals). He later enjoyed a distinguished career in the NFL, playing for Atlanta from 1981-87.

LAWRENCE LUTZ (2003)

Lutz was voted a first team All-American tackle by the Associated Press, the All-America Board and National American Newspaper Alliance in 1935. With Cal posting a 21-10-2 record during his three years (1933-35) on the team, he served as team captain on the '35 club that finished with a 9-1 mark. Known for his punt-blocking prowess, Lutz blocked punts against Oregon and UCLA his senior year, with both plays leading to winning touchdowns. Lutz also lettered in track and field as a discus thrower his senior year at Cal.

O.C. "CORT" MAJORS (1990)

One of only nine athletes in Cal history to earn letters in three different sports, Majors excelled in football, track and field and baseball from 1918-21. He served as captain of the 1920 football team that went 9-0, including a win over Ohio State in the Rose Bowl. The team's captaincy is now named in his honor. Majors was also a shot put specialist in track and field, and twice lettered as a guard in basketball. He remained active with Cal Athletics after graduation, serving as president of the Big C Society and chairman of the Athletic Council.

DAN McMILLAN (1989)

A key member of Cal's "Wonder Teams" in both 1920 and '21 as a tackle, McMillan helped Cal to an 18-0-1 record and a pair of Rose Bowl appearances during that span. Rivera ended his career with 336 tackles, including 47.5 for loss. Rivera played in the NFL for the Chicago Bears from 1984-92, winning the Super Bowl XX title with the 1985 squad. He was the Bears' Man of the Year for community service in 1990.

STEVE RIVERA (2001)

Steve Rivera wrapped up his Cal career as the school's all-time leading receiver in 1975 with 138 catches as still ranks No. 9 all-time. He played from 1973-75 and was a consensus All-American as a senior. In 1975, he also set Cal's single-season record with 57 catches and his 205 receiving yards in the 1974 Big Game marked the best receiving day in Cal history at the time. Also a rugby player, Rivera played two seasons in the NFL with the San Francisco 49ers (1976-77) and Chicago Bears (1977).

JOE ROTH (2000)

As quarterback, Roth directed Cal to an 8-3 record and the Pac-8 Co-Championship in 1975 when the Bears led the nation in total offense with an average of 458.5 yards per game. A first team All-American in 1976, he passed away in February 1977 after a battle with cancer. Roth's No. 12 is the only retired jersey in the history of Cal football, and he is remembered with a special display in the Cal locker room.

HARVEY SALEM (2004)

Salem, a four-year starting offensive tackle at Cal from 1979-82, earned both first-team All-America and Academic All-America honors his senior season. A two-time first team All-Pac-10 selection, he played on Joe Kapp's 7-4 team in 1982, a year that featured "The Play" in the now-famous Big Game. Drafted in the second round by Houston, Salem played 10 seasons in the NFL with the Oilers (1983-85), Detroit Lions (1986-91) and Denver Broncos (1991-92).

PETE SCHABARUM (1998)

A rugged fullback who was a three-year letterman (1948-50) and an all-conference selection on Cal's 1950 team, Schabarum helped the Bears to a 9-1-1 record and a Rose Bowl berth that season. He went on to play three season (1951, '53-54) with the San Francisco 49ers. Schabarum also lettered in baseball at Cal in 1950.

PERRY SCHWARTZ (2002)

Schwartz earned first team All-American honors as a member of Cal's 1937 team that played in the Rose Bowl to start the new year. Perhaps his finest moment came in Pasadena when he forced an Alabama punt returner to fumble, a play that set up a Bear touchdown in Cal's 13-0 victory. Schwartz also displayed his talents on the tennis court, where he lettered for the Bears in 1934 and '35.

BERT SCHWARZ (1996)

Schwarz was a first team All-American for the Bears in 1929 when the club was 7-1-1. A two-year starter at guard, he helped Cal to a 6-2-2 record and a Rose Bowl appearance following the 1928 season.

ANDY SMITH (1986)

One of the finest football coaches in the history of the game, Smith is Cal's all-time winningest coach and led the Golden Bears to a 74-16-7 record from 1916-25. His "Wonder Teams" posted a 50-game unbeaten string (46-0-4) during one stretch, and he guided the Bears to Rose Bowl appearances in 1920 and '21. Smith was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1951.

WARREN "LOCOMOTIVE" SMITH (1995)

Smith lettered in three sports at Cal - football, baseball, track and field - between 1898-1901. He was regarded as the top back on the West Coast at the turn of the century and led Cal to its first two wins over Stanford. Smith served as captain of both the football and baseball teams, and he was a hammer thrower during track season.

PESKY SPROTT (1993)

Sprott was a standout in both football and track and field from 1918-20. He lettered on the gridiron three times as a running back and punter. Also a middle distance runner, Sprott was the PCC champion in the 800 meters in 1920 and earned a spot on the U.S. Olympic team that year, finishing sixth in the 800.

VARD STOCKTON (2005)

Stockton, who died in an auto accident in 1946, earned first team All-American, All-Pacific Coast Conference and All-West Coast honors on Cal's 1937 football team that registered a 10-0-1 record, including a 13-0 win over Alabama in the Rose Bowl. Noted for his blocking ability that opened holes for the likes of Vic Bottari and Sam Chapman, perhaps his most shining moment came in the 1936 Big Game when he stole the ball from Stanford's Jimmy Coffis to set up a touchdown in Cal's 13-0 win over its cross-town rival.

JIM TURNER (1996)

Turner was a first team All-American tackle in both 1948 and '49. He served as captain of the '49 team that finished 10-1 and earned a Rose Bowl date with Ohio State. Turner overcame a knee injury his senior season after having one of his ribs removed prior to his final campaign because of a tumor.

CARL VAN HEUIT (1992)

One of the top safeties in college football, Van Heuit played on Pappy Waldorf's Rose Bowl teams of 1949 and '50, Van Heuit was a 1950 All-American for the Bears. He also earned the team's Vard Stockton Award for being the outstanding defensive player in the two bowl games. Following graduation, Van Heuit served as an assistant coach at Cal for six seasons and as a volunteer freshman coach for another 20 years. He was selected the Bear Backer "Bear of the Year" in 1988.

FRANK "BUD" VAN DEREN (2004)

A 1948 first team all-conference end, Van Deren played on Cal clubs that posted a 19-2 record during his two seasons (1947-48). Also selected to Cal's Centennial Team, he starred on a 1948 squad that registered a 10-1 mark and earned a share of the Pacific Coast Conference championship. Van Deren also coached on Pappy Waldorf's 1950 and '51 Rose Bowl teams, returned to Cal in the 1960s to coach on Ray Willsey's staff, and later served as head coach at Humboldt State for 26 years.

PAPPY WALDORF (1987)

Head coach at Cal from 1947-56, Waldorf compiled a 67-32-4 record. In his first four seasons, his teams lost only one regular season game and played in three Rose Bowls. Between 1947 and 1951, Waldorf's teams played 38 consecutive regular season games without a defeat. He also has the best record of any Cal coach in the Big Game with a 7-1-2 mark. Waldorf was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1966.

WESLEY WALKER (1992)

One of the greatest deep threats in Cal history, Walker was a prolific receiver for the Bears from 1973-76, in addition to starring on the track and field team for four years. He set an NCAA record for highest average gain per catch in a career (minimum 75 catches) at 25.7 ypc. Walker finished his career with 86 receptions for 2,206 yards and 23 touchdowns, with his greatest game coming against San Jose State in 1976 when he had eight grabs for a school record 289 receiving yards. He went on to a 13-year NFL career with the New York Jets (1977-89) and played in a pair of Pro Bowls.

ED WHITE (1993)

White earned first team All-American status at nose guard in 1968, playing on Cal's "Bear Minimum" defense that allowed opponents an average of only 3.6 yards per play. At the NFL level, he switched to the offensive line. White played in four Super Bowls and made four Pro Bowls while playing for the Minnesota Vikings (1969-77) and San Diego Chargers (1978-85) over a 17-year pro career. White returned to Cal to coach the offensive line from 1999-2001.

MIKE WHITE (2007)

A varsity letterman in football, rugby, and track and field at Cal from 1955-57, Mike White also served as the Bears' head football coach from 1972-77, compiling a 35-30-1 record and leading the team to a share of the 1975 Pac-8 title. As an undergraduate, White played wide receiver and was a team captain as a senior in 1957. On the track, he won the high hurdles and high jump competition in the 1957 Big Meet vs. Stanford. In addition to his three varsity sports, White also earned a pair of junior varsity letters for Pete Newell in basketball.

RUSSELL WHITE (2003)

White is Cal's all-time rushing leader with 3,367 yards and averaged 5.1 yards per carry during his three years in Berkeley from 1990-92. He was a key member of the 1991 team that posted a 10-2 record, including a 37-13 victory over Clemson in the Citrus Bowl, and earned a No. 7 final national ranking by USA Today. A first team All-American in 1991 and a two-time first team All-Pac-10 selection, White led the Bears in rushing in both 1991 (1,177 yards, 14 TDs) and 1992 (1,069 yards, 9 TDs). He registered 15 100-yard rushing days during his Cal career, tied for second all-time at Cal.

SHERMAN WHITE (1989)

Sherman White had played little football before coming to Berkeley as a sophomore in 1969. In his second year with the team (1970), he sacked opponent quarterbacks 18 times, including Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett twice in the Big Game. He also knocked down five passes, made 44 unassisted tackles and aided in 31 others. He was named first team All-Coast and All-Pac-8. As a team captain in 1971, he earned All-American honors, as well as All-Pac-8 recognition for the second straight year, when he registered 75 tackles and three pass breakups. White was the second pick overall in the 1972 NFL Draft by Cincinnati and played four seasons for the Bengals (1972-75) before playing eight more campaigns with the Buffalo Bills (1976-83) to round out his career.

ARLEIGH WILLIAMS (2004)

Williams starred in both football and baseball in the 1930s and earned first team All-American notice as a senior halfback in 1934. Williams finished his career with 1,404 yards on 526 carries. Williams lettered on the 1934 and 1935 Cal baseball teams, with both clubs finishing first in the conference and combining for a 45-15-1 record during that period.

JACK YERMAN (1994)

Yerman lettered as a running back in 1957 and 1958, helping Cal to a 1959 Rose Bowl appearance in his senior season. On the track, he was one of the top quarter-milers in the nation, running a best of 46.0 in the 400 meters. Yerman won an Olympic gold medal as part of the U.S. 1600-meter relay team in 1960 and also competed as an individual in the 400. He finished third in the NCAA 440 yards in 1958.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL FOUNDATION

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

The California Golden Bears depicted on this page have earned the highest honor accorded a collegiate football player – membership into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. California's proud gridiron tradition is showcased by a total of 22 Golden Bears enshrined in this prestigious Hall of Fame, a number which ranks the Blue and Gold among the top schools in the country.

Housed in South Bend, Ind., the College Football Hall of Fame first opened its doors in 1978 and is open to the public year-round.

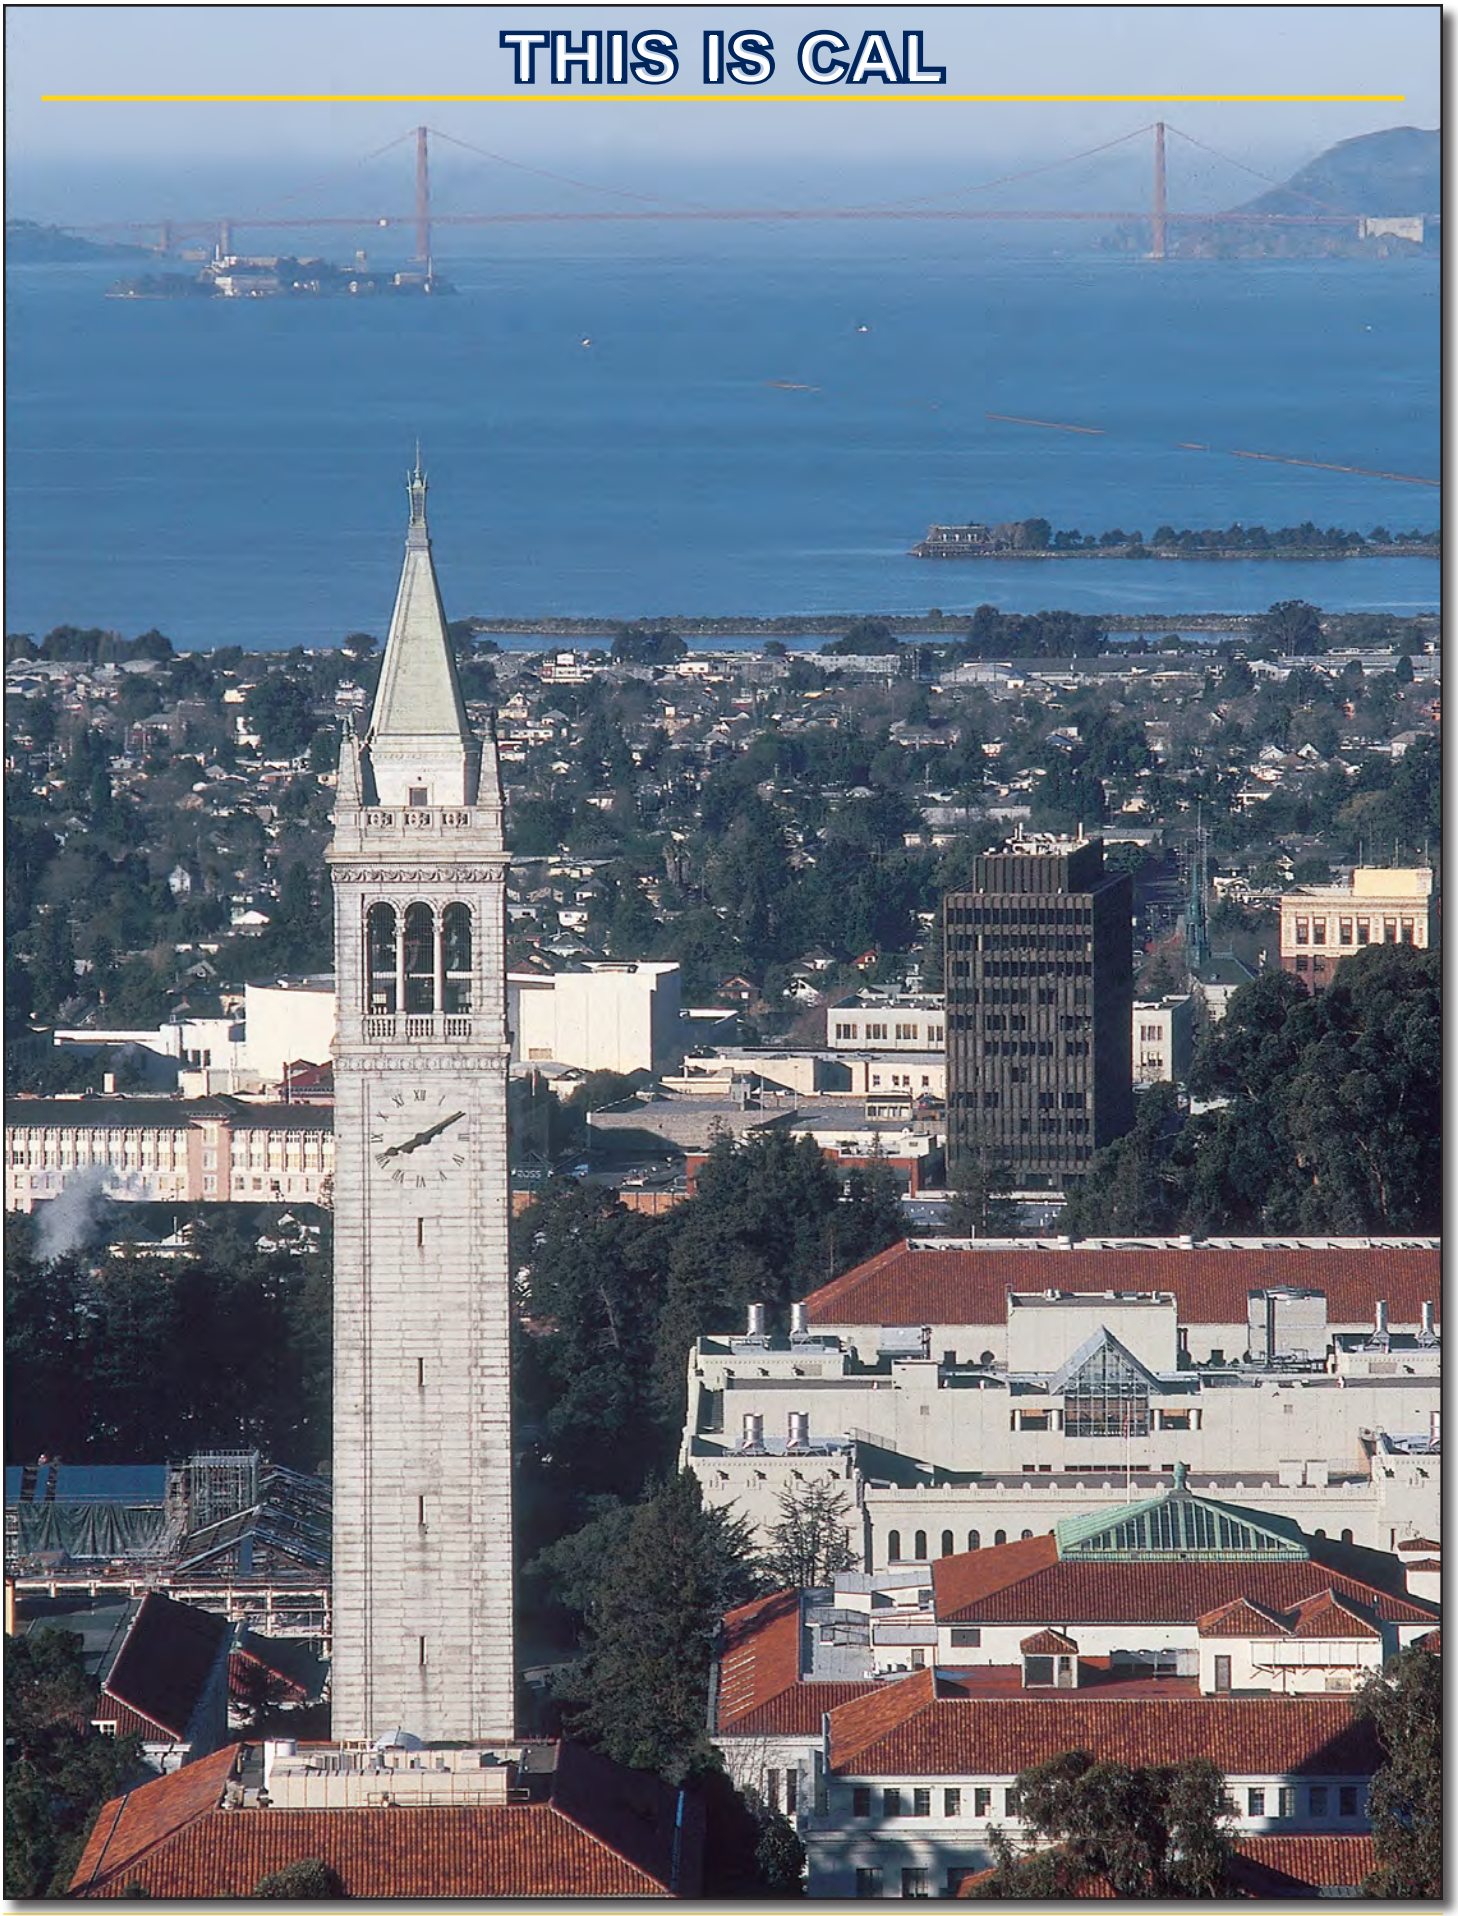
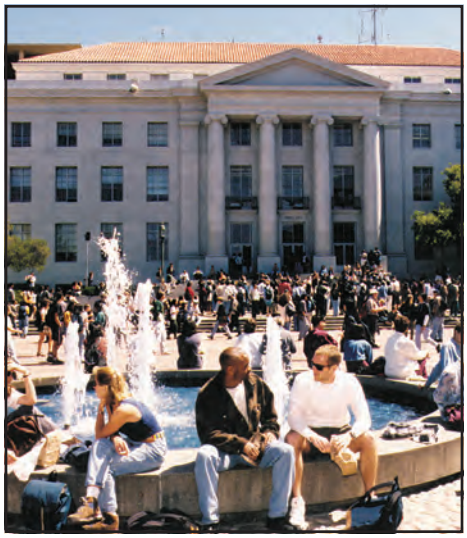
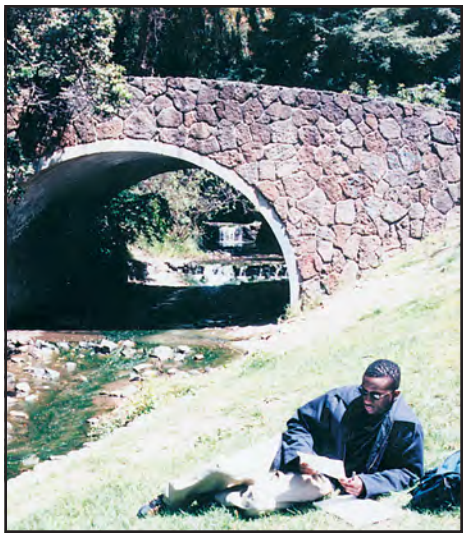
THIS IS CAL



THE UNIVERSITY





Founded in the wake of the gold rush by leaders of the newly established 31st state, the University of California's flagship campus at Berkeley has become one of the preeminent universities in the world. Its early guiding lights, charged with providing education (both "practical" and "classical") for the state's people, gradually established a distinguished faculty (with 22 Nobel laureates to date, inlcuding nine current faculty), a stellar research library, and 350 academic degree programs.

This California institution became a catalyst of economic growth and social innovation – the place where vitamin E was discovered, a lost Scarlatti opera found, the flu virus identified, and the nation's first no-fault divorce law drafted. Scholars at Cal have conducted ground-breaking research on urban street gangs and on basic human nutritional requirements, identified why wartime supply ships were failing at sea, invented technologies to build faster and cheaper computer chips, and imaged the infant universe.

In recognition of broad and deep excellence, respected sources have repeatedly ranked the University at or near the top in fields ranging from engineering and the "hard" sciences to the social sciences, arts and humanities. The National Research Council, in the most recent version of its highly-regarded report on U.S. public and private universities, ranked Cal No. 1 nationally in the number of campus graduate programs (48 out of 52) among the top 10 in their fields.

In accordance with the University's "public" character, Cal has long served talented individuals regardless of means. As early as 1897, financial aid was available for "needy and deserving" students. More than a century later, Cal combines outstanding teaching and research programs with broad access for students of all means – educating more federal Pell Grant recipients from low-income families than all eight Ivy League universities combined. Twenty-five percent of freshmen are the first in their families to attend college.

CAL STUDENT-ATHLETE FACTS

- Nearly half (48.3%) of Cal's student-athletes earned a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher. Divided by gender, they break out as follows: 166 men (38.2%) and 187 women (62.9%) earned a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher.
- Five of the 14 men's teams (35.7%) and 12 of the 15 women's teams (80%) earned cumulative GPAs of 3.0 or higher.
- Nine of the 14 men's teams (42%) and 10 of the 15 women's teams (80%) earned cumulative team GPAs higher than their historical average.
- Nearly 50 percent of the University's student-athletes were honored at halftime of men's basketball and football games for earning a fall 2011 term GPA over 3.0.
- Over 80% of Jeff Tedford's first football recruiting class has graduated.
- Nine teams scored perfect Academic Progress Rates for the 2008-09 academic year.
- Eight teams received national recognition for their Academic Progress Rates over the last two years.

CAL FACTS

- Berkeley has one of the top university librariy systems in the nation. With well over 11 million volumes and more than 400 special collections, Berkeley's library holdings among its 32 libraries are the fourth-largest in the United States and have been ranked first in the nation among public libraries.
- There are over 1,600 clubs on campus from which students may choose.

DISCOVERIES AND CONTRIBUTIONS BY UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA SCHOLARS

1887 • EARTHQUAKE SCIENCE

1892 • SIERRA CLUB

The Sierra Club is co-founded by John Muir; UC Berkeley professors Joseph LeConte, J. Henry Senger, and Cornelius Beach Bradley; Stanford University's David Starr Jordan; artist William Keith; and attorney Warren Olney. Many of the club's 182 charter members are scientists, and LeConte's maps of the Sierra range are among its first publications.

grapes M.E. Jaffe becomes the first professor of nutrition in the United States. UC Berkeley quickly moves to the top in this field, making important contributions to the emerging understanding of the positive dietary role of vitamins, minerals, and protein, and the negative role of cholesterol and fats.

1904 • RUBE GOLDBERG

Rube Goldberg receives his engineering degree. Goldberg subsequently achieves immortality, and a Pulitzer Prize, for his drawings making light of the discipline he studied. The cartoonist's absurdly complex mechanisms for accomplishing simple tasks have become so ingrained in popular culture that his name appears in the dictionary as an adjective.

1907 • CLEANER SMOKESTACKS

Frederick G. Cottrell, professor of chemistry, develops an electrical precipitation device to clean smokestack emissions; it is still in use today.

1914-20 • YOSEMITE WILDLIFE SURVEY AU91DIO

owl Joseph Grinnell, the founding Director of the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology, and zoology professor Tracy Storer conduct a landmark survey of Sierra Nevada birds, mammals, reptiles, and amphibians, from the Central Valley through Yosemite Valley to Mono Lake. This early work makes it possible for subsequent generations to compare species diversity to the baseline data (see, for instance, the recent Grinnell Resurvey Project.) In a colorful audio narrative, Ward Russell recounts what it was like to be in the field with Grinnell.

1922 • VITAMIN E

1924 • DEEP-SEA DIVING

Chemist Joel H. Hildebrand formulates a mixture of helium and oxygen for deep-sea diving, enabling divers to explore deeper into the sea than ever before, without experiencing the "bends."

1930S • FRUIT COCKTAIL

After working his way through school doing odd jobs, William (Vere) Cruess becomes a professor, a food technologist, and chair of the "Division of Fruit Products" at Berkeley. There he invents the canned-fruit cocktail. A transcript (PDF) of Cruess's oral history, produced by the Regional Oral History Office, is online.

1930S • STATISTICAL THEORY

Math professor Jerzy Neyman becomes one of the founders of modern statistical theory, whose applications range from designing the census to assessing the outcome of medical trials. With British statistician Egon Pearson, Neyman develops a method for choosing the most effective test of a hypothesis, and later develops foundational statistical-theory concepts.

1931 • THE CYCLOTRON

Ernest Lawrence Ernest O. Lawrence designs the first cyclotron, launching the scientific use of particle physics to discover the fundamental structure of matter. The cyclotron has a major impact on the treatment of diseases, making it possible to create in large quantities the radioactive isotopes used in medical treatments. In 1939, Lawrence becomes UC Berkeley's first Nobel laureate.

1935 • VITAMIN K

Herman J. Almquist with Berkeley's Division of Poultry Husbandry discovers and synthesizes vitamin K, a biomolecule necessary for blood to clot properly. The manuscript announcing the discovery is rejected by Science magazine, creating a critical delay that allows Henrik Dam of Copenhagen to beat Almquist to publication and become known as the vitamin's discoverer.

1937 • NUCLEAR MEDICINE

1940S • CARBON-14 AND PHOTOSYNTHESIS

A team led by chemist Melvin Calvin resolves the riddle of photosynthesis, tracing the pathways by which plants use sunlight to convert carbon dioxide to carbohydrates. As part of this effort, Calvin discovers that carbon-14 can be used as a molecular tracer, and uses it to reveal the path of carbon as it travels through a plant. In 1961, Calvin is awarded the Nobel Prize in chemistry.

1940S • FLU VACCINE

1941 • TRANSURANIC ELEMENTS

1943 • THE ATOMIC BOMB

1944 • BOVINE-GROWTH HORMONE

Bovine-growth hormone is first purified by the Institute of Experimental Biology's Herbert Evans and Choh Hao Li paving the way for the purification of human-growth hormone and, 30 years later, the cloning of human-growth hormone by scientists at UC San Francisco.

1947-55 • LIPOPROTEINS AND HEART DISEASE

heart John Gofman, medical physics professor, and his former doctoral students Frank Lindgren and Alex Nichols, discover and name the various lipoprotein classes — such as low-density lipoproteins (LDL), today referred to as "bad" cholesterol, and "good" high-density lipoproteins (HDL) — and discover the role of LDL and HDL in heart disease. The ratio of HDL to LDL is a strong indicator of heart-disease risk, they report. Gofman and Nichols also conduct dietary studies showing that people respond differently to diets high in fat and cholesterol, depending on their lipoprotein profiles.

1951 • INSECT CONTROL

Professor Edward Steinhaus, a pioneer in the field of insect pathology, uses bacteria to attack a caterpillar that infests alfalfa. This is the first successful use of an insect pathogen to control insects in the field. Today these bacteria, Bacillus thuringiensis, are used worldwide to fight crop disease; the bacteria secrete a toxin that kills insects, and genetic-engineering companies insert the gene for this toxin into plants, producing crops with a built-in insect resistance.

1952 • WETSUITS

Physicist Hugh Bradner invents the first wetsuit. The new protective garment helps to spawn new sports such as board sailing and body boarding; transform commercial, military, and recreational deep-sea diving; and advance understanding of oceans.

1954 THE POLIO VIRUS

1960 • MASTER PLAN FOR HIGHER EDUCATION SLIDESHOW

Clark Kerr The state Legislature approves the California Master Plan for Higher Education. Its chief architect is UC President Clark Kerr, an industrial-relations expert who served as Berkeley's first chancellor from 1952 to 1958. Clark's education blueprint promises California students from all walks of life, regardless of financial means, access to college; the Master Plan continues to guide the state's public higher education to this day and has served as a model nationwide.

1961• GROUND-FAULT INTERRUPTER

Charles Dalziel, a professor of electrical engineering and computer sciences, invents a ground-fault interrupter, a device now found in virtually every home and building to protect people from electrical shocks caused by defects in appliances or grounding systems.

1964 • FREE SPEECH MOVEMENT

Free Speech Movement protest Inspired by the Civil Rights movement and fueled by opposition to the war in Vietnam, Berkeley students organize against rules limiting their political activities on campus. Asserting their Constitutional rights, Free Speech Movement activists hold a series of demonstrations and actions for the right to use Sproul Plaza for political discussion and the dissemination of political literature. The student movement compels the university to drop restrictions on speech, a reform subsequently adopted by most other U.S. campuses.

1966-1969 • NO-FAULT DIVORCE

Herma Hill Kay Herma Hill Kay, a faculty member at Boalt Hall, co-drafts California's 1970 no-fault divorce law, the first of its kind in the nation. The law eliminates the need to place blame on a spouse for a failed marriage and makes "irreconcilable differences" sufficient ground for divorce. Eventually, every state in the nation enacts some version of no-fault divorce. Kay later serves as the first female dean of the law school (1992-2000).

1967 • MOLECULAR EVOLUTION

DNA double helix Biochemist Allan Wilson founds the field of molecular evolution, using genetic material, rather than fossils, to investigate the origins of humanity. In 1967, Wilson and doctoral student Vincent Sarich show that proteins evolve and change as life evolves, and consequently can serve as a "molecular clock" to measure the evolutionary relationships between animals, such as between gorillas, chimpanzees, and humans. In the early 1980s, Wilson and colleagues defy conventional thinking (which dates human origins to some 25 million years ago); they trace humans back to common ancestors in sub-Saharan Africa some 200,000 years ago. Today, scientists compare DNA to determine evolutionary family trees.

1970S • ONCOGENES

Molecular and cell biologists Peter Duesberg discovers the first cancer-causing gene, or "oncogene," in a virus. Dubbed src, it is implicated in many human cancers. The oncogene hypothesis is now the most widely held scientific theory of the origin of cancer.

1971 • BIRTH OF BIOTECH

1971 • HUMAN PITUITARY GROWTH HORMONE

1972 • COMPUTER-AIDED CIRCUIT DESIGN

A team led by Donald O. Pederson develops the Simulation Program with Integrated Circuit Emphasis (SPICE) — a tool that, along with its derivatives, has been used in the design of almost every integrated circuit since its invention. "Let's SPICE this circuit and see if it works," engineers say.

MID-1970S • MATERIALS-DATING TECHNIQUES

Richard Muller Physics professor Richard A. Muller invents a new method of detecting radioactivity in natural materials. Still widely used to date archaeologic and geologic materials as well as works of art, the method, accelerator mass spectrometry, is faster and more accurate than standard carbon-14 dating.

1973 • IDENTIFYING CARCINOGENS

Biochemist Bruce Ames develops a quick, economical test to identify chemicals that damage DNA, and thus are potential carcinogens. The most widely used test for identifying carcinogenic substances, the Ames Test, as it is known, has prevented many dangerous drugs, chemicals, and products from reaching the market.

1977 • BERKELEY UNIX AND THE BIRTH OF OPEN-SOURCE SOFTWARE COMPUTER MONITOR

In 1969, Berkeley electrical-engineering alum Kenneth Thompson and his colleagues at Bell Labs write a new operating system for machines, UNIX. In 1971, Berkeley Professor Bob Fabry buys a $99 copy of UNIX and provides it to a group of students, including Bill Joy, who modify the original code to include a number of new features. In 1977, Joy releases Berkeley UNIX under the Berkeley Software Distribution moniker, and encourages a world of hackers to improve it. The team incorporates these upgrades into future releases — creating a revolutionary new paradigm for software development and distribution, now known as Open Source, which makes source code available for anyone to build upon and improve.

1978 • BETA-ENDORPHIN

1980 DEMISE OF THE DINOSAURS

Scientists offer evidence that an asteroid or comet struck our planet 65 million years ago, causing the extinction of the dinosaurs and profoundly altering Earth's environment. The seminal 1980 Science paper was authored by Nobel laureate and professor of physics Luis Alvarez, a senior scientist at Lawrence Berkeley Lab; his son Walter Alvarez, UC Berkeley geologist; and LBL's Frank Asaro and Helen Michels.

1980 • POET NOBELIST

Czeslaw Milosz Poet Czeslaw Milosz receives the Nobel Prize in literature, UC Berkeley's first Nobel outside the sciences. A native of Poland who obtained political asylum in France before becoming a Berkeley professor in 1961, his work was prohibited by Poland's communist government; the ban falls apart when Milosz is awarded the Nobel and becomes a national hero in his homeland. Later, Milosz's poems are placed on the monument to fallen shipyard workers in Gdańsk.

1981 • CPU DESIGN

Computer scientist David Patterson directs a project that produces a simpler, cheaper, faster approach to the design of computer central processing units (CPUs). This "reduced instruction set computer" (RISC) makes CPUs more efficient.

1985 • TELOMERASE

Telomerase, an enzyme that promotes cell division and growth, is discovered by molecular and cell biologist Elizabeth H. Blackburn, Berkeley grad student Carol Greider, and Harvard's Jack Szostak. In 2009, the three are awarded the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine.

1988 • MICROSCOPIC MOTORS

1990 • GENES AND BREAST CANCER

1992 • REVOLUTION IN TELESCOPE DESIGN

Keck Observatory UC astronomers led by Jerry Nelson co-develop the world's largest telescope, the W.M. Keck Telescope, atop Mauna Kea, a dormant volcano on the island of Hawaii. Revolutionary in design, the Keck's primary mirror is composed of 36 hexagonal segments that join to form a single, honeycombed piece of reflective glass.

1994 • SPOUSAL RAPE LAW

1995 • U.S. POET LAUREATE

1995 TO PRESENT • PLANET HUNT

Astronomer Geoff Marcy is a pioneer and leader in the discovery of planets beyond our own solar system. With the discovery of more than 200 exoplanets, Marcy's efforts to find and characterize their orbits and masses leads to a new understanding of the formation of planets and planetary systems.

1998 • AN ACCELERATING UNIVERSE

Observing distant, ancient exploding stars, Berkeley cosmologists Saul Perlmutter, Adam Riess, Alex Filippenko and international colleagues determine that the universe is expanding at an accelerating rate — a striking, counter-intuitive observation that implies the existence of a mysterious, self-repelling property of space known as "dark energy."

1998 • PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEERS

2000 • NOBEL IN ECONOMICS

2001 • NOBEL IN ECONOMICS

George Akerlof wins the Nobel Prize in economics, for work showing how markets malfunction when buyers and sellers have access to different information.

2003 • MARK TWAIN ONLINE

2006 • MEDICINE FOR MALARIA MOSQUITO

A group led by chemical engineer Jay Keasling clears a major hurdle to creating a widely affordable version of the life-saving antimalarial drug artemisinin. He does this by successfully engineering the production of artemisinic acid, which is one chemical alteration away from artemisinin.

2006 • THE "SEEDS" OF THE MODERN UNIVERSE SLIDESHOW

In 1992, a team led by cosmologist George Smoot obtains the earliest images of the infant universe and observes minute variations in temperature across the sky, revealing the early beginnings of galaxies and clusters of galaxies. These findings confirm the predictions of the Big Bang theory. In 2006, Smoot is awarded the Nobel Prize in Physics, becoming the most recent of Berkeley's 20 Nobel laureates.

2007 • BIOFUELS

2000 TO PRESENT • SATELLITE OPERATIONS

2009 • NEW INSTITUTIONAL ECONOMICS

Oliver Williamson's research on economic governance, especially the "boundaries of the firm," opens an analytic window into the "make or buy" decisions that all businesses face. A co-founder of the field of New Institutional Economics, Williamson is awarded the Nobel Prize in economics in 2009.

CAMPUS ADMINISTRATION

ROBERT J. BIRGENEAU

UNIVERSITY CHANCELLOR

Robert J. Birgeneau became the ninth chancellor of the University of California, Berkeley, on September 22, 2004. An internationally distinguished physicist, he is a leader in higher education and is well known for his commitment to diversity and equity in the academic community.

Before coming to Berkeley, Birgeneau served four years as president of the University of Toronto. He previously was Dean of the School of Science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he spent 25 years on the faculty. He is a fellow of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences, the Royal Society of London, the American Philosophical Society and other scholarly societies. He has received many awards for teaching and research and is one of the most cited physicists in the world for his work on the fundamental properties of materials.

In 2006, Birgeneau received a special Founders Award from the American Academy of Arts and Sciences along with President John Hennessy of Stanford University and filmmaker George Lucas. Established in the 225th anniversary year of the Academy, this award honors men, women and institutions that have advanced the ideals and embody the spirit of the Academy founders – a commitment to intellectual inquiry, leadership and active engagement. In 2008, Birgeneau and President Nancy Kantor of Syracuse University received the 2008 Carnegie Corporation Academic Leadership Award as "Champions of Excellence and Equity in Education." Most recently, Birgeneau was one of three recipients of the Shinnyo-en Foundation's 2009 Pathfinders to Peace Prize for his contributions to bringing about a more peaceful world. The foundation singled out Birgeneau for his "commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion and to the integration of public service as an essential component of the academic experience." In 2009, Birgeneau became Chair of the Council of Presidents, Universities Research Association, Inc.

A Toronto native, Birgeneau received his B.Sc. in mathematics from the University of Toronto in 1963 and his Ph.D. in physics from Yale University in 1966. He served on the faculty of Yale for one year, spent one year at Oxford University, and was a member of the technical staff at Bell Laboratories from 1968 to 1975. He joined the physics faculty at MIT in 1975 and was named Chair of the Physics Department in 1988 and Dean of Science in 1991. He became the 14th president of the University of Toronto on July 1, 2000.

At Berkeley, Birgeneau holds faculty appointments in the departments of physics and materials science and engineering in addition to serving as chancellor.

He and his wife, Mary Catherine, have four grown children and nine grandchildren.

JOHN WILTON

VICE CHANCELLOR – ADMINISTRATION & FINANCE

John Wilton began his new position as UC Berkeley's vice chancellor for administration & finance on February 1, 2011. Before coming to Cal, Vice Chancellor Wilton was a managing director and the director of international research for Farallon Capital Management LLC, a global, multi-strategy, U.S.-based investment management firm. He was also an advisor on developments in the global economy to Hellman and Friedman LLC, a private investment company. Prior to his employment at Farallon, he worked for the World Bank for 24 years. At the Bank, he served in positions including chief financial officer, vice president for strategy, finance and risk management, and senior economist.

As the vice chancellor – administration & finance, John is responsible for managing the University's annual operating budget of more than $1.8 billion, the continuing design and implementation of Operational Excellence, stabilization of the campus budget, and establishment of a sustainable financial model for the future. In addition, the divisions he oversees comprise nearly 2,400 employees and campus operations that include financial and human resources, auxiliary and business services, athletics, and environment, health and public safety.

Wilton, a British national, received his bachelor's and master's degrees in economics from Sussex University. He left his Ph.D. program at Cambridge University in 1982 to join the World Bank's Young Professionals Program, and remained with the international financial institution until 2006.

BOB G. JACOBSEN

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE

Bob G. Jacobsen, a Professor of Physics, serves as Cal's faculty athletics representative.

Appointed to the position in 2010, Jacobsen provides oversight and advice to Cal Athletics concerning compliance with NCAA rules and student-athlete academic matters. He is empowered by the NCAA to represent Cal in dealings with both the NCAA and the Pac-12, and advises the chancellor on campus policies relating to student-athletes.

Jacobsen spent 1976 through 1986 working in the computer and data communications industry for a small company that was successively bought out by larger and larger companies before he returned to graduate school. From 1991-94, he was a scientific associate and scientific staff member at CERN, the European Laboratory for Nuclear Physics, in Geneva, Switzerland. While there, he was a member of the ALEPH collaboration concentrating on B physics and on the energy calibration of the LEP collider. He joined the faculty at Cal in 1995.

Among Jacobsen's honors at the University are its Distinguished Teaching Award, the Noyce Prize for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching and the Goldman Award for Distinguished Faculty Advising of Undergraduates. He has delivered lectures on his research activities on four continents and taught special classes for graduate students at 11 universities.

Jacobsen's research has studied the basic properties of the Universe using the techniques of particle physics. Upon arrival at Berkeley he joined the BaBar experiment, a worldwide collaboration of more than 500 scientists and engineers who built a device to study the fundamental interactions of matter and antimatter. During its run from 1999-2006, the experiment accumulated the world's largest sample of particles for studying the intrinsic difference between matter and antimatter.

His current project, the LUX collaboration, is installing a detector 4,000 feet underground in the Homestake Mine in South Dakota to study dark matter, which comprises the majority of the Universe yet is largely unknown.

Jacobsen obtained a B.S.E.E. from MIT in 1978 and his Ph.D. in experimental high-energy physics from Stanford in 1991.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

SANDY BARBOUR

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Director of Athletics at the University of California since the fall of 2004, Sandy Barbour has guided Cal Athletics through one of the most successful periods in school history, a tenure marked by championships, innovation, facility modernization and revenue growth.

Under her direction, the athletic department has become one of the consistently elite programs in the country, all while maintaining its commitment to a mission that seeks to match its level of excellence with that attained by the entire institution.

Built upon four pillars – to teach, to serve, to compete and to excel – Cal Athletics strives to combine high athletic achievement with the academic rigors of the No. 1 public university in the country, and to do so with integrity, passion, respect, teamwork, innovation, diversity and professionalism. The department is charged not only to be a campus and community leader, but also to be a place where individuals can grow to their utmost potential. In other words, "Athletics done right," to use one of Barbour's favorite phrases.

During Barbour's eight years overseeing Cal's 29-sport program that supports nearly 850 student-athletes, Golden Bears have captured 17 team national titles and another 81 individual crowns. Cal has also finished among the top 10 schools in the annual Directors' Cup standings six times, including a program-best third in 2011, and revenues in ticket sales, sponsorships and fundraising have all reached record levels.

Among Cal's many team athletic accomplishments are a 2006 Pac-12 co-championship and seven bowl-game invitations in football; the men's basketball team's first conference title in 50 years in 2009-10; a first-ever NCAA Sweet 16 berth in women's basketball in 2009; and two trips to the national semifinals in volleyball. Just this past year, the men's and women's swimming & diving teams both won NCAA titles for the second consecutive season, and Golden Bears captured a total of 14 individual championships.

Under Barbour's leadership, two major facility projects designed to benefit both student-athletes and fans opened over the past year, starting in the fall of 2011 with the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance, a state-of-the-art student-athlete training, coaching, and applied sports science and sports medicine center that supports daily needs of football and 12 Olympic sports programs. The 142,000-square-foot facility embodies the High Performance Initiative, Cal's innovative performance philosophy designed to build competitive advantage, maximize efficiency and enhance the student-athlete experience.

Barely a year later, California Memorial Stadium welcomed Cal fans back to Strawberry Canyon after the historic facility underwent a $321 million renovation and seismic retrofit that brings the facility up to modern standards while honoring the historic nature of the building.

On the academic front, the average GPA for Cal's 29 teams is 3.0 with volleyball producing a 3.40 GPA for the 2011-12 academic year, over 175 student-athletes annually earn academic all-conference notice, and 10 teams have received national recognition for their NCAA Academic Progress Rates over the last three years.

One of the "100 Most Influential Women in Business" in the Bay Area according to the San Francisco Business Times, Barbour was named a regional Athletic Director of the Year for 2008-09 by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), and she was a finalist for National AD of the Year at the Sports Business Awards. Barbour was previously chosen a 2006 Woman of Distinction by the East Bay Business Times and the 2006 National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWAA) Division I-A National Administrator of the Year.

Barbour is an active member of several committees on both the national and conference levels. In July 2010, she was selected as the Pac-12 representative to the NCAA Division I Leadership Council, a four-year appointment. She chairs the Pac-12 Revenue Sharing Committee and serves on the conference's Compliance & Enforcement and Diversity Leadership Initiatives. Barbour is also on the NACDA Executive Committee, the NCAA Diversity Leadership Strategic Planning Committee, the NCAA Women's Basketball Discussion Group and the WBCA Defensive Player of the Year Selection Committee.

In the past, Barbour has also served as the chair of the Pac-10 Budget and Finance Committee, been a member of the Pac-10 Executive Committee and the Pac-10 Television Committee, and was vice president of the conference in 2007-08.

Prior to moving to Berkeley, Barbour was the deputy director of athletics at Notre Dame, serving as the university's senior athletic administrator from July 2002 to September 2004. She previously held an associate athletic director position there starting in 2000.

Barbour's career in intercollegiate athletic administration spans more than 30 years, beginning as a field hockey assistant coach and lacrosse administrative assistant at the University of Massachusetts in 1981. She has since served as assistant athletic director at Northwestern and in 1991 was recruited to Tulane as an associate athletic director.

In 1996, Barbour was appointed Tulane's director of athletics at age 36, and during her three years overseeing the program, Green Wave teams won 12 conference championships. In her first year in the position, the school captured four conference titles, a feat never before accomplished in Tulane history. She also hired Tommy Bowden as head football coach during her first year. Bowden proceeded in 1997 to post the Green Wave's first winning season (7-4) in 16 years, and then directed the school to a 12-0 record, a Conference USA championship and a No. 7 national ranking the following season as the 1998 Liberty Bowl champions.

In her position at Notre Dame, Barbour oversaw facilities and event operations for the school's 26-sport program, including football game management and the department's two golf courses. She was also responsible for developing, maintaining and implementing Notre Dame's $127 million athletics facilities master plan.

Additionally, her role at Notre Dame included responsibilities for women's lacrosse, men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track, men's and women's swimming and men's golf. She also assisted with the administration of women's basketball.

Born Dec. 2, 1959, in Annapolis, Md., Barbour grew up in a military family. Her father was a career aviator in the U.S. Navy, and her family lived in various U.S. locations as well as in Western Europe during her childhood.

Barbour graduated cum laude in 1981 with a B.S. degree in physical education from Wake Forest, where she was a four-year letterwinner and served as captain of the field hockey team. She also played two varsity seasons of women's basketball.

Barbour earned advanced degrees at both Massachusetts (an M.S. in sports management in 1983) and Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management (an MBA in 1991).

Between master's programs, Barbour served as assistant field hockey and lacrosse coach at Northwestern from 1982-84. She also held the position of director of recruiting services during that period, before being promoted to assistant athletic director for intercollegiate programs in 1984, a position she held until 1989.

Prior to joining Tulane, Barbour worked in programming and production for FOX Sports Net in Chicago during the summer of 1990.

ATHLETICS EXECUTIVES

DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS / CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

After serving in a senior capacity with multi-media marketing rights holders ISP Sports and IMG College, Solly Fulp was named Deputy Director of Athletics and Chief Operating Officer for Cal Athletics in the Fall of 2011.

Already very familiar with the Cal campus, Fulp returned to Berkeley where he worked from 2003-08, first as assistant athletic director for corporate development from 2003-05 and later as vice president and general manager for the Cal ISP Sports Network from 2005-08.

In his new role at Cal, Fulp manages both internal and external areas, overseeing marketing and business development efforts, the Athletic Ticket Office, event and gameday management and facilities and operations, as well as serve as the sports supervisor for football, baseball, men's gymnastics, lacrosse and rugby.

Prior to moving his career back to Berkeley, Fulp was conference vice president for IMG College's Pac-12 properties. Previously at ISP Sports before it was acquired by IMG College, he was senior vice president/conference relationship manager for the Pac-10. In both positions, he was responsible for managing outsourced sponsorships for seven conference athletic programs – Cal, Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Arizona, Arizona State and UCLA – and the Rose Bowl. In addition, he administered IMG College's West Coast regional sales operations. He led a staff of 47 full-time employees and oversaw annual revenue and operating budgets in excess of $60 million.

During his tenure with the Cal ISP Sports Network, Fulp supervised all sponsorship development efforts and managed the fulfillment of more than 100 partnership accounts. As assistant AD, he led Cal Athletics' strategy and cultivation for regional and national corporations. Fulp also interacted closely with University Relations and the California Alumni Association, among other units, on campus.

From 1996-2003, Fulp worked at Sacramento State, moving from director of athletic events and facilities to marketing director to associate athletic director for external affairs.

Fulp received his bachelor's degree in English from the University of Oregon and he earned a master's degree in educational administration and policy studies from Sac State. He has also recently served as an adjunct professor with the University of San Francisco's Sports Management program teaching a course on "The Business of College Athletics."

TERESA K. GOULD

DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS / CHIEF OF STAFF

Teresa K. Gould, who joined the Golden Bear staff in the fall of 2001, serves as Cal's deputy director of athletics as well as the department's Chief of Staff and Senior Woman Administrator.

A member of various NCAA and Pacific-12 Conference committees, including the Pac-12 Council, Gould serves as the department's liaison to the Pac-12 Networks. She also oversees the budgetary and operational needs of various intercollegiate varsity teams at Cal, including both men's and women's basketball, providing guidance and support to each program's head coach. Gould supervises several functional units within athletics, including athletic communications, creative services, summer camps and all Olympic sports operations. She also oversees the University's multi-media agreement with IMG College.

Before moving to Berkeley in September of 2001, Gould served as associate commissioner of the West Coast Conference in San Bruno, Calif. In seven years with the WCC, she managed the league's television, marketing and corporate sponsorship efforts, as well as administered conference championships and served as staff liaison to various coaches groups. She was a member of the NCAA Division I Management Council for two years during her tenure at the WCC.

From 1992-94, Gould worked for ESPN Regional Television in Charlotte, N.C., as conference relations coordinator. In this role, she served as the liaison to several NCAA Division I conferences. In addition, Gould was director of championships and media relations for the Midwestern Collegiate Conference in Indianapolis from 1990-92, public relations/promotions assistant for the Iowa Games Sports Festival (1989-90) and assistant to the coordinator of football recruiting at Iowa State (1987-90).

Gould received her bachelor's degree in journalism and mass communications from Iowa State in 1990 and her master's degree in education from Cal in 2009. She and her husband, Cal football associate head coach/run game coordinator Ron Gould, reside in the East Bay, where they raise their sons, Tevin and Trae.

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Foti Mellis, who has more than 20 years of experience in intercollegiate athletics and has worked at Cal since 2002, serves as the athletic department's senior associate athletic director for intercollegiate services.

In his role, Mellis oversees Cal's compliance services and student services units. In addition, he is the department's liaison to campus for admissions, financial aid and the Center for Student Conduct and Community Standards. He also supervises men's and women's track & field, men's and women's cross country, women's soccer, softball, field hockey, women's gymnastics and men's crew.

During his tenure at Cal, Mellis has reorganized and enhanced Cal's compliance operations, and implemented a student-athlete database networked to all department staff and various campus units. He has also helped to restructure the student services unit that included additional staff and the development of a new philosophy for the student-athlete experience.

Mellis arrived at Cal after spending four years as assistant athletic director for compliance at Arizona State, where he oversaw all areas of compliance for the department. Prior to his stay in Tempe, he spent two years at Tulsa as director of compliance from 1996-98. Mellis began his administrative career at Northwestern in 1994, spending one year as an intern and a second year as a compliance assistant.

A graduate of UC Davis, Mellis held various positions with the Aggies from 1988-94, including assistant men's basketball coach, academic advisor and intern in the athletic department administration. He received his bachelor's degree in managerial economics in 1990 and his master's in education in 1996, both from UC Davis.

KEITH POWER
HIGH PERFORMANCE DIRECTOR

As Cal's High Performance Director since July 2009, Keith Power is charged with ensuring that Cal is the world leader in the development and delivery of high performance for Golden Bear student-athletes. Over the course of his career, he has competed, coached and consulted at the very highest level in sports and has a proven track record of excellence working with globally renowned business organizations.

At Cal, Power works with coaches, student-athletes and administrators for all 29 programs, implementing the athletic department's innovative High Performance Initiative, which is designed to maximize competitive advantage, use resources efficiently and optimize the student-athlete experience through the key elements of communication, information and integration.

A former international track and field athlete and Great Britain bobsledder, at the age of 23, Power was appointed head bobsled coach for the country, the youngest ever national coach in the history of British sport.

Previously, Power served as a performance adviser to UK Sport, a senior executive member and chair of the Interdisciplinary Sport Science section of BASES, a member of the British Olympic Association Coaches Advisory Group and a coach/educator in several sports. Corporate clients have included Motorola, Hewlett-Packard and Toshiba.

As an athlete, Power competed internationally for Great Britain in track & field and was a World Cup series triple silver medalist in the bobsled. He holds a B.A. in sport studies and history from the West London Institute of Higher Education and a master's of philosophy in education (sports psychology) from Exeter. Keith and his wife, Hazel, have two daughters, Scarlett and Abi.

CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Laura Hazlett joined the Golden Bear staff in 2009 and serves as the Chief Financial Officer for Cal Athletics. As CFO, Hazlett oversees finance, operations and technology, and works on the department's financial strategy, including the financial feasibility models for the Simpson Center and Memorial Stadium projects. Hazlett also supervises the equipment staff and is the sport supervisor for men's golf, men's soccer, and men's and women's tennis. In addition, Hazlett serves as the department's primary liaison with campus administration.

Hazlett started her career as a tenure-track faculty member of Purdue's Krannert School of Management where she focused her research on market microstructure and taught at the undergraduate, MBA and PhD levels. However, realizing that her passion was in intercollegiate athletics, she accepted a position at the University of Oregon where she created the financial feasibility model for the Matthew Knight Arena. Hazlett earned a PhD in finance from UCLA's Anderson School of Management and holds bachelor's degrees in mathematics and economics from Arizona State University. She lives in North Berkeley with her husband, Brett, and daughter, Olivia.

MATT TERWILLIGER
ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Matt Terwilliger serves as the associate athletic director for revenue and business strategy. Terwilliger is responsible for developing new revenue generating opportunities for the athletic department. He is also tasked with exploring strategic opportunities, such as the recent restructuring of the sales, service and marketing staff developed to increase ticket revenues and improve customer service. Moreover, he manages many of the department's business partnerships such as IMG College, Cal Dining, Collegiate Licensing Company and Gameday Merchandising. During his time on campus, Cal has experienced record levels of ticket sales and attendance as well as royalties from sponsorship, licensing and merchandise sales. Terwilliger served as assistant athletic director from 2006-09 and prior to that was the director of ticket sales and advertising from 2003-05. When he first came to Cal in 1999, Terwilliger was assistant director of marketing and promotions.

Terwilliger, who graduated from Florida State in 1997 with a bachelor's degree in marketing, stayed at his alma mater as he completed his master's in 1999 in the field of sports management. While earning his master's, Terwilliger was an associate in marketing and promotions. He resides in the East Bay with his wife, Andrea, and daughters, Hailey and Madilyn.

DAWN HOWARD

Dawn Howard, who joined the Golden Bear staff in 1991, serves as Cal's Associate Athletic Director for Human Resources & Business Contracts. This includes human resources, payroll, business contracts, payroll budgets and some financial reporting for the department.

During her time at Cal, Howard has filled several roles in the business office, working her way up from an administrative assistant to the business manager to her current role. She also supervises the information systems unit and continues to consult on programming projects. In addition, Howard acts as a liaison between the department and IMG College.

Howard graduated Phi Beta Kappa, earning her bachelor's degree in economics, with minors in business and mathematics, from the University of Oregon in 1991. She has long ties to Berkeley, her parents are both Cal graduates and she was born and raised in the city. She and her husband, Thom, live in Berkeley with their daughter Chloe.

2011-12 DIRECTORS' CUP

Cal placed 11th in the final 2011-12 Directors' Cup standings, narrowly missing its seventh consecutive top-10 finish by 7.5 points. In a closely bunched result, less than 100 points separated fifth and 13th place.

Although the Bears missed out on the top 10, they have been among the top 15 for 10 years in a row. Cal totaled 979.0 points for the year, with Michigan a step ahead with 986.5 points.

Seven Golden Bear teams ended the year among the top five in the country, led by NCAA championships in men's and women's swimming and diving. In addition, men's golf and women's rowing placed third, softball and men's gymnastics were awarded fourth-place points, and women's tennis tied for fifth. Other programs in the top 20 were: men's tennis (T9th), women's indoor track & field (15th), women's basketball (T17th), women's soccer (T17th), and women's cross country (18th).

The Directors' Cup was developed as a joint effort between the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and USA Today. Points are awarded based on each institution's finish in up to 20 sports sponsored by the NCAA – 10 women's and 10 men's. The Bears do not receive points for men's crew or rugby because they are not NCAA-sponsored sports.

TRADITIONS & SPIRIT

Perhaps nowhere else in America is the color and pageantry of college football better captured than at the University of California and Memorial Stadium, where the Golden Bears will return to play their home games in 2012 after playing last season at San Francisco's AT&T Park during the stadium's renovation. Recognized by Sports Illustrated to have the best view of any college stadium in the country, the venue has been brought up to 21st century standards and will now blend a modern stadium with the rich history of a college football experience that has borne some of the most colorful and time-honored traditions in the sport.

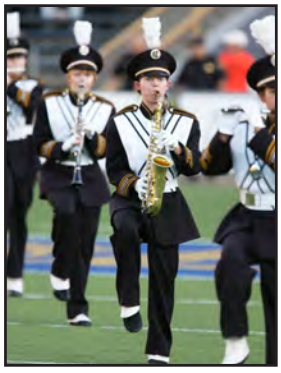
BIG C

The Big C is located on Charter Hill above Memorial Stadium and was constructed in 1905 by the classes of 1907 and 1908. The road up to the Big C was built in 1916 by the male members of the Cal student body in three-and-a-half hours, using 2,000 picks and shovels that were donated by the Southern Pacific Railroad. The Rally Committee became the custodians and guardians of the Big C sometime after 1952. Since then, the Committee has been in charge of painting the C and protecting it from vandalism.

BLUE AND GOLD

Official colors of the University of California were established at Berkeley in 1868. The colors were chosen by the University's founders, who were mostly Yale men who had come West. They selected gold as a color representing the "Golden State" of California. The blue was selected from Yale blue. Cal teams have donned the blue and gold since the beginning of intercollegiate athletic competition in 1882.

CAL BAND



The University of California Marching Band has been a tradition for more than 100 years, exemplifying many of the best aspects of student life at one of the nation's most prestigious public universities. It boasts over 200 members, a student-run management and a unique high-step marching style, all of which combine to make it one of the most singular bands of its kind.

Formed as the R.O.T.C. Cadet Band in 1889, the Cal Band adopted its present name in 1923. It has performed across the country and around the world at such events as the Brussels World Fair in 1958, Expo '70 in Japan and a Bicentennial Tour of the United States in 1976. In 1980, the Band took to the stage with the San Francisco Ballet, and it was the official state band for the city's welcome to Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip of Great Britain in 1983.

CAL BEARENTS

Initiated in the fall of 1986, Cal Bearents has grown from an idea of six people into an organization numbering in the hundreds. Proud moms, dads, siblings, aunts, uncles, cousins, grandparents, in-laws and friends all gather together to share the Cal football experience with the players.

Because no one understands the triumphs and tribulations in a student-athlete's season as thoroughly as family and friends do, all Bearents share a special bond. Regardless of whether their player plays in a starring or supporting role, Bearents consistently provide a network of support for the players and each other. In addition to extending an open invitation for all players to join family and friends for postgame barbecues after each home game, Bearents also participate in and coordinate various other events throughout the year with Cal alumni and Bear Backers.

CALIFORNIA LETTERMAN'S CLUB

Cal's football alumni association, the California Letterman's Club, is an active organization that supports the Golden Bear football program. Formerly known as the Sons of California, the group was created several years ago to continue the relationships that were forged on the football field. Each year, the Letterman's Club has a reunion at a home game and holds a fundraising golf tournament in the spring. In addition, they sponsor a reception at the end of the year for graduating football players and honor a deserving alumnus with the Glenn T. Seaborg Award named for the renowned Nobel laureate and former University of California chancellor. For more information about the California Letterman's Club please contact the Cal Athletics development office at (510) 642-2427.

CALIFORNIA VICTORY CANNON

The California Victory Cannon was presented to the Rally Committee in time for the 1963 Big Game by the class of 1964. At home games in Berkeley, it is shot off at the beginning of each game, after each score and after each Cal victory. Only once, against Pacific on Sept. 7, 1991, did the Bears score too many times, racking up 12 touchdowns before the cannon ran out of ammunition. The cannon, which was originally kept on the sidelines, has been mounted on Tightwad Hill above Memorial Stadium since 1971. In 2011, the cannon was present for home games at AT&T Park but was not fired due to clearance regulations.

CARD STUNTS

The Cal rooting section is credited with establishing one of the most time-honored traditions in college football with its card stunt performances. Cal began this activity for the 1910 "Big Game," a rugby match between Cal and Stanford. The original stunts performed that afternoon depicted the Stanford Axe and a big blue "C" formed on a white background.

The tradition has been a crowd favorite at Memorial Stadium as several times each season Cal students perform as many as 10 different stunts, using more than 5,000 cards. The painstaking process of plotting the positions of the cards, which once took days to complete, is now aided by computers that add to the precision of the images produced in the card section.

ESP/BEAR BACKER FOOTBALL HOSPITALITY

Upon the return to newly renovated California Memorial Stadium, Endowment Seating Program (ESP) participants will have access to up to three new exclusive club spaces, all of which are located on the west side of the stadium. On the first two floors, ESP participants will have access to the Field Level Club, which features a sports bar-style atmosphere. Food and beverage (including alcohol) will be available for purchase in this area, which is also adjacent to the new Cal Athletic Hall of Fame Room. Flat panel televisions and comfortable seating areas will also be located within the Field Level Club, to allow fans an indoor location to catch up with friends, and see the day's action.

The two-level Stadium Club will be located just beneath the press box area. Accessible to University and Stadium Club participants, it will feature great views of the bay through the stadium's historic west wall arches, as well as complimentary food and beverage pregame and at halftime. Comfortable seating and television screens will also be available in this upscale area.

Finally, the new University Club, California Memorial Stadium's premier game experience, will be located directly above the renovated press box, complete with unparalleled views of campus, the San Francisco Bay and game field. This exclusive area for University Club seat holders includes complimentary food and beverage pregame and at halftime. An outdoor deck looking out towards the bay will augment the premium seating availability that features the stadium's most comfortable seats, complete with an ultra-padded chairback, dual cup holders, cherry wood grain, and an unprecedented 36" of legroom.

GOLDEN BEARS

In 1895, the University of California track and field team was the dominant power on the West Coast and decided to challenge several of the top teams in the Midwest and East on an eight-meet tour that is now credited by many historians as putting Cal Athletics onto the national scene. As a symbol of the University, regent Arthur Rodgers, class of 1872, commissioned a blue silk banner emblazoned with a golden grizzly bear, the symbol of the state of California. The banner was carried by the team on its successful tour, which saw them win five of the eight competitions. Cal Athletics fans were so ecstatic over the team's performance that professor Charles Mills Gayley was inspired to write the song "The Golden Bear." Cal's athletic teams have been known as the Golden Bears ever since.

MARCH TO VICTORY

Cal began a new "tradition" in the fall of 2002 with the March to Victory. Approximately two-and-a-half hours before kickoff of each home game, the Spirit Groups form a human tunnel just outside the north tunnel of Memorial Stadium to cheer on the team as it exits the buses to march into the locker room.

PAPPY'S BOYS

Founded in 1986, Pappy's Boys is an organization of more than 500 former Golden Bears who played under legendary Cal football coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf. Not only does the group get together to relive the success of the Cal teams during the Waldorf era, but it also supports the current program in many ways. Recent efforts include establishing a $400,000 endowment for football scholarships and raising funds for two of the most recent additions to campus statuary: that of Waldorf kneeling near Faculty Glade and the giant grizzly bear by Memorial Stadium. Waldorf compiled a 67-32-4 record as head coach at Cal from 1947-56. For the 1948-50 seasons, Waldorf guided the Bears to a 39-3-1 record and three consecutive Rose Bowls. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1966 and into the Cal Athletic Hall of Fame in 1987. In the late 1990s, Pappy's Boys produced a book, "Pappy's Boys, The Rose Bowl Years: A Legacy of Winning," which was edited by Sports Illustrated writer Ron Fimrite and produced by former Cal quarterback Dick Erickson. The book contains 59 autobiographical essays by players, coaches, and others involved in the Waldorf Rose Bowls, plus a preface by former Cal chancellor Glenn T. Seaborg.

TIGHTWAD HILL

For decades, enterprising Golden Bear fans have hiked to Tightwad Hill high above the northeast corner of Memorial Stadium. Not only does the perch provide a free look at the action on the field, but it also offers a spectacular view of San Francisco Bay and many of the area bridges to the west.

CAL SPIRIT GROUPS

The Cal Spirit groups are responsible for promoting all spirit-related activities and are active at home events, as well as many away contests. In addition, they act as ambassadors of the University by assisting with alumni functions, fundraising events and other formal occasions promoting Cal spirit. The groups are the Rally Committee, Cal Cheerleading, Cal Dance Team, Cal Mic Men and the Cal mascot, Oski.

The Rally Committee, the oldest student group on campus, upholds school spirit and tradition. Above and beyond producing all rallies on campus, Rally Com is responsible for maintaining the Big C, displaying the California banner, the Cal flags, and constructing and executing card stunts at football games. Not to be forgotten is the California Victory Cannon, and when The Axe is in the possession of the Bears, the Committee is the custodian of The Axe.

Cal Cheerleading is an integral part of Cal Spirit! You can see the cheerleaders at all football games, men's and women's basketball, volleyball and other events. Their primary focus is to support each program and lead the crowd before and during the game. They work with the Mic Men to lead stadium wide cheers and increase crowd participation through the use of stunting, signs and poms. They also participate in various rallies, alumni and community events.

The Cal Dance Team dances to traditional Cal fight songs and Cal Band rock songs. During the football season, they perform on a platform that is elevated off the football field. They participate as well in various rallies, alumni and community events.

Cal Mic Men are student leaders of the rooting sections at all Cal sporting events. In addition, they emcee at rallies, alumni and community events.

Oski, the official mascot of the University of California, has been a tradition at the school since making his debut during the 1941 football season. Prior to his arrival, live mascots were used at Memorial Stadium with varying degrees of success. It was decided in 1940 that a costumed mascot would make a more suitable alternative to a live bear. Named after the popular "Oski Wow-Wow" yell, the Cal mascot is selected by the Oski Committee, a governing body that oversees all aspects of caring for the lovable Bear. Oski's identity is unknown to everyone, with the exception of the committee.

SONGS OF CAL

While through the years Cal has collected numerous songs that are popular with its alumni and fans alike, two songs are regularly heard during the team's football games. Those songs include the familiar fight song entitled "Big C," a brisk marching tune composed by N.S. McLaren and H.P. Williams of the class of 1914. The other is the Cal alma mater, "Hail to California," written and composed by Clinton R. "Brick" Morse, class of 1896.

HAIL TO CALIFORNIA

Hail to California, Alma Mater Dear
Sing the joyful chorus, Sound it far and near.
Rallying 'round her banner, We will never fail.
California Alma Mater, Hail! Hail! Hail!

BIG C

California!
On our rugged Eastern foothills, stands our symbol clear and bold.
Big C means to fight and strive and win for Blue and Gold.
Golden Bear is ever watching. Day by day he prowls.
And when he hears the tread of lowly Stanford Red, from his lair he fiercely growls!

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Cal football players train in the Simpson Center for Student-Athlete High Performance, a revolutionary student-athlete training, coaching, and applied sports science and sports medicine center that opened in January of 2012. The Simpson Center embodies the High Performance Initiative (HPI), Cal's innovative performance philosophy designed to build competitive advantage, maximize efficiency and enhance the student-athlete experience.

A 142,000 square-foot facility, the Simpson Center is a state-of-the-art complex with year-round access for over 450 student-athletes. The Simpson Center is home to the locker rooms, meeting rooms and offices for Cal football and 12 Golden Bear Olympic sports for use on a daily basis.

THE SIMPSON CENTER PROVIDES:

- Performance Training & Assessment
- Therapy, Rehabilitation & Reconditioning
- Sport Performance Laboratories
- Academic Support Services & Study Area
- Dedicated Team Room, Locker Room & Office Space
- Nutrition & Food Service
- Medical Clinic

The signature feature of the Simpson Center is the High Performance Zone – a fully integrated training space with world-class strength and conditioning, sports medicine and sports science facilities and services. Developed with sports performance in mind, high quality equipment and an open layout provide impressive training options to prepare for the highest levels of competition.

This multi-purpose space encompasses 18,700 square feet, spans two stories and stretches the length of a football field. Planned to accommodate 100 student-athletes at a time, Golden Bears are able to complete a full training session without the need to move or wait for equipment.

The facility's weight room is outfitted with over 50,000 pounds of weight, 22 fully customized work stations with inlaid platforms that provide student-athletes with a state-of-the-art facility that incorporates the latest technology and adaptability in exercise and monitoring equipment. The 25-yard turf area is used for warm-ups, plyometrics, short agility work, medicine ball throws, rehabilitation and much more. Spin, Pilates, yoga and back classes are among the activities that take place in the fitness studio.

Other features in the Simpson Center include a training room, rehabilitation facilities including underwater and AlterG treadmills, cold plunges, a medical suite, dining and nutrition and academic support area, team meeting room, locker room and player lounge – all just a few steps away.

The strength and conditioning department is an integral part of Cal football is t. The program's philosophy is geared towards helping each student-athlete achieve the highest level of athletic development and injury prevention.

By teaching how all the components of strength and conditioning fit together, student-athletes understand how to maximize power as it applies to sports. This includes enhancement of speed, strength, agility and flexibility, which results in improved power. Motivating, educating and helping to reach maximum athletic development is the primary focus of the Cal program.

The training regimen at Cal is a year-round process that emphasizes improving athleticism. With closely monitored workouts that involve a great deal of individual instruction and attention, student-athletes are taught the correct techniques to increase their ability to perform at their peak during competition.

Athlete workouts are position-specific and closely monitored by the conditioning staff, who work in collaboration with the entire sports medicine team (doctors, athletic trainers, physical therapists, nutritionists, etc.) to ensure the health and safety of all student-athletes.

In this way, Cal's strength and conditioning program is a vital component linking the "full circle" of a student-athlete's physical development from conditioning through rehabilitation and re-conditioning.

The mission of the Sports Medicine Program at the University of California, Berkeley, is to provide systematic, multidisciplinary services that utilize advanced scientific and administrative practices to support student-athletes in the pursuit of optimal physiological and psychological health, personal development and high performance.

Golden Bear student-athletes are privileged to be supported by one of the top medical staffs in college athletics, along with some of the most modern training and rehabilitation equipment in the country. The comprehensive program features state-of-the-art facilities, as well as a staff of acclaimed sports medicine practitioners.

Cal's athletic training facilities include more than 6,000-square feet, split between the Simpson Center Sports Medicine Facilities and the Paul F. White Sports Medicine Complex at Haas Pavilion. Both facilities include rehabilitation space and equipment, hydrotherapy space and an extensive pre-practice preparation area, as well as physician examination areas. With both facilities operational year round, Cal Sports Medicine is able to serve the student-athletes in close proximity to their practice and competition sites.

In addition, Cal student-athletes also use University Health Services (UHS), which jointly with Intercollegiate Athletics oversees and coordinates sports medicine services to all injured or ailing Golden Bear athletes. UHS, housed in the Tang Center, is recognized as one of the largest and most comprehensive campus health service centers in the country. It provides access to physician clinics, laboratory services, X-ray and other ancillary services such as sports nutrition and counseling.

The expert staff of team physicians is led by Casey G. Batten MD. Dr. Batten was named head team physician for Cal Athletics in 2010, after serving as an associate team physician since 2006. The staff features specialists from the fields of orthopedic surgery, family medicine, internal medicine, physiatry and podiatry, among others. With its diverse backgrounds and areas of expertise, the staff has vast experience treating injured athletes at every level of competition, including Olympic and professional athletes.

Cal's athletic training staff, led by head athletic trainer Ryan Cobb and supported by insurance coordinator Dan Westbrook, includes 19 certified athletic trainers and 30 sports medicine interns. The staff tends to the day-to-day health care needs of Cal student-athletes in all sports, including the evaluation and treatment of injuries and illnesses. Rehabilitation of injuries is also the responsibility of the athletic training staff, with additional assistance from two experienced staff physical therapists. The athletic trainers provide coverage at home and away athletic contests, and practices are staffed on a full-time basis.

Whether it's for taping, physical therapy or the prompt recovery from an illness or injury, Golden Bear student-athletes have the full confidence that Cal's medical staff will provide the best care available with one of the most progressive treatment and rehabilitation programs in the country.

SPORTS MEDICINE STAFF

Along with Head Team Physician Dr. Casey G. Batten, Cal's Associate Team Physicians provide medical care and event coverage for Golden Bear student-athletes. Dr. Brad Buchman is Medical Director of Cal's University Health Services, as well as a Cal alumnus and former Golden Bear on the gridiron from 1979-81. Dr. Jeff Nelson, a Cal grad and fellowship trained in sports medicine, has been a team physician and staff physician at University Health Services since 1998. Dr. Harris Masket, also a Cal alum, was Cal's post-graduate sports medicine intern before becoming the Chief of Urgent Care at UHS in 2006.

The staff psychologists who provide and coordinate counseling are Drs. Bill Coysh and Chris McLean.

In addition, the success of the sports medicine program would not be possible without the support and expertise of medical specialists in the community, representing all areas of sports medicine. More detailed information can be found at www.CalBears.com under Inside Athletics/Sports Medicine.

PRIMARY CARE PHYSICIANS

Dr. Cindy Chang served as Cal's head team physician from 1995-2008. She serves part-time at the University Health Services as a sports medicine consultant/musculoskeletal specialist and volunteers as a team physician. Chang is recognized as one of the leading primary care sports medicine physicians in the country.

Dr. Craig Dennis is board certified in emergency medicine and has a special interest in water polo. His daughter was a Cal water polo goalie.

Dr. Veronica Jow is a fellowship trained sports medicine specialist and is on staff with Kaiser Permanente Oakland/Richmond. Dr. Jow works extensively with Cal women's basketball.

Dr. Tara Shaw is a fellowship trained sports medicine specialist and is on staff with Kaiser Permanente Vallejo.

ORTHOPEDIC PHYSICIANS

Dr. Christina Allen played soccer and earned her biomedical engineering degree at Duke, and is a sports medicine fellowship-trained assistant professor of orthopedics at UCSF.

Dr. Lamont Cardon, a former Cal football player, is a fellowship-trained orthopedic consultant for hand, wrist and upper extremity injuries and practices in Berkeley.

Dr. Robert Eppley, who played collegiate basketball at Swarthmore College, has been one of Cal's primary orthopedic consultants since 1992. Fellowship-trained in sports medicine, he is in private practice in Berkeley, and is repeatedly voted one of the "Bay Area's Best Doctors" by fellow physicians.

Dr. Joshua Hatch, who played football at Princeton, was fellowship trained in sports medicine at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City and is in practice at Kaiser Permanente in Oakland.

Dr. Clement Jones played football at Merrimack College in Massachusetts, and is Cal's fellowship trained orthopedic spine consultant in private practice in San Francisco.

Dr. Benjamin Ma is chief of sports medicine at UCSF and did a sports medicine fellowship at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City.

Dr. Jeffrey Mann, a gymnast at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is a fellowship-trained orthopedic foot and ankle consultant in private practice in Oakland.

Dr. Mathias Masem is a fellowship-trained orthopedic consultant for hand, wrist and upper extremity injuries. The Chief of the Division of Hand Surgery at Alta-Bates Summit Medical Center, he is in private practice in Oakland.

Dr. Will Workman, a member of Cal's 1988 College World Series baseball team, is a fellowship trained orthopedic sports medicine consultant in private practice in Walnut Creek.

PHYSIATRISTS

Cal's consultants trained in physical medicine and rehabilitation see student-athletes for non-operative injuries of the neck and back, as well as nerve disorders. Dr. Gerry Keane is in private practice in Menlo Park. Dr. Tim Shen completed a physiatry spine and sports medicine fellowship at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City and practices in Oakland and Lafayette.

PODIATRISTS

Dr. Tim Dutra is an assistant professor at the California School of Podiatric Medicine at Samuel Merritt University, a fellow of the American Academy of Podiatric Sports Medicine and holds a master's in Health Care Administration. Dr. Maureen Lee is in private practice in San Francisco and also serves as a consultant for San Francisco State University's athletic program.

DENTISTS

OPTOMETRISTS

The UC Berkeley School of Optometry, under the clinical supervision of Dr. Mika Moy and Dr. Chris Wilmer, provides visual screenings and also serves as a consultant for ocular injuries and ocular medical conditions.

PHYSICAL THERAPISTS

Cal's sports physical therapists offer a variety of skills, including manual therapy techniques, biomechanical evaluations and Pilates, to assist the athletic trainers with both injury and postoperative rehabilitation. Led by staff physical therapists Bryan Templeman and Liz Nguyen, the physical therapists include Amy Fong, Kristy Illg, Deirdre McLoughlin, and Nina Patterson. Also on staff is occupational therapist Caroline D'Angelo, a certified hand therapist.

CHIROPRACTORS

Cal's team of sports chiropractors works alongside the athletic trainers and physical therapists in the training quarters to assist with the treatment of musculoskeletal injuries and dysfunctions. Dr. Sue Bromley, who is also a Physician Assistant, has worked with NASCAR, the Professional Rodeo Association and the San Jose Lasers, and practices in Berkeley. Dr. Jessica Greux, a four-year letter winner in soccer at Brown, has been with the Cal Sports Medicine team since 1994 and is also in private practice in Berkeley. Dr. Rudy Gutierrez, a member of the Cal sports medicine department since 1998, currently works as a sport chiropractor in his own private practice in Oakland and Walnut Creek. Dr. Paul Walton is in private practice in Orinda and has been on the teaching and clinical faculty of Life Chiropractic West since 1989.

ACUPUNCTURISTS

Glen Oberman, O.M.D., L.Ac., has been involved with Cal Sports Medicine since 2007. He supervises the treatment of Cal student-athletes by acupuncture interns from the Acupuncture and Integrative Medicine College – Berkeley. He is Clinic Dean at the college and has a national board certification in Acupuncture Orthopedics. He also teaches courses in Acupuncture Orthopedics, Research Methodology and Ethics and Law. Dr. Oberman is in private practice in Berkeley.

CASEY BATTEN, M.D.

HEAD TEAM PHYSICIAN, FOOTBALL

Dr. Casey G. Batten has been with Cal Athletics since 2006, and was named Head Team Physician in 2010. Prior to Cal, Batten was an assistant clinical professor of orthopedics at the University of California, San Francisco. He also has provided medical coverage for NCAA championship events including men's and women's basketball, track & field and FCS football. In addition to his responsibilities with the student-athletes at Cal, Dr. Batten continues as an invited speaker on various sports medicine topics on a local and national level, and also serves as a peer reviewer for two respected sports medicine publications. He has published on topics such as concussion, and physical activity factors in adolescent athletes. As a member of the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine (AMSSM), Dr. Batten is active in committee work dedicated to expanding the quality and availability of sports medicine training for medical students and resident physicians. Dr. Batten holds a bachelor's degree in Kinesiology-Exercise Science from the University of Wisconsin. After attending medical school at the Medical College of Wisconsin, he completed a residency in Family Medicine at the University of Tennessee College of Medicine-Chattanooga Unit. Batten then earned a fellowship with the UC Davis/UC Berkeley Sports Medicine Program. Born and raised in Madison, Wisc., Dr. Batten currently resides with his wife, Alison, in Berkeley.

STUDENT-ATHLETE AFFAIRS

Fan Appreciation Day

There is more to life than wins and losses, and University of California student-athletes have the opportunity to learn that lesson through participation in an NCAA program – Student-Athlete Affairs – which is designed for athletes to get more out their college years than just what they experience in the athletic arena. By focusing on "real life" skills and personal development, the Student Athlete Affairs Program not only assists student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but enhances student-athletes' growth in their college years and beyond.

This program helps students by concentrating in four major areas – Professional Development, Community Outreach, Leadership and Personal Development.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

The professional development portion of the Student-Athlete Affairs Programs offers student-athletes opportunities to prepare themselves for life after college. Each year a variety of workshops on career development are offered including resume writing, interview skills and networking. In addition, the annual Career Connections event puts student-athletes in direct contact with Bay Area professionals who are looking to hire for both internships and full-time jobs. The program has proven to be a valuable source of contact with successful Cal alumni and has initiated career paths for many Golden Bear student-athletes.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Cal's student-athletes exhibit a strong commitment to the community. Over 3,000 hours of giving back is completed each year by participation in a variety of activities such as College Sports Day where they teach 200 kids about their sport, as well as raising funds for various charitable organizations and making meaningful contributions to the community. In doing so, the student-athletes serve as ambassadors between the University and the community and as role models to children.

Cal Athletics receives requests from local schools and community organizations for student-athletes to speak to kids ranging from kindergarten to high school. The student-athletes address a wide variety of wellness-related topics in addition to emphasizing the importance of education and maintaining self-esteem. The goal is to support young students in finding a path to productive and healthy futures, taking an interest in the children's lives and providing encouragement to do well in school.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Through their involvement in the Student-Athlete Affairs Program, Cal student-athletes are prepared to be productive and successful adults when they graduate from the university and move on to their next challenge in life. Whether it is learning how to make a solid first impression as they represent Cal through etiquette training or participating in leadership roles in the department and campus to shape action plans that enhance the student-athlete experience, our student-athletes are actively engaging in opportunities to develop a well-balanced lifestyle, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills. Associate head coach and run game coordinator Ron Coccimiglio is responsible for the personal development for the Cal football team.

College Sports Day

LEADERSHIP

Many Cal student-athletes have been active participants in various student-mentor programs with low-income and/or minority youth in the East Bay community. Working in conjunction with the Sage Project, Cal athletes have been paired with young students in a mentor/role model project, often growing to be a part of the child's extended family. These student-athletes are a positive force in assisting youth to stay in school, eventually enter college and succeed as members of the community. Each year Cal student-athletes are selected to represent Cal at Pac-12 and NCAA Leadership Conferences.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

With representatives from all 29 sports at Cal, the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee not only does the group work to improve interaction between student-athletes, coaches and administrators, but it also works with other campus organizations to create positive student-athlete experiences. Among the areas of emphasis are student-athlete welfare, student-athlete camaraderie, community service, campus relations, communication and input on proposed NCAA legislation.

BIG C SOCIETY

The Big C Society is a group of former student-athletes – both men and women – who share a common bond: they have distinguished themselves by their athletic skill and/or unwavering dedication to Cal Athletics. The purpose of the Big C Society is to encourage and support the athletic program through an uncompromising commitment to excellence.

Among the many activities sponsored by the Big C Society are: the Cal Athletic Hall of Fame Dinner, the Honors Celebration Luncheon, first-year varsity letter awards and a "Welcome Back" BBQ for all Cal student-athletes.

PACIFIC-12 CONFERENCE

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Conference ushered in a new era on July 1, 2011, officially becoming the Pac-12 Conference with the additions of the University of Colorado and University of Utah.

Just 27 days after the Conference officially changed its name, Commissioner Larry Scott announced the creation of the Pac-12 Networks on July 27, 2011, solidifying a landmark television deal and putting the Conference in the forefront. The Networks, including one national network and six regional networks, in conjunction with four of the nation's largest cable operators, marked the first time a U.S. collegiate conference or any other programmer has launched a collection of networks across a variety of platforms, rather than a sole network. In addition, the "TV everywhere" rights will allow fans to access coverage outside the home on any digital device, including smartphones and tablet computers.

On the field, the Pac-12 rises above the rest, upholding its tradition as the "Conference of Champions" ®, claiming an incredible 119 NCAA team titles since 1999-2000, including nine in 2012-13. That is an average of over nine championships per academic year. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success, with championships coming in 28 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led or tied the nation in NCAA titles in 46 of the last 52 years. The only exceptions being in 1980-81, 1988-89, 1990-91 and 1995-96 when the Conference finished second, and only twice finished third (1998-99 and 2004-05).

For the seventh consecutive year, the Pac-12 had the most NCAA titles or tied for the most of any conference in the country, winning at least six every year since 2000-01. No other conference has won double-digit NCAA crowns in a single year, the Pac-12 doing so six times, including a record 14 in 1996-97.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 was the first conference to reach 400 championships in 2010-11. With the inclusion of Colorado and Utah, the Conference surpassed another major milestone, with league teams capturing 450 titles, outdistancing the next conference by nearly 200. In all, Conference teams have won 451 NCAA crowns (306 men's, 145 women's).

The Conference's reputation is further proven in the annual Learfield Sports Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. STANFORD continued its remarkable run and won its unprecedented 18th consecutive Directors' Cup in 2011-12. For the second straight year, six of the top 25 Division I programs were Pac-12 member institutions: No. 1 STANFORD, No. 3 UCLA, No. 7 USC, No. 11 CALIFORNIA, No. 19 ARIZONA and No. 24 OREGON. With three teams in the top 10, it was the most of any conference.

The new era of the Pac-12 Conference and 2011-12 campaign kicked off with the Conference's first-ever Pac-12 Football Championship game, pitting OREGON for the North Division and UCLA from the South Division. The Ducks won the inaugural championship game, 49-31, in front of a sold-out stadium (59,376) in Eugene, Ore.

CALIFORNIA, STANFORD and USC each won two NCAA championships. The Golden Bears swept the men's and women's swimming and diving crowns for the second consecutive year; the Cardinal raised the national championship trophy for the first time ever in women's soccer and added a second consecutive crown in women's water polo; while the Trojans won their fourth-straight men's tennis and men's water polo crowns.

The Conference experienced continued success in football as the league sent two teams to BCS Bowl games for the second straight year. Overall, seven teams went to bowls. OREGON claimed its 10th Pac-12 crown in the sport, winning the Conference's first-ever Football Championship Game, and claimed a spot in the Rose Bowl. Meanwhile, STANFORD (Totitos Fiesta Bowl), ARIZONA STATE (MAACO Las Vegas Bowl), CALIFORNIA (Holiday Bowl), WASHINGTON (Valero Alamo Bowl), UTAH (Hyundai Sun Bowl) and UCLA (Kraft Fight Hunger Bowl) also earned bowl bids. Oregon and Stanford were ranked in the top-5 of the Associated Press' poll at season's end, finishing fourth and fifth, respectively.

Without question, the Conference has dominated the softball field, winning 23 national championships in the sport since 1982, most recently capturing six in a row from 2006-11. Eight Pac-12 teams earned NCAA Tournament bids in 2012, including the No. 1-overall seed CALIFORNIA. The eight postseason teams were the most for the Conference since 2007. Cal, ARIZONA STATE and OREGON punched their tickets to the NCAA Women's College World Series, the ninth time the Conference had sent three teams to the WCWS.

The Pac-12 swept two men's and women's sports, capturing national championships in swimming & diving, and water polo. CALIFORNIA took home both swimming & diving crowns for the second-straight year.

Pac-12 members have won 306 NCAA team championships on the men's side, 89 more than the next closest conference. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-12 – 16 basketball titles by six schools (more than any other conference), 53 tennis titles, 45 outdoor track & field crowns, and 27 baseball titles. Pac-12 members have won 25 of 43 NCAA titles in volleyball, 38 of 42 in water polo, 27 in skiing, and 23 in swimming & diving national championships.

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA men's individual champions, as well, boasting 2,073 individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 31 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 22 occasions, including the last 12-consecutive years. Overall, the Pac-12 has captured 145 NCAA women's titles, easily outdistancing the SEC, which is second, with 88. Pac-12 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 23 softball titles, 19 tennis crowns, 14 volleyball titles, 14 of the last 23 trophies in golf, and 13 in swimming & diving.

PAC-12 CONFERENCE HISTORY

The roots of the Pac-12 Conference date back 97 years to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. The original membership consisted of four schools – the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was Commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Association of Western Universities was formed and Thomas J. Hamilton was appointed Commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hallock took over as Commissioner of the Pac-8.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Since then, the Conference has been considered the premiere league in women's athletics, securing the most NCAA titles in women's sports of any conference nearly every year.

Thomas C. Hansen was named the Commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009. Hansen was succeeded by current Commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

During the 2010-11 academic year, Scott helped deliver monumental changes that transformed the Conference into a modern 12-team league. The Conference expanded to add two more teams, agreed to equal revenue sharing for the first time in Conference history, created two divisions – the North and the South, for football only, established a Football Championship Game for the first time ever, secured a landmark media rights deal that dramatically increased national exposure and revenue for each school and established the Pac-12 Networks and Pac-12 Digital Networks that guaranteed enhanced exposure across all sports.

The University of Colorado accepted its invitation to join the Pac-12 on June 11, 2010, and on June 17, 2010, the University of Utah agreed to join the Conference. The Buffaloes and Utes officially became the 11th and 12th members of the Conference July 1, 2011, the first additions to the league since 1978. During the 33 years between expansions, Conference teams claimed 258 NCAA titles, including 130 women's and 128 men's.

Currently, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and three women's sports.

The Pac-12 Conference offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

PLAYOFF COMING IN 2014-15

On June 26, 2012, the BCS Presidential Oversight Committee agreed to launch a four-team playoff beginning with the 2014-15 season. The new format will continue at least 12 years, through the 2025-26 season.

The semifinals will be rotated among six bowl games and will be played either New Year's Eve or New Year's Day. The championship game, to be managed by the 11 conferences and rotated among neutral sites every year, will be on a Monday at least six days after the last semifinal game.

A selection committee will rank the teams for the playoff.
